WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE WITH GAS

GIRL CATCHES TWO WOMEN STEALING LILIES

Traces Them to Nearby Residence and Mother, Mrs. Keller, Notifies Police

Flowers Are a Rare Variety, Having Been Brought From Bermuda Islands

Stealing into a garden of rare lilies shortly before midnight last night, two women invaded the premises of Mrs. Mary E. Keller at 3822 Piedmont avenue and were caught by Miss Rose Keller in the act of plucking the valuable flowers which they secreted under their cloaks, and were followed through a roundabout course in the streets for half an hour and finally traced to a house at 130 Rio Vista avenue, where they proceeded to unlock the door.

"You are fine neighbors, aren't you, to be stealing lilies," said Miss Keller, but there was no response made to her interrogation, whereupon she turned away and went back to her home, reporting the occurrence to her mother, who this morning notified Inspector J. F. Lynch of the police department. An investigation is being made.

The lilies, which are known as the pink Amorillas, grow in a large space of ground in front of the Keller home, which stands well back from the street.

ATTRACT ATTENTION.

Several hundred of the stalks are at present in bloom and attract much attention. Besides their beauty, the flowers have a commercial value. For several weeks large quantities of them have been missed in the mornings and a close watch has been kept by Mrs. Keller in hopes of discovering the midnight marauders. Last night Miss Keller, who is a bookkeeper for a firm in Piedmont, arrived home about 11:30, in company with a friend.

"We were standing on the porch," she said this morning, "when I heard a number of short snappy sounds. I looked out into the yard and noticed two women stooping over among the lilies. Walking over to them I demanded what right they had to be picking our flowers.

"They did not answer me, but hurried along the path which leads into Rio Vista street, secreting the lilies underneath their cloaks. We followed them for some distance, down Rio Vista to Laurel. Finally they turned into Layton, a blind street and went into a yard. I did not believe they lived there, for I had a close look at them and thought I recognized some persons who lived close to us."

CLEVER DETECTIVE WORK.

The shrewdness of Miss Keller, who is 20 years old, led her to retrace her steps to Rio Vista street, where she hid in a yard behind a large palm. Her patience was soon rewarded by the appearance of the two women, who walked very rapidly along the street and turned into a nearby house.

"One of them was an elderly woman and the other young," she said. "They have been mother and daughter. While they have lived here for several weeks we never knew them to speak to, but we do know now how our lilies have been disappearing."

"Had they asked me for some flowers I would gladly have given them some," said Mrs. Keller, "but for them to come in and carry them away by the armful is not a very neighborly action. My husband brought the bulbs from the Bermuda Islands many years ago, and we have gradually increased the yield."

MAY SWEAR TO WARRANT.

"It is worth $10 to me to catch the thieves and I would gladly have given twenty any time during the last three weeks. I am expecting an officer here sometime today and will have him confront the people whom my daughter traced to the house. I do not like to prosecute but shall very likely swear out a warrant Monday."

Mrs. Keller is the widow of the late P. J. Keller, who died from heart failure in a restaurant at 463 Eighth street last October, following a shock caused by a shooting affray which he witnessed one evening as he was passing a poolroom in the same street. The shots narrowly missed his head and the pistol of the assailant was thrown close to him, falling at his feet. Keller was known as "The Mayor of Piedmont," although he never occupied the official position. He was for fifteen years roadmaster of Piedmont and served one term as horticultural commissioner.

SURGEONS MEET IN ANNUAL SESSION

Interesting Subjects Are Discussed by Prominent Railway Medical Men.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—The eighth annual meeting of the Pacific Association of Railway Surgeons, which is being held in San Francisco, is proving to be a most interesting one. The sessions are being held at the St. Francis Hotel. All the prominent railway surgeons on the coast are attending the session, which is presided over by Dr. Carl Kurtz of Los Angeles. The arrangements for the meeting this year were made by Dr. Wallace I. Terry, Dr. Walter B. Coffey and Dr. Thomas W. Huntington.

THE FIRST SESSION.

The first session opened yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the following program was carried out:

"Strangulated Hernia: Its Frequency Among Railroad Men and the Necessity of Early Operation in all Forms of Hernia," A. Miles Taylor, M. D., San Francisco.

"Hook-Worm Disease Among Mexican Track Laborers," J. W. Colbert, M. D., Albuquerque, N. M.

"Osteoplastic Operation in Pathologic Bone Cavities," D. D. Crowley, M. D., Oakland.

"Examinations of the Eyes of Railroad Employes," W. F. Southard, M. D., San Francisco.

"Manifestations of Cerebral Syphilis and Noguchi Serum Reaction," Philip King Brown, M. D., San Francisco.

"Demonstration of Skin Lesions by Lantern Slides," Howard Morrow, M. D., San Francisco.

INTERESTING DISCUSSION.

Several of the papers were discussed by the surgeons in attendance and new light was thrown on old subjects.

One of the interesting papers of the afternoon was that read by Dr. D. D. Crowley of Oakland. Dr. Crowley's paper dealt with a new operation on the bone, which he has introduced to the surgical profession.

The members of the Association of Railway Surgeons thought it an excellent address on a new and original work and that the operation would take its place in surgery.

The session opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon, when several addresses were made. An exceedingly interesting paper was read on "Injuries of the Abdomen," by Dr. O. D. Hamlin of Oakland. Several other prominent surgeons also addressed the meeting.

Says Hubby Threw Many Things at Her

May Coady of Alameda today applied to the superior court for a divorce from John Coady, employed in a San Leandro cannery, charging that he gave her several unmerciful beatings, scalded her with hot water, struck her on the foot with an iron rod, threw knives and forks at her, and inflicted other brutalities of equal severity upon her.

MAY GET BACK HUSBAND SHE DIVORCED A YEAR AGO

SHE TRIED TO COLLECT ALIMONY AND FEES

Husband Asserts That Fraud Figured in Obtaining the Decree.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Gertrude J. Reed, buyer for an Oakland millinery establishment, and well known across the bay, is liable to find herself with a husband on her hands despite the fact that she received a final decree of divorce about a year ago. Her former spouse has taken steps to turn the tables upon her, which may result in a denouement, surprising and distasteful to both.

It all comes in consequence of Mrs. Reed's having her former husband, Merrill A. Reed, a commercial artist, cited into court for contempt for the non-payment of alimony to the amount of $75 for a long period, and $250 attorneys' fees. Today Reed filed an affidavit denying that he is in contempt, declaring that fraud and misrepresentation figured in the obtaining of the interlocutory and final decrees of divorce, and setting forth in detail his position. He declares that his wife began suit for a separation on September 4, 1908. That on the same day she sued him for $4000 borrowed money, although he denies ever owing her any. He went to her home to see her, and found that she had attached $1100, all the money he had in the bank.

AGREED ON SETTLEMENT.

At this meeting, he says, it was agreed that he would allow both actions to go by default, provided she would give him $400 and relinquish all claim against him. She agreed, he asserts, and later he wrote her for the $400. She replied, according to his statement, "Well, you've got a gall to ask me for any money. You can whistle for your $400."

He maintains that this was the last he saw of her, and that he never heard anything about alimony until he was cited for contempt. It seems probable that if the allegations of Reed are true, not only may the alimony be denied, but the divorce itself may be set aside, and another decree refused by the court. Mrs. Reed is herself, it is said, in receipt of $175 monthly salary.

Naughty Burglar Steals Glad Rags From Broilers

SAN FRANCISCO, August 27.—The dozen chorus girls at the American theater made an extra and an unwilling trip in tights across the stage last night, following the depredation of a bold bad burglar who invaded their dressing room. The scene had already been set and the curtain had risen. The chorus had been on, and had made a hurried exit to change costume, when, horrors! it was found that eleven of their silk skirts had been stolen in the short interim.

What to do in the five minute wait was a problem, which, however, was quickly solved by Manager James Pilling, who sent the girls on without skirts, and the audience—well, they didn't know the difference.

The burglary was reported to the police this morning.

Woman's Word Weighty in Scales of Justice

And the Pupil's Story Was Believed

A woman's word has been vindicated and found of sufficient weight in the scales of justice to hoist her doubters on their own petard.

A woman's word! Light and airy at times it may be, yet when stamped with its indelible brand of truth it is sufficient to outweigh all other considerations and is itself the strongest of evidence.

This has been demonstrated again in the case of Ada Clark, the Chico State Normal School student, who accused Dr. C. C. Van Liew, president of the institution, of an attempt to embrace her. She had no evidence to prove the truth of her charges, few corroborating circumstances from which the prosecution could weave a chain of evidence, but she had something stronger and more weighty—her woman's word.

The girl's story was straightforward and told without circumlocution. The scales of justice were evenly balanced. Dr. Van Liew's defense was ably conducted, but the most brilliant lawyers find themselves incapable when confronted with that bugbear of the legal fraternity—a woman's word.

The case interested the Governor of the State and the attorney general, and centered the eyes of people of California on Chico. There were some who doubted the girl's story, and this was marked when the trustees exonerated Van Liew after a lengthy trial. But the matter was not settled. The woman's word rested in the scales of justice and gradually caused them to sink until those who doubted were forced to pause and the decision of the board removing the accused professor accomplished the vindication.

Now Edna Clark may come to Oakland for her marriage, and those who doubted must bow to the inevitable.

Aviator Dives From Wreck of Machine Into Sea to Escape Death

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—While attempting to fly his aeroplane from Sheepshead Bay track to FortHamilton today, J. C. Mars, the aviator, was caught in a heavy wind and carried out over the lower bay where his machine suddenly collapsed and fell into the water. Mars was picked up by the tugboat Hustler. The wrecked aeroplane was taken aboard a lighter craft off Craven shoal buoy.

Mars was shaken up by the fall.

Mars in his aeroplane arose from the Sheepshead Bay track at 7 o'clock and he headed for Manhattan Beach. He ascended to a height of about 2000 feet and after circling around two or three times, flew west toward Coney Island, whence he planned to fly to Fort Hamilton.

A sudden gust carried the aviator out over Gravesend Bay and he lost control. Suddenly the machine appeared to collapse and fell into the water.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27. — The strong air currents which prevaded the channel between the Marin and San Francisco counties shores this morning prevented the proposed aerial flight of Captain Ivy Baldwin, who had been waiting to make the trip in his biplane since 6 a. m. After 10 o'clock word was received at the Presidio from Fort Baker, where the contemplated embarkation was to take place, that Captain Baldwin would give up the attempt for the morning.

Major H. Young, superintendent of the Army transport service, has agreed to furnish two small boats to patrol the channel for the purpose of rescuing the daring aviator in case of an accident to his machine.

TEST OF APPARATUS.

Baldwin spent the entire day yesterday at Fort Baker, testing the various parts of his machine and preparing for the flight. He shipped his biplane from Webster station in Sacramento county, where he has spent many weeks in experimental flights. He was exceedingly

Alleged Anarchist Will Be Deported

Alexis Mihan to Escape Trial in County Courts On Burglary Charge.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 27.—Alexis Mihan, alleged Russian anarchist, will be deported to Mazatlan, Mexico, September 3.

The order for his deportation has been in the hands of the local United States immigration officials for some time.

He thus escapes trial in the county courts for burglary and assault with a deadly weapon.

Investigation also proved, according to the police and United States officials, that Mihan is an anarchist of formidable reputation.

Regulars in Control Of County Convention

A. H. Sweet Acting as Temporary Chairman at the San Diego Meeting.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 27.—With A. H. Sweet, a local attorney, as temporary chairman, the Republican county convention will be called to order Tuesday morning. The regular Republicans will control the convention by a big majority and there will be no fight on any of the issues or on the selection of delegates to the state convention.

Platform sentiments will be "regular" in every respect and it is expected the delegates will be instructed to "stand pat" in the state convention.

Seven Killed

DURAND, Mich., August 27.—That at least seven persons lost their lives in the Grand Trunk wreck near Durand was established late last night, when H. A. Jeffers of Washington, D. C., identified the supposed body of Mrs. Catherine Squires as that of his wife. It is known that Mrs. Squires perished and the identification of the body of Mrs. Jeffers adds one more to the death list.

MOTHER FOUND BY DAUGHTER COLD IN DEATH

CAREFUL PREPARATIONS FOR SUICIDE SHOWN

In a pitiful state of mental agony induced by the filing of a divorce suit by her husband, Mrs. Amelia Brauer committed suicide at her residence, 1814 Twenty-third avenue, early this morning. The means she used to end her life was illuminating gas.

Mrs. Brauer yesterday, according to her neighbors, was in her usual frame of mind, but about 12 o'clock that night a reaction came that left her almost an insane woman in the grip of her domestic troubles.

Mrs. Brauer was an impulsive woman. Distracted by grief over the separation, she laid her plans for ending her life.

WOMAN AWAITS DEATH.

Sending her children to bed, she affixed a gas plate heater to one of the jets in the bathroom and sat on the floor to await death.

About 2 o'clock in the morning her eldest daughter, Dorothy, who is a cripple, was awakened by the smell of the escaping gas. The little girl arose and, hobbling along the hall to the door of the bathroom, discovered her mother lying at full length on the floor.

The girl, horrified, screamed loudly and her cries brought a number of neighbors to her assistance. Headed by Dr. Everson they braved the fumes of the escaping gas and brought her mother's body into the hall. They found that Mrs. Brauer had been dead for some time.

HUSBAND GETS DIVORCE.

Mrs. Brauer was a pretty German woman, 39 years of age, and up to the time of her separation had lived happily with her husband, who is manager for the John Breuner furniture company in Sacramento. Two years ago the husband left the family, stating that he could not endure the passionate outbreaks of temper that were making his home life a continual scene of strife and turmoil. The woman attempted to induce him to return, but without avail. A short time ago, after a long struggle with hardship, she learned that he was about to file suit for a divorce, and it is believed that the trouble so preyed upon her mind that she was driven to taking her life last night.

She had evidently carefully prepared to commit suicide, as she was found this morning in the bathroom, which had

CRIPPEN LANDS ON ENGLISH SHORE

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 27.—The steamer Megantic, carrying Dr. H. H. Crippen and Miss Leneve, brought back from Canada on a warrant issued in connection with the supposed murder of Dr. Crippen's wife, Belle Elmore, was sighted off the port here shortly after noon today.

Great crowds gathered in the vicinity of the landing stage during the morning and stood waiting for hours in the hope of catching a view of Dr. Crippen and the young woman.

Strong barricades, however, had been erected and the crowds were kept at a distance.

ON WAY TO LONDON.

Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve, in the custody of Inspector Dew, Sergeant Mitchell and the wardresses who came from England to take charge of Miss Leneve, disembarked at 2:15 p. m. at the regular landing stage.

Officers of the local police were on hand to assist the Scotland Yard officials.

$90,500,000 DWELL IN CONFINES OF UNITED STATES

NEW YORK CITY HAS 4,600,000 IN LIMITS

Chicago Comes Second With 2,400,000; Both Show An Increase.

WASHINGTON, Aug 27—The population of the United States proper is $90,500,000

The population of New York City is 4,600,000 The population of Chicago is 2,400,000 It is not expected that these figures will be changed materially, considering the grand totals of these two great cities, when the final figures shall have been made public November 15 The Director of the Census could not give yesterday in exact figures the population of New York City or Chicago or of Philadelphia Enough is known to say that no change has been disclosed by the census, which discredits the statement that there has been a normal increase of the citizens of the United States by decades.

ON FOUR THINGS.

"Population, says Census Director Durand and Director Hill chief statistician, "depends upon immigration, emigration, birth and death rate"

So far as the census official are concerned they see no reason to expect a sensational increase in the population of the United States or of Chicago and New York The population of Detroit and Denver appears to be a stumbling block to hi belief. The percentage of gain for Detroit for ten years was sixty-three but the census officials have discovered that this was due to an influx from tremendous development of the automobile,

Denver with 59 per cent, is also an anomaly but this is explained on facts known to the census

ALONG NORMAL LINES.

So far as New York, which is the typical great city, is concerned the actual figures on the estimates up to date do not differ greatly from the results predicted by Director Durand on the steady line of increase in New York from 1900 to 1905

In 1905 the population of New York was 3,417 342

In 1909 the population was 4 000,404 That increase was brought about by the ordinary processes of birth, death, immigration and emigration

Judging from the assurance of some of the experts at the census bureau it was fairly inferred that their complete census of New York and Chicago will justify their belief expressed yesterday that the population of those two cities has increased in normal lines

MASONIC TEMPLE TO BE PUT UNDER WAY

BROOKLYN LODGE TO START WORK ON NEW HOME

The Structure to Be Ready for Occupancy About December.

At the stated meeting of Brooklyn Lodge, No 225, F and A M held in July resolutions were adopted approving the formation of the Brooklyn Masonic Temple Association of Oakland (Inc), the purchase of a temple site at the southeast corner of East Fourteenth street and Eighth avenue and the plans submitted by a committee Within the next two weeks work will be started on the temple and it is expected that the structure will be ready for occupancy in December when the ceremonies associated with the installationof the officers elected to serve during the next Masonic year may be held in the new lodge room

DESIGN OF NEW TEMPLE

The architect of the new Masonic Temple is John Davis Hatch The design of the building is Spanish colonial, its keynote being massive simplicity The walls are formed with broad unbroken panels supported by wide buttresses and flanking towers The largest of the three towers marks and emphasizes the main entrance to the lodge Heavy roofs, covered with Spanish tile lie between the towers and are supported on massive timbers and brackets The walls of the towers and the centers of the panels will be finished with rough-cast pebble-dashed cement This will be accentuated by the connecting bands base and mouldings being trowelled smooth Except for the store fronts there are few windows in the walls and these will be divided into small lights and glazed with amber glass so that the effect of the plain wall surfaces will be unbroken The centers of the panels will be ornamented with symbols of the order, and the insignia over the main doorway will be illuminated by concealed lights

THE FIRST FLOOR

The first floor facing on Fourteenth street contains three stores, each 17 by 40 feet with 14-foot ceiling and the main entrance to the lodge At the rear of the building and facing on Eighth avenue will be a social hall This is entered through a public lobby off Eighth avenue and has an auxiliary exit in the base of the west tower Entering also from the lobby is a woman's parlor and dressing rooms and behind this group is a large buffet connected directly to the social hall The hall itself is 30 feet 6 inches wide 52 feet long and 19 feet 6 inches high At the east end is a stage with two dressing rooms

Between the stores and the social hall and over the ladies rooms and buffet a mezzanine story has been introduced in which is located a gallery overlooking the social hall, with a stair from the lobby and the heating and ventilating plant On the east side of the hall at the rear are the men's dressing rooms and a stairway leading directly to the lodge room floor.

The major part of the second floor is given up to the lodge room, which is situated in the northwest section It is 42 feet wide 57 feet long and 18 feet high It will be finished in the Doric order with heavily beamed ceilings supported on Howe trusses and Doric pilasters panelling the walls There are no windows in the lodge room and for day use it will be lighted by sound-proof ceiling lights which in turn will be illuminated at night by concealed electric lights Special provision has been made to render the lighting of the room full and soft and also to accommodate the ritual of the lodge and kindred branches of the order On the southeast corner of the lodge room and connected with it is the secretary's office, adjoining which are regalia rooms and a private passage to the main reception hall At the west end of the lodge room are placed the induction and dressing rooms and the ante anteroom These rooms insulate the lodge room from the general assembly rooms hat and cloak rooms and dressing rooms and smoking room still farther to the west The smoking room will be 21 feet square finished with beamed ceilings and an open fire Entering from the main reception hall on the east side of the floor will be a ladies colonial room 15 by 20 feet finished in white and buff, with dressing rooms at the side

A heating and ventilating system has been designed for the building

TENANTS OF NEW TEMPLE

Brooklyn lodge was organized in 1872 Its first meetings were held in one of the pioneer brick buildings in upper East Oakland It subsequently moved to Orion hall at the corner of Twelfth street and Eleventh avenue, but owing to a greatly increased membership during the past three or four years its present quarters have become entirely inadequate hence the movement which has finally resulted in the decision to erect the new temple

Elcesta Chapter of the Eastern Star, U D, which was recently organized in East Oakland will also occupy quarters in the new temple, the requirements of the chapter having been taken into consideration in the arangements of the final plans

RAILROAD MERGER REPORTED IN EAST

Rumor That Northern Pacific Will Purchase Chicago & Great Western.

ST. PAUL, Minn, Aug 27—The rumor that the Northern Pacific will purchase the Chicago and Great Western railway, the transfer to be made September 1, which was heard yesterday in railroad circles, appears to have foundation

The unusual activity displayed by the Great Western during the past year in repair and construction work which has placed the railroad in excellent condition has been stopped pending the transfer

The Northern Pacific would thus have its own line into Chicago

Since J P Morgan & Co acquired financial control of the road a year ago, strenuous efforts have been made to raise the property to a high grade railroad

Outbreaks Feared in Portugal Election

LISBON, August 27 (via frontier) —Serious apprehensions of disorder during the election for the Cortes which occurs throughout Portugal on August 28, are entertained here, due to the persistent reports that the Clerical party leaders are preparing outbreaks as a protest against the Liberal policy of the Government in its relations with the Vatican

The Government is taking the most energetic measures of precaution, and has recalled every officer, soldier and sailor on leave The warships of the Portuguese navy have been distributed among the various Portuguese ports to assist the military and civil authorities if necessary.

As the Government telegraph offices refuse to accept dispatches referring to the possibility of disorders, this dispatch is sent to the frontier by train

RIOTING BREAKS OUT IN BIG STRIKE

Cloakmaker Kills Himself When No Settlement Is Made

NEW YORK Aug 27—Just as the leaders of the cloakmakers' strike were announcing that hostilities had ceased and that the workers would return to their respective places of employment, an outbreak occurred which resulted in a suicide, white pistol fighting and serious rioting caused a resumption of the labor troubles. The renewal of the fight resulted from the objection of the strikers to the proposal made by their leaders that the union concede to the closed shop proposition

Morrison Leavenson, a cloakmaker, on learning that work was not to be resumed, killed himself His funds had been exhausted by the seven months' layoff and he was desperate.

FEELING BITTER.

So bitter was the feeling against the men who suggested compromise on that basis that Treasurer Lennon, who announced the plan to the strikers in meeting, was driven from the hall. The workingmen and women were enraged at any such encroachment at what they claim are their absolute rights.

Holding that the "labor union in ordering the strikers to enforce their demands of a closed shop, violates the law," Justice Goff of the New York Supreme Coutr today issued what is considered the most sweeping anti-labor injunction ever given in New York state. The order came as the result of a bill for an injunction filed by the Cook and Suit Manufacturers' Association against the International Garment Workers' Union. The managers consider the action as the strongest decision against labor unions ever rendered in America.

Militiamen Would Show Fight Films; Women Up in Arms

ROCHESTER, N. Y, Aug 27—Because of the intention of the four local companies of the National Guard to show the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures in the state armory here next week, the County Christian Endeavor Union has appealed to Governor Hughes to prevent the exhibition in the armory, which is state property.

PASSION PLAY IS SEEN IN PICTURES

Travelogue Depicts Peasant Actors in Their Sacred Drama.

Lincoln Hall was filled last evening with an audience which gathered to listen to Dr Edwin Harvey Hadlock in his illustrated travelogue reproducing the Passion Play Dr Hadlock early introduced his audience to the people and scenes of the Bavarian village He related the history of the Passio Play and the events which led up to its first production He spoke of the charm and simplicity of the life in Oberammergau and the sincerity of the people in devoting their lives to the production of its religious drama He answered the question Is the Passion Play becoming commercialized?" by saying that the actors in this drama are receiving less pay for their great work than the average laborer receives in America

The pictures which illustrated the travelogue were excellent likenesses of these peasant players and revealed in their faces a loftiness of character and a nobility of life

The production of the acts and scenes of the play was realistic and the speaker held the closest attention of the audience for over an hour and a half This entertainment will be repeated Sunday evening at Lincoln Hall

Fire Breaks Out in State Normal School

SAN DIEGO, Aug 27 — Fire at 3 o'clock this morning was discovered in the president's room at the State Normal school in the University Heights section of this city

Roosevelt Is Outdone; Man Lassoes Bear

CHICO, Aug 27—John Lucas of Chico lassoed a bear ten miles north of Chico He arrived in the city yesterday with the carcass and the men who accompanied him told of his skill Dogs started the animal from the brush and it dashed across the road and started running through an open space Lucas on horseback, dashed forward in pursuit The dogs brought the bear to bay, and Lucas uncoiled his lariat and sent the noose sailing gracefully through the air It settled easily over bruin's head, and the bear was dragged fifty yards, until it brought up against a log Lucas held it there in a helpless position while the other men killed it. Lucas shot two bears near the same spot recently

SAN FRANCISCAN IS GIVEN HIGH OFICE BY EAGLES

KANSAS CITY MEMBER FILLS SECRETARY OFFICE

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27—John S. Parry of San Francisco was elected vice-president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, as the result of balloting yesterday, according to an announcement of the election committee of the convention today.

He defeated John E. Cline of Oakland by more than 400 votes.

The other officers efected were: Secretary, Conrad H. Mann, Kansas City.

Treasurer, Finlay McRae, Helena; Grand Worthy Conductor, E. R. Fuller, Richmond, Va.; Grand Worthy Chaplain, A. B. Duncan, St. Joseph, Mo.; Trustees, J. J. Bohl, Stamford, Conn.; John Dowling, Dayton, O.; E. D. Sanders, Spokane, Wash.; Frank Leroy, Victoria, B. C.

PRIZES ANNOUNCED.

The report of the committee which tried and convicted four former grand officers on charges of having diverted funds of the Fraternal Order of Eagles was made public in part today.

It brings into the case a new name, that of John C. Dodsworth, of the Topeka, Kansas, Aerie, who was charged with having handled $9100 in connection with the purchase of perforating machines by local aeries throughout the country. Upon his own confession, the report states, he was found guilty and his expulsion recommended.

PAST HEAD CONVICTED.

The reports say Edward P. Krause of Wilmington, Del., past president, was convicted of having received $4400 and his expulsion from the grand aerie was recommended.

Martin Gray of New Haven, Conn., is alleged to have received a similar sum, while the report states that Thomas C. Hayes of Newark, N. J., was given $500 for keeping silent about what he knew of the alleged deal.

FOR YOUR HAIR

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk.

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course it is understood that in none of these cases were the hair roots dead nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

When the roots of the hair are entirely dead and the pores of the scalp are glazed over, we do not believe that anything can restore hair growth.

When Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will do as above stated, it is not strange that we have such great faith in it and that we claim it will prevent baldness when used in time. It acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed and will not gum nor permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for it.

We lend our endorsement to Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and sell it on this guarantee, because we believe it is the best hair tonic ever discovered. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at our store,—The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Tenth and Washington, Thirteenth and Broadway, Sixteenth and San Pablo.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION MEETS

Local Bourbons Outline Principles and Adopt Platform at Enthusiastic Meeting Today

The Democratic County convention assembled this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Germania Hall. There was a large and representative delegation present from each assembly district. Among the prominent members of the party present were S. Bachrach, John H. Cregan, R. H. Adams, I. Cohen, John M. English, Geo. W. Peckham, J. J. McDonald, D. M. Stewart, John A. Oversthuller, Haywards; J. W. Dutton, Carl Abbott, J. Walter Smith, Warren B. English, W. A. Powell, George Beck, Livermore; Thomas Stoddard, T. O. Crawford, Clyde Abbott, Berkeley; Louis Ruschin, Newark; D. E. Bortree, J. J. White, M. J. O'Gara, A. W. Beam, Haywards; Martin Ryan, P. J. Cochrane, Bruton Hayne, Dr. J. S. Akerley, M. E. Tibush, A. Bennison, J. C. Downey, M. A. McInnis, R. H. Mills, J. B. Porter, A. F. Porter, R. H. Beeman, J. E. Baker, Henry W. Brunk, Robt. McKillican, Judge Rawson, and others.

The gathering was called to order by J. J. McDonald of this city, chairman of the Democratic County Central committee.

"We have assembled," said McDonald, "for the purpose of selecting thirty-six delegates to the State Democratic Convention, which is to be held in Stockton, September 5th, and formulate a platform as laid down by the law, to plan a campaign.

"I'm glad to see that the Democratic party is still alive and full of fight. We are united, while the brethern are dismantled. One half of them are trying to do up the trusts and the other half the other way. Both have long been trying to build up the trusts, and I think both are right."

John H. Cregan seconded the motion, and the motion prevailed.

Abbott was escorted to the chair by Hayne and Cregan.

ABBOTT CHAIRMAN.

Abbott thanked the convention for the honor done him. He pointed out that there was every chance for a Democratic success at the coming election, if the Democrats should stand together.

S. Bachrach was nominated and elected as temporary secretary.

J. J. McDonald moved that a committee of seven members be appointed to act on each of the committees on organization, credentials and platform, and the motion prevailed.

One of the members of each committee was expected to come from each assembly district.

Later, however, the chair was allowed to use his discretion in selecting the committeemen with respect to districts, for the reason, as he expressed it, he desired to appoint two men from one district on the committee on platform.

A recess of 20 minutes was ordered to enable the chair to appoint the committees.

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED.

On reconvening the chair announced the committees, as follows:

Credentials—George Beck, 46th assembly district; C. F. Banta, 47th; M. L. Rawson, 48th; J. W. Griffin, 49th; P. J. Cochrane, 50th; R. B. Myers, 51st; J. H. Cregan, 52d.

Organization and Order of Business—John Obermuller, 46th assembly district; W. E. Scully, 47th; Martin Ryan, 48th; Daniel Green, 49th; S. Cohn, 50th; W. B. Rinehardt, 51st; M. C. James, 52d.

Platform—J. E. Baker, chairman, 50th assembly district; T. C. Stoddard, 47th; Carl Abbott, 48th; J. S. Akerly, 49th; Thomas Power, 46th; B. Hayne, 52d.

A recess for thirty minutes was then taken.

Forty-sixth District — John Geary, Arthur Beam, John Obermuller, John Stanton, E. W. Sanford, T. J. Power, L. Ruschin, Henry May, Edwin Gunn, Samuel Elliot, Theo. Gorner. James Twohey, N. W. Armstrong, George Beck, M. J. Callaghan, M. C. Mulqueeney, J. N. Egan, J. J. Kennedy.

Bourbons Gather in County Convention

LOS ANGELES, August 27.—The Democratic County Convention which convened today with the largest attendance that party has had in a convention here in years, encountered a serious difficulty before getting down to actual business. Three or four Lincoln-Roosevelt League Republicans, who were chosen as delegates to the Democratic convention, by the writing in of their names on the ballot, were present and insisted upon their right to seats in the convention. Their presence was discovered early and they were called upon to state their party affiliation. One of them, a delegate named Callahan, arose and said:

"I am a Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican, and I have been fighting for clean government all my life. I voted for Lincoln, and I have been voting for what Lincoln stood for ever since."

REMARKS ARE CHEERED.

His remarks were cheered by the delegates. The committee on credentials put in an hour or more of heated controversy trying to decide whether the Republicans would be allowed to sit in the convention. The committee finally submitted two reports, the majority favoring the seating of the Republicans and the minority against it. The convention recessed until 1:30 p. m., when the vote on the committee's report was to be taken up. Chas. Welborn, police commissioner, was elected chairman. The convention was addressed by Timothy Spellacy, candidate for lieutenant governor, and others.

AMENDMENT IS PLANNED.

The platform declares for a constitutional amendment permitting counties to govern themselves under freeholders' charters similar to the present government of California cities. It also favors the initiative, referendum and recall for State and counties, denounces railroad and corporation activity in politics and reaffirms the cardinal Democratic principles.

County Conventions Meet in Stockton

STOCKTON, Aug. 27.—Conventions of the Republicans and Democrats of San Joaquin county were held here this morning. The Republicans named the following delegates to the State convention:

C. L. Neumiller, G. K. Garrettson, Chas. De Carli, Irving Martin, R. E. Mann, John T. Lewis, Earl W. Barnhart, J. W. Daugherty and F. O. Hausken.

The Republican platform endorses the national platform of 1908, pledges the support and endorsement of the platform to be adopted at the State convention; indorses the administration of President Taft, the policies of Theodore Roosevelt, the administration of Governor Gillett; pledges support to Hiram Johnson, appoints its simplification; apposes saloon gests its simplification; apposes saloon domination in politics and, declares for local option.

SUPPORT FOR BELL.

The Democratic platform pledges support to Theodore Bell for Governor; favors the initiative, referendum and recall and the direct primary, but asks that the latter be made less cumbersome and provide in good faith for the election of United States Senator by the people; commends the Democratic legislatures; recommends the public control of water; pledges candidates to remove discriminations against irrigation bonds; deplores neglect which has made upper San Joaquin river unnavigable; demands abolition of poll tax; deplores industrial strife and recommends appointment of a commission to settle labor disputes; denounces report of Labor Commissioner McKenzie favoring the employment of Japanese; recognizes Hindu immigration as a growing evil; appreciates the presence of Henry Hawson, Democratic nominee for Congress.

Republicans Meet; Progressives Rule

SAN JOSE, Aug. 27.—The Progressive wing of the party in this county had everything its own way this morning in the Republican county convention. The machine delegates failed to show up at all and only "Insurgents" were present. Charles D. Blainey of Saratoga was elected temporary chairman, Professor C. B. Wing of Stanford University temporary secretary and B. Grant Taylor, Republican candidate for clerk of the supreme court, assistant secretary.

Willful Desertion Charged to Barnes

Willful desertion is alleged by Cynthia J. Barnes in her suit for a divorce from Thomas P. Barnes, filed today in the superior court. The couple were married in Santa Rosa in 1888, and the wife alleges that in 1904 Barnes left her without cause or provocation, since which time he has failed to provide in any way for the support of her and their two children, the permanent custody of whom Mrs. Barnes also asks.

KOREAN ROYAL FAMILY WILL GET LARGE PENSION

The Emperor to Retain Title of King and Princes to Be Cared for.

HERMIT KINGDOM TO BE IMPROVED BY JAPAN

Nipponese Official Outlines the Policy to Be Pursued When Country Is Absorbed.

SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 27.—Lieutenant-General Terauchi, Japanese resident general in Korea, and negotiator of the convention of annexation, which, it may be stated, will be informally promulgated next Monday, said today regarding the annexation:

"No stone will be left unturned to make the Koreans and the world feel that Japan's rule in Korea is a beneficial thing for the Koreans. It will and must imply no degradation for the Koreans, who, under the annexation, will enjoy exactly the same rights in Korea as the Japanese. It is the wish and command of the Emperor of Japan that every effort be made to make the Koreans feel no humiliation, but rather relief at the annexation.

"The policy of Japan in administering the new portion of the empire will be directed toward a steady improvement of conditions and the development of the resources of Korea."

CUSTOMS TARIFFS CONTINUE.

It may be stated with authority that although the treaties of Korea with foreign powers lapse with the annexation, the customs tariff of Korea, which is much lower than that of Japan, will be continued for an indefinite period under Japanese rule. This is the point by which foreign interests might be affected if the Japanese tariffs were introduced. Economic conditions in the Kingdom will also remain unchanged and foreigners will enjoy the same rights in Korea as in the district of Japan

DETAILS OF NEGOTIATIONS.

Interesting details of the negotiations leading to the annexation are made public. The assent of Emperor Yh-Syek and of his predecessor Yh-Heui to the annexation was given willingly, it is stated, the only hesitation shown when the terms were being discussed being in regard to the titles which will hereafter be borne by the former emperors. The original Japanese terms proposed the title of Grand Duke, but the Emperor of Korea insisted on it being styled "Whang," or king, to which Japan assented. The princes of the Korean imperial house would, it was conceded, be treated as Japanese princes and an annuity of $750,000 was granted them. The royal family will be allowed to reside where they please and will probably remain in Korea.

MADE JAPANESE PEERS.

Members of the Imperial family and some of the high dignitaries of the Kingdom will be created peers of the Japanese empire, substantial grants of money being awarded to them. Koreans will also be appointed privy councillors and appointments as officials in the central provincial administration will be made from among those who prove competent.

The upper classes of the Koreans are now generally acquainted with the facts of the annexation and appear satisfied with it.

NO APPREHENSION FELT.

No apprehension of protest or disturbance when the details of the annexation are published on August 29 is entertained.

It is believed Resident General Terauchi will remain in Korea as governor-general for several months, after which he will be succeeded by Baron Simpei Goto, Japanese minister of communications, who in his work as president of the South Manchurian Railway has become familiar with the problems of Japan administration on the mainland.

Two Women Claim Benson's Insurance

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Grace V. Benson, second wife of the convicted land grabber who died May 8 of this year, a day after leaving prison, where he had served his term, yesterday filed an application for the principal on a life insurance policy left by Benson. It was issued by the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California.

Some time ago the insurance company asked the court to designate to whom the money should be paid.

The action was directed against M. J. Hynes as special administrator for Mary Benson, first wife of the decedent, and Grace V. Benson, both claimants for the insurance money.

In Mrs. Grace Benson's claim filed yesterday she says she holds the policy, which was assigned to her by Benson on June 26, 1903. The balance due is $2240.

Noted Astronomer Comes for Meeting

SANTA CLARA, Aug. 27.—Rev. Richard Clera, director of the Ebro Observatory at Tortosa, Spain, arrived last night at Santa Clara College. He is en route to Pasadena, where he will represent the Royal Academy of Sciences of Barcelona at a meeting of the International Union for Co-operation in Solar Research, which is to be held there during the coming week. He will be accompanied from here by Rev. J. Ricard of the Santa Clara College Observatory.

I am again able to be up and attend to my work. I shall never hesitate to recommend them." Sold by Wishart's Drug Store.

CHURCH TO TALK ON BOXING GAME

Permits for Contests Are to Be Threshed Out at Federation Meeting.

The question of granting permits for boxing contests in which professionals will participate and for which purses are offered will, among other important things, be the subject of debate at a meeting of the Church Federation in the First Methodist Church, next Monday evening.

Dr. George W. White, president of the Federation will make an effort to ascertain Mayor Mott's construction of the state law on prize fights before the meeting.

Other matters will include an address on the Child's Welfare League, by Probation Officer Christopher Ruess, and a talk on the white slave traffic in the cities around the bay, by Mrs. P. M. Storrey, who has done evangelistic work in this particular line in Eastern cities, and has been devoting some time to the situation in the bay cities.

The question of organizing a state commission to affiliate with similar commissions in the eastern states, for the purpose of starting a movement looking toward uniform marriage and divorce laws throughout the United States, will also be taken up at the meeting.

COMEDIAN ARGUES TO TRANSFER SUIT

Court to Decide Later On the Removal of Case Against Kolb.

After hearing arguments on the motion of C. William Kolb, the comedian, for the transfer of the suit brought against him and his former partner, Max M. Dill, by N. A. Magner, their manager, to the Superior Court of San Francisco, Judge William H. Waste took the matter under advisement for a week late yesterday afternoon.

Magner charges in his complaint that Kolb threatens to jump his contract and has secured a temporary injunction restraining Kolb from appearing in the State in any other capacity than as a member of the Kolb & Dill Company, which, it is alleged, is a co-partnership that includes Magner. The latter also wants $23,000 damages.

SALARIES RAISED.

During the hearing yesterday Magner's attorney declared that without the consent of their manager Kolb and Dill have raised their salaries from $300 to $500 each per week, and had forced Magner to pay bills for which he was not liable under the contract. He also stated that Kolb was at present preparing to sell about $25,000 worth of wardrobe and properties and then leave the jurisdiction of the court and appear as a star in the East, with New York as his first objective point.

Counsel for Kolb argued that Magner's suit was the result of a conspiracy between the manager and Dill to prevent Kolb from breaking with his former stage partner, but in an affidavit Magner denied the truth of this statement and averred that Kolb's only object in trying to have the case transferred to San Francisco was to delay its trial and give him time to close up his private business and get out of the court's jurisdiction.

Believe It Waste Of Money to Try To Raise Storm

WASHINGTON, August 27.—Government weather officials believe it would be a waste of money to explode big guns on the Pacific Coast in the hope of producing rain. This is their reply to further requests for a bombardment of the heavens with the big guns of the Coast Artillery at Puget Sound and at the mouth of the Columbia river. The war department asked the weather bureau today for an opinion as to the probable efficiency of the experiment.

Willis T. Moore, chief of the bureau, in reply explained that the only result probable would be to "create a field for years to come, for charlatans, having in a measure the sanction of the government for their operations, to prey on the credulity of the public and to secure both private and public revenue for their efforts to produce rain."

NO RAIN PRODUCED.

"A few years ago," said Moore, in his opinion, "under authority of Congress, the agriculture department expended $12,000 in the effort to create rain by bombarding the clouds with powerful explosives. The effort was made in both the humid regions of the east and the sub-arid regions of the west, but no rain whatever was produced."

"We have no record of a downfall of rain following the hundreds of accidental explosions of powder mills and magazines, and the records of the government show that no more rain occurs on the 4th of July than on any other of the first fifteen days of the month.

"The reason why rain usually followed the great battles of history is that commanders of necessity move armies and begin engagements, if possible, on fair days; then, as rain falls on an average of one day in three if it does not follow a battle it is due to the fact that drouth prevails. In other words the regular operations of nature should bring rain during, or at the close of, a battle during clear weather.

"It is the opinion of the most eminent physicists and scientific experimentists of the world that rain cannot be caused by the setting off of explosives, but only by a marked increase in the vapor contents of the air, or by a decided lowering of the temperature, in neither of which processes can man operate on such a stupendous scale as to imitate nature."

CHARGE YAMAGACHI WITH MURDER OF KENDALLS

Coroner's Jury Lays Crime at Door of Japanese, Who Has Disappeared.

MRS. STARBUCK TELLS OF YOUTH'S CONFESSION

Promises to Aid Officers in the Search; Contradicts Herself Many Times.

SANTA ROSA, August 27.—Manjiro Yamagachi, the fugitive Japanese, was declared guilty of the murder or the entire Kendall family, on the lonely mountain ranch at Cazadero by the Coroner's jury at Santa Rosa yesterday. The verdict was expected by the Sonoma county officials, who introduced valuable evidence, which leaves little hope for escape from the gallows should the accused man be run to earth.

Mrs. Margaret Starbuck, wife of Henry F. Starbuck, an Oakland architect, whose friendship for Yamagachi has brought her into the limelight, created something of a sensation when she appeared in the courtroom yesterday, her head swathed in a heavy veil. She gave her testimony in a faltering voice and kept a large black hand bag constantly before her face in an effort to escape the stares of the curious.

MRS. STARBUCK'S STORIES.

From the first Mrs. Starbuck's stories have been of a conflicting nature. She has made several statements, only to retract discrepancies, so grave, that comparison of her statements was made by the county officials. Fresh contradictions were also offered by her husband, and James M. Thompson, a Santa Rosa attorney.

Before Mrs. Starbuck left for her home in Oakland last night, she promised to aid the police in the search for Yamagachi.

She expressed the belief that Yamagachi was dead and refused to believe that the jaw bone and teeth found on the ranch were those of Tom Kendall. She explained that she had once closely examined young Kendall's teeth and had spoken to him of their healthy appearance.

DISPOSED OF RANCH.

The Starbuck ranch is no longer the property of Mrs. Starbuck. She declared in the interview that she had disposed of the ranch a few days ago at a considerable discount.

A new witness, and an important one, proved to be Attorney James M. Thompson, father of R. L. Thompson, former attorney for Mrs. Starbuck. Thompson was called unexpectedly and appeared upon the witness stand after the Starbucks had left the courthouse.

Mrs. Starbuck denied upon the witness stand that she had sent Yamagachi to her Cazadero ranch to look after her property interest, yet, according to Thompson the Japanese called upon him on his way to the ranch, and declared that he had been sent to the Starbuck property to look after Mrs. Starbuck's interests with instructions to report to R. L. Thompson.

THOMPSON'S MEMORY POOR.

In addition to this statement Thompson declared that a few days before the murder Yamagachi called at his office and stated that he was on his way to Oakland to see Mrs. Starbuck. Thompson was unable to fix the exact date of this visit. It might have been a week before the murder. A few days after the visit, however, according to Thompson, the Japanese paid another visit to the office and conferred with the younger Thompson.

Relating to events of Yamagachi's last visit to her home, Mrs. Starbuck said:

"He came to the front door, a very unusual thing for him to do. I spoke to him first. He had the dog with him. I said, 'Why, Henry, where did you get the dog?' It was my dog from the ranch, I thought at first, and then on second thought I concluded that it was not. Henry said that he did not have dinner and I invited him to eat. He said that he had been in a fight. I asked him who he had fought with. He said the Kendalls.

YAMAGACHI'S STORY.

"He said Kendall had slapped him and knocked him down and had then shot at him and had hit him. I looked at him and he showed me a bruise on the right side of his cheek. I did not examine it closely. He did not claim he had been shot there. He said that a looking glass had saved his life.

"He cried to me, 'I had to! I had to!' I looked to the coat for a bullet hole. There was no hole. I thought he was crazy.

"He grew more excited. 'I changed my coat,' he said to me. He said it was in his grip and that he had left his grip at the Sixteenth street station.

"I understood him to say that the fight took place in the yard. He said that he had attacked them all. 'I shot 'em,' he said. He never used the word kill. He said, too, that they tried to hit him with an axe.

NOTIFIED POLICE.

"I asked him when it all happened. He said last week. Then he grew more excited than ever. 'Now I must kill myself, I must,' he said. He did not remain long after this.

"I immediately telephoned to Captain of Detectives Petersen of Oakland and to my husband. I told them that Henry was at the house and that he was crazy. Mr. Starbuck came home quickly. While Mr. Starbuck was on the way home Yamagachi left the house saying to me before he left that he would come back the next day and tell me all.

"The dog was left at our house, but he disappeared, and we had to advertise for him. A strange man brought the dog home. He said the dog had come to his house."

Ranger Gets Back With Lungs Burned

MISSOULA, Mont., Aug. 27. — John W. Bell, the ranger who lost eleven out of his crew of 46 men who were fighting fire on the Big creek of the St. Joe near Wallace, arrived here late last night, himself in a very weakened condition from badly burned lungs, and continued today to his home at Sheridan, Mont.

He was detailed to do special duty in Idaho and brings the names of D. Brown and Venus Attelo, two Italians of his crew who were killed, but whose bodies were not identified and never have appeared in the lists.

MULFORD WINS BIG RACE IN LOZIER

ELGIN, Ills., Aug. 27.—Ralph Mulford, driving a Lozier "50" at the average rate of 62½ miles an hour for 305 miles, won the Elgin National Road race today over such pilots as Robertson, Grant, Oldfield, Livingstone and Haroun. He stopped but once for gasoline. Mulford's time was 2:52:29.84.

There were thirteen starters, but accidents eliminated seven in the first 200 miles, namely: Stinson (Black Crow), Haroun (Marmon), Grant (Alco), Endicott (Kissel Kar), Dawson (Marmon), Basle (Mathison), Schiefer (Jackson).

The crowd which gathered here today to see the crack automobile drivers go 305.03 miles for the Elgin National trophy, was estimated at double that which saw the "curtain raiser" races yesterday.

TRACK REPAIRED.

Cuts made in the eight and one-half mile track yesterday were filled in overnight and a light coat of top dressing was applied where needed. Thirteen cars were scheduled to start as follows: National 40, Greiner; Black Crow 40, Steinson; Lozier 50, Mulford; Marmon 40, Haroun; Simplex 50, Robertson; Alco 50, Grant; National 40, Livingstone; Simplex 50, Saynor; Kissel Kar 40, Endicott; Marmon 40, Dawson; Mathison 50, Basle; Knox 60, Oldfield; Jackson 60, Oldfield; Jackson 40, Schiefer.

The two Nationals were the same as those which ran yesterday and in one of which Livingstone won the feature event at 203.35 miles. Grant's car was the one on which he captured the last Vanderbilt cup. There was much interest attached to the racing of Barney Oldfield, whose reputation has been gained on speedways rather than in road races.

Oldfield stopped once to adjust his ignition and again to replace a tire and was 2 laps behind Mulford.

Basle's car broke a wheel in the twelfth lap and Endicott a radiator in the tenth and both retired.

Livingstone was second. Time 5:04:10.90. Greiner finished third. Time 5:13:28.30.

DARED HOD CARRIER TO SHOOT; HE DID

Mrs. Honora Lynch Victim of Bullet Fired by Irate Laborer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Honora Lynch, of 3240 Eighteenth street, who was shot by John Callan, a hod-carrier, following testimony given by her on the witness stand, is reported as getting along nicely this morning at St. Mary's hospital.

A divorce suit brought by Callan's wife, a niece of Mrs. Lynch, was the cause of the trouble.

Yesterday afternoon Callan went to Mrs. Lynch's house in search of his wife, but she was not there. A quarrel followed, resulting in the shooting.

After he had fired one shot and missed, the woman dared him to shoot again, which he did, inflicting a serious but not necessarily fatal injury.

Question of Brains.

A dog was buried in a $150 rosewood coffin in Nevada, Mo., last week, and the New Florence Leader says there was as much brains buried in the dog's head as there is in the man's head who buried the dog.—Wright City News.

CHINESE ARE BUILDING AN INGENIOUS AIRSHIP

Aluminum Used in Framework for Planes of Aerial Craft

Machine Hidden in Barn at Elmhurst Is Guarded by Dogs

Concealed from the gaze of the curious and well guarded from intrusion, a number of able Chinese mechanicians are at work in a barn in the hayfields south of Elmhurst constructing an airship that is said by those who have had a hurried glimpse of it to be a marvel of ingenuity.

The secretiveness that the Oriental throws about all his actions is, in the case of these Chinese aviators, greatly amplified. They guard their secret assiduously and a number of dogs are loose in the vicinity of the barn in which they are working to give warning of the approach of any undesirable person.

The leader of the airship builders is Fung Joe Yuen, who some time ago attracted much attention by his experiments with a glider in the Piedmont hills. Associated with him are five or six other Chinese, all of whom, it is said, are blood relations of the leader. His father, who was for years a merchant in Oakland's Chinatown, is his principal advisor and it is supposed that the profits of the paternal mercantile business are furnishing Fung Joe Yuen with the sinews of war.

IS NATIVE SON.

The builder of the machine is a native son and at one time is said to have been a student at Yale, where he specialized in mechanical engineering. The airship is a biplane of improved type, with canvas laterals and ash supports. It resembles greatly the Farman type of aeroplane, but there are differences in its appearance that indicate that the Chinese inventor has made a number of radical changes from the accepted type.

While the Chinese have made the greatest efforts to keep the construction of the aeroplane a secret, the very mystery shrouding all their moves has aroused much curiosity and they have constantly been hard pressed to avoid answering the searching questions of their white neighbors.

Among the latter there are some who assert that the United States government has been sufficiently interested in the aeroplane of the Chinese to make an investigation. They tell of seeing men with a soldierly bearing trudging across the hayfields to the barn of the Chinese, and this has led them to believe that if the government is not looking the aeroplane over, there are army officers who deem it to their interest to keep an eye on the construction of the machine.

The Chinese builders will say nothing. All conversation with them must be held through a crack in the wall of the barn. All of them speak good English and are evidently well educated. Fung Joe Yuen has the appearance of a studious young Oriental of great intelligence. He handles tools with an air of familiarity with them and goes about his work with the quickness and quietness of a born mechanic.

The greatest mystery surrounds the kind of motive power with which the Chinese hope to propel their aeroplane into the atmosphere. The castings for the engine were manufactured at various places in the East, the wily Chinese taking great care that the men who made the castings could not guess at the probable action of the entire engine.

Fung Joe Yuen designed the engine, and when the castings were shipped to him it is asserted that he assembled the engine in the privacy of his home in Oakland to prevent the possibility of anyone learning his secret.

To construct the framework of the body of the aeroplane, he was obliged to seek an open spot in as secluded a place as could be found. Managing to lease a ten-acre hay field near Elmhurst, he and his associates have constructed a large barnlike building and are at work on the completion of the ash and canvas framework.

ALUMINUM IS USED.

Every bit of metal used in the construction of the lateral planes is aluminum. Between the two lateral planes on each side are smaller planes to assist in giving the aeroplane the primal lift in starting. The aeroplane appears to be about thirty feet wide, with the usual framework extending to the rear, to which it is supposed that the rudder tips and steering gear will be attached.

The time for the trial flight of the Chinese aeroplane could not be discovered, but judging from the progress being made in the construction, the date cannot be far distant. Surrounding the barn that shelters the aeroplane are large level fields that will afford splendid starting and landing places in the trial flight.

WANTS NO PUBLICITY.

Fung Joe Yuen says that the only reason he has for concealing his aeroplane and his workmen is that too much publicity was given his former experiments along the lines of aviation in the Piedmont hills. He says that immediately after the story of his trial flights was published he was compelled to stop his experiments because of the number of aviation enthusiasts who were attracted to the scene. He was impeded to such an extent that he finally became disgusted and quit Piedmont. He says he came to Elmhurst because he believed that he would not be bothered until he was ready to give an exhibition of the workings of his aeroplane.

He acknowledged that the aeroplane was modeled on a new plan, but when questioned on the details of its construction he maintained silence. He also refused to answer any queries about himself. Asked about the probabilities of the aeroplane making a successful flight, he replied with a confident smile:

"Wait and see. It will not be long."

And the residents of the vicinity of the aeroplane builders' barn, puzzled by the mysterious actions of the Chinese and the secrecy shrouding the building of the airship, are anxiously awaiting the first trial flight.

WOMAN KILLS HERSELF WHEN HUSBAND LEAVES

been carefully locked, and all the cracks about the door and window stopped up with pieces of cloth. The discovery of the body was made from the fumes of gas issuing from the room.

FOUND DEAD.

The woman had asphyxiated herself by placing a gas-plate heater on the floor of the bathroom, and had placed her face over the fount of escaping gas. Her lifeless form was discovered, when the door was broken open, lying outstretched on the floor, with the face downward over the gas-plate heater, from which the gas was fast escaping.

The eldest girl made the grewsome find, and ran screaming to the neighbors, telling her little sister and brother on the way, of the death of their mother. She had evidently been dead for some hours, according to the physician who was hastily summoned in the vain hope of saving the woman's life. The body has been taken in charge by the coroner, and has been taken to the morgue.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

The suit for divorce was filed a week ago, in Sacramento, to which city Brauer had hastened after trouble with his wife. He previously worked for the John Breuner company in this city, but was transferred to the Sacramento store by request.

According to the neighbors of Mrs. Brauer, the trouble between the couple seems to have arisen over the need for medical attention for the little crippled girl, Dorothy. Brauer, it is claimed, refused to have the child treated in the manner that his wife requested.

About a week ago Brauer filed suit for divorce and the charges made against her in the divorce papers and the constant worry over the condition of her invalid daughter, is supposed to have caused Mrs. Brauer to commit her rash act.

Five Oaklanders Jailed In State-Wide Crusade Against the Drug Traffic

Commencing a state wide campaign against the drug habit, agents of the California State Pharmacists' Association caused five arrests in Oakland today for violating the laws against selling cocaine, morphine, opium and other narcotics without the necessary prescriptions. Of those arrested three are Chinese merchants. George Smith, a druggit of 460 Twelfth street, was arrested at the same time as S. Epperson, a stableman, the charge against the latter being that he was in unlawful possession of cocaine.

Arraigned before Judge Mortimer Smith this morning, the five cases were put over to Monday morning to plead.

SECRET INVESTIGATION.

The arrests are the aftermath of a secret investigation that has been conducted by inspectors in the employ of the State Board of Pharmacists. The druggists of the State are determined to stamp out the illicit sale of drugs to the unfortunates possessed of the "drug habit," as they consider it a disgrace and a discredit to the profession. It is believed that the arrests in Oakland today are merely the precursor of others to be made in San Francisco and other parts of the bay region.

Agitation against the sale of opium, morphine, cocaine and other forms of opium has been carried on for some months, and much of the practice has been stamped out. The pharmacists have discovered, however, that an underground trade is being carried on secretly whereby thousands of dollars' worth of opium and other narcotic poisons are disposed of in violation of the State poison law.

CHINESE ARRESTED.

The Chinese were arrested by Detectives Niels and Gallagher on complaints sworn to by agents of the State board. Ahlum was arrested in lower Chinatown and has been released on cash bail of $125. Kan Hung, a Chinese merchant and druggist of 563 Eighth street, is out on $250 cash bail, and Fong Kee of 310 Eighth street, on $125 cash bail. Smith has been released on $125 bail, while Epperson is being held in the city prison as he has failed to obtain bail. Smith and Epperson were arrested by Detectives Gallagher and Sherry on warrants obtained by the inspectors for the State board.

The police believe they have sufficient evidence to obtain a conviction, and will make every effort to bring the men to justice. The cases will be handled in the courts by City Attorney John W. Stetson and his assistants. Attorney Stetson is the special counsel for the California State Board of Pharmacists.

The crusade against the practice of selling drugs illicitly is to be carried to other cities. Preparations have been made to make an energetic campaign, and everything possible will be done by the authorities to throttle the evil.

MINIATURE SANDOW HAS STATE RECORD

Tiny Jack McGowan Does Stunts That Tax 10-Year-Olds.

A three-and-a-half-year-old miniature Sandow, is little Jack McGowan, son of Professor Frank McGowan of 956 Castro street, this city. The lad is probably the best developed boy of his age in the state. From the time he could walk Jack has been faithfully trained in athletic exercises by his father, who believes that the physical development of a child should begin as soon as possible.

The boy's food is of the simplest description. He is allowed meat only occasionally, and lives chiefly on vegetables and fruit, with plenty of fresh milk to drink.

He can lift weights that would tax the strength of an ordinary ten-year-old lad; he can run faster than any of his playmates; his lung power seems to be perfect, and he plays the most strenuous games without seeming fatigued.

Aeroplanes Used To Reconnoiter

PARIS, Aug. 27.—The first war maneuvers combining aeroplanes and regiments of soldiers have just been held at Verdun. The success of the aeroplane in reconnoitering amazed the army officials. Two officers were sent up, and they returned after obtaining the most exact information as to the enemy's position. It is said the result demonstrated beyond doubt the practicability of using "man-fivers" in battle.

M. Le Brun, deputy for the Meur-The-Et-Mosella districts, and a member of the army commission, was an eye-witness of the maneuvers.

"The commanders of the red forces guarding the bridge," he said, "kept anxious vigil throughout a stormy night, as they were nervous over the unknown movements of the white forces across the river. At last the clouds in the sky began to break and at 3 o'clock, reconnoitering with an aeroplane seemed possible. Lieutenants Fequant and Sido were ordered to undertake it. A machine was brought in an automobile and unloaded under the cover of a farm wall. After a few turns of the propeller the aeroplane mounted into the air.

MAKES GREAT FLIGHT.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 27.—Braving the leaden skies and an occasional patter of rain, Archie Hoxsey yesterday afternoon made a spectacular 20-mile cross-country flight in his Wright biplane. At an altitude of 1500 feet he swept over the heaving ocean and skimmed over the housetops of the ten summer colonies along the route between Long Beach and Ocean Grove. Exactly 30 minutes after he arose in the air he landed his aeroplane precisely on the spot from which he had started. Later in the afternoon Ralph Johnstone broke the world's speed-soaring record by climbing to a height of 1000 feet in exactly ten minutes. The performance was especially thrilling because Johnstone's balky motor continually missed fire on all cylinders while he was racing upward.

A morning paper refers to the "new father of a seven-pound boy." It's safe to predict that in about twenty years he'll be referred to by the S. P. B. as the "old man."

MRS. J. L. PULTZ IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Former Oakland Woman's Condition Said to Be Precarious.

Mrs. John Leggett Pultz, who was Miss Hilda McKenna of Oakland, of whose recent serious illness in Brookfarm, Mass., word was received recently, is still in a precarious condition, according to reports. While her relatives are holding out every hope for her ultimate recovery, her physicians are worried.

Mrs. Pultz, who is the youngest daughter of Justice and Mrs. William McKenna, was married a little more than a year ago to the New Yorker, the wedding being one of the biggest events of the season in Washington society.

While Mrs. Pultz made her formal debut in Washington, she was born in Oakland and received her education at local schools.

Mrs. Pultz has closed her New York home for the summer and is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Davenport Brown, at her summer home in Massachusetts.

VIOLIN SOLOS BIG REVELATION

Marvelous New Reproductions by Maud Powell Among the Newest Victor Records.

No one who has not heard the Victor within recent months can realize how absolutely true to life in every detail are the three new Victor Records just made by Maud Powell. And even those who are familiar with the modern Victor and the height of perfection attained in the art of recording, will be astonished at the marvelous new reproductions she has made.

"Our" Maud Powell, as her admirers love to call her, is one of the few artists who shows year after year greater development in tone, technique and interpretation. Her tone is large and sensuous; she phrases beautifully and has a fine sense of rhythm, and listening to her three new Victor Records is like listening to Maud Powell herself. The selections she plays are Schumann's "Traumerei," and Capriccio Valse and a Romance by Wieniawski.

Hischa Elman also has four beautiful new violin solos, among which are Haydn's "Menuett" and Mozart's "Gavotte." The Red Seal vocal numbers in the September Victor list include a splendid new record by Caruso—the great Romanze from Gioconda, which the famous tenor sings with exquisite purity of tone. Frances Alda's rich soprano voice is heard in a Falstaff air; John McCormack contributes two fine ballads, "Annie Laurie" and "Molly Bawn;" Marcel Journet sings the popular serenade from Faust; Florencio Constantino has a record from Massenet's "Manon;" Evan Williams sings the favorite "Four Leaf Clover," and Emilio de Gogorza gives a fine rendition of a Neapolitan Folk Song.

The new list is so exhaustive and the subject covered embrace such a latitude that it is impossible to give a complete resume on these pages. Everyone can at least hear some of these new selections. Wherever there is a Victor dealer, the Victor can be heard without obligation and no person should fail to avail himself or herself of the opportunity thus afforded.

BIG WELCOME EXTENDED TO ROOSEVELT IN WEST

Cheyenne, Wyo., Outdoes Itself in Entertaining Former President.

"FRONTIER DAY" MADE TYPICAL OF STATE

Cowboys and Indians Vie With Each Other in Homage to Colonel.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 27.—Wyoming extended to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt today the first of the series of demonstrations planned for him in the Far West. From all over the State came men and women to join in welcoming the Colonel back to the country with which he became acquainted over a quarter of a century ago.

Many events in which the old and the new life of the western land were prominent were planned for his entertainment. Colonel Roosevelt arose early today and when approaching Cheyenne sat on the rear platform of his private car viewing the long stretches of cattle ranges. At the station to meet him were Governor B. B. Brooks, Senator Warren of Wyoming, Senator Borah of Idaho, one of the insurgent senators who have been in close relations with Colonel Roosevelt, and many men prominent in the political affairs of the state.

9TH CAVALRY AS ESCORT.

Drawn up in front of the station as an escort of honor was the Ninth Cavalry, U. S. Army, the negro regiment that co-operated with the Rough Riders at Santiago. Some of the men who were in the Cuban campaign came forward to meet Colonel Roosevelt, one of them who was warmly received by him having carried a message at San Juan Hill ordering a portion of the Rough Riders to lay down while the gatling guns were allowed to play upon the Spanish forces.

The parade through the streets of Cheyenne, headed by Colonel Roosevelt in an automobile, began the day of festivities. Everywhere there were crowds of men, women and children, cowboys and cowgirls on horseback, and straying Sioux Indians waiting to see the visitor.

INTERESTS ROOSEVELT.

The new city rising amid the small cabins that had survived the transformation from the crude settlement of early days greatly interested the Colonel. He responded with cordiality to the greetings of the throng as he passed along.

Reaching the reviewing stand erected in the center of the city, Colonel Roosevelt reviewed the troops, the detachments of cowboys and cowgirls, a remnant of the Sioux and the various organizations taking part in the parade.

WELCOME IS ROYAL.

As Colonel Roosevelt took his place in the reviewing stand the head of the parade swung by, led by Charles Irwin, of Cheyenne, who forced his mount up to the railing for a grasp of Roosevelt's hand. Following the frontier days committee came Brigadier-General Ralph Hoyt, commandant at Fort D. A. Russell, at the head of a battalion of the Eighteenth Infantry, which was followed by the mountain batteries of the Fourth Field Artillery and the colored troopers of the Ninth Cavalry, under Colonel Dyer. Each dusky face of the cavalry was split with a wide grin as the command "eyes right" faced them at the former President, who grinned and waved his hat in return.

Then came the feature of the parade. With their band playing "Auld Lang Syne," 1500 cowpunchers, each one mounted and headed by the best rough riders of the world, flashed by the stand with waving hats and shrill cowboy yells of greeting. The steady pace of the regulars was too slow for the range riders and they urged their sweating mounts past the stand in a gallop with yells of "Hello, Teddy," and flashes from silver-mounted saddles pouring from the cloud of dust. Close behind the cowmen rode 200 Sioux and Shoshone braves, squaws and papooses, brave in black and red war paint and war bonnets. The war cry that once made the residents of Cheyenne feel for their scalps burst out as they passed and Goes Along, squaw of Charlie Two Bonnets, blew a kiss to Colonel Roosevelt.

ANOTHER FEATURE OF PARADE.

A team of buffalo driven to wagon plowed stolidly past the grand stand wearing trotting boots like a park team. The Japanese delegation closed the parade. It halted in front of the stand and shouted three "Banzais," while the Colonel smiled and waved his hat.

Colonel Roosevelt watched the parade with the closest attention. He stood at the front of the reviewing stand with Governor Brooks on one side and General Smith on the other.

When the colors were carried by he took off his hat and stood at attention, head thrown back, heels close together, like a soldier. When the Indians rode by, yelling their war cries, the Colonel waved his hat at them and, turning to Governor Brooks, said:

"Twenty-seven years ago we shot one of these Sioux in a brush on the plains and the Indians shot a cowpuncher. I stood off seventy of them for two hours."

The Colonel likes the cowboys, but he did not think they looked quite as they used to when he lived in the West.

"Look at the caps the boys are wearing," he said. "They are a good deal prettier than we used to see when I was out here."

COWBOYS' GREAT FEAT.

The cowboys were galloping past the grand stand when the crowd on the sidewalks grew so dense that it broke out of bounds and scores of persons were pushed into the street. The cowboys threw their horses on their haunches to avoid a collision and as their companions galloped up from behind it looked as though there was a dangerous crush of horses in front of the reviewing stand. In a minute it was all over. Colonel Roosevelt smiled again and said:

"Twenty-six years ago I saw 500 cowboys ride into Glendive, Wyoming, on a dead run. They pulled up their horses just like that, massed in the middle of the street. This is just like old times."

When the parade was over Colonel Roosevelt said:

"It was fine, fine; I enjoyed it very much indeed."

Quickly taken to a hotel, where a suite of rooms had been reserved for him, Colonel Roosevelt took luncheon with Governor Brooks, Senators Warren and Borah, James R. Garfield and others of his party. His time was largely taken up in talking to his hosts of this city.

SHOOTS PORTRAIT.

When Colonel Roosevelt arrived at Frontier Park at 1:30 o'clock Captain Hardy, a crack marksman, was engaged in making a portrait of the colonel with bullets on a big target. A crowded grandstand with hundreds of cowboys and cowgirls drawn up on horseback in front of it provided an audience of several thousand persons to hear Colonel Roosevelt's address and to witness the games.

The colonel was greeted with cheers and was soon presented to the assemblage by Governor Brooks.

"Wyoming is particularly honored by having with us the best known man in the world," said Governor Brooks. "It is my pleasure to introduce to you the ideal American, the man of the East and of the West."

HIS SPEECH APPLAUDED.

At once entering upon his prepared address, Colonel Roosevelt was occasionally applauded, his reference to the program of the Western country calling forth approval from the assemblage. Patiently the great crowd sat under the hot sun that beat down upon the broad plain in the midst on which the park was located.

Reading from his manuscript, Colonel Roosevelt now and then departed from its text.

"I don't care," he said, "how patriotic a man is if he runs away in the time of danger."

His reference to the punishment that should be given wrongdoers in public and private life was greeted with cheers.

"If the rules of the game are wrong we should change the rules rather than blame the men who follow them," he said, amid yells of approval by the cowboys and girls.

Roosevelt Given Rousing Greeting

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Aug. 27.—Theodore Roosevelt in his trip across Iowa and parts of Nebraska has been given a warm greeting at every station, the residents gathering in crowds, venting their enthusiasm in loud cheers, the ringing of bells, the tooting of whistles and band music.

"I Expected Attack," Declares Roosevelt

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 27.—Severe criticism of Theodore Roosevelt by a New York newspaper brought forth a spirited reply from him today. He learned that he had been criticized for some of the speeches which he had been making on his western trip, particularly for his remarks concerning corporations in his Buffalo speech.

"It is just the kind of an attack I expected," he said, "just as soon as a practical effort for cleanliness and decency in New York politics was made."

President Sidesteps New York Politics

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 27.—Indications continue to multiply here that President Taft's participation in the New York state fight is ended for good. The President is not a resident of New York, and does not feel it to be the province of the President to interfere in local politics.

Mr. Taft was drawn into New York politics reluctantly. He was glad to see the various leaders as they called and he urged upon them the importance of an amicable adjustment of affairs prior to the state convention. This, it appears, was impossible and now the fight goes to the convention. Mr. Taft will keep "hands off."

The President, it is said, feels far more keenly than he lets it appear in his letter to Mr. Griscom, the false light he was placed in by anonymous statements from Oyster Bay and New York. He had every reason to believe that leaders close to Colonel Roosevelt knew exactly what his attitude was and that they had first hand knowledge that Mr. Taft had done none of the underhand things attributed to him.

It is pointed out by some of Mr. Taft's friends that Lloyd C. Griscom, president of the New York County Republican committee, who stood sponsor for Mr. Roosevelt, was in President Taft's library at Burgess Point when the President sent the long telegram to Vice-President Sherman, since made public, telling him to do nothing without the approval of Colonel Roosevelt, which could in any way involve the administration.

Soon after the recent incidents at New York, it was announced that Mr. Griscom would visit Beverly in a few days. It is said here that Mr. Griscom has no engagements to see the President.

KEMPERS DISAGREE.

W. H. Kemper has applied to the superior court for a divorce from Nettie Kemper, alleging desertion.

Fearing War, Boy Runs Away to Hills to Train Himself as Army Scout

Impressed with the belief that there may be an invasion of the Pacific Coast by Japanese at some future date, and that his knowledge of the hills back of Oakland may be of use in giving him service as a guide the United States Army, Edgar Lapierre, a 13-year-old boy, has disappeared from Oakland in the direction of Hayward to train himself as a scout. He has a pair of field glasses, a rifle and provisions purchased with $6 obtained in some unknown manner. Before leaving his home at 1312 Sixth avenue, he confessed to a boy companion his desire to learn the secrets of nature by living alone in the hills.

Pierre Lapierre, the father of the boy, is anxious over what his fate can have been, as he was last seen making for the hills, Thursday, and nothing has been heard about him. Posses of relatives have been sent into the hills and have searched for the boy, the police have been notified, but so far no trace of the missing scout has been discovered.

INTERESTED IN FORECASTS.

The boy took a great interest in the troubles forecasted as likely to occur between the United States and Japan, and read eagerly the accounts of the weakness of the coast defenses of this country. He arrived at the conclusion that should war be declared, Japanese soldiers would invade this country, and the war would be won or lost on American soil in the valleys back of the San Francisco bay region.

Telling his boy friend that should such a contingency occur a working knowledge of all the hills and valleys of Alameda and Contra Costa county would prove invaluable, and that he meant to be a savior of his land if he could gain the opportunity, young Lapierre shouldered his rifle and started out on his lonely tramp to the hills.

How he expected to live, and how he anticipated being away, is a mystery to his parents. He had never shown any wild tendencies before, but was of a studious disposition. His mother is prostrated with anxiety over the boy's absence.

"I want to know all about the country," he told his friend. "I want to know the habits of the animals and the birds, and to learn all about the trees and the streams. Then I will be able to tell where a good defense can be made, and all the good hiding places and roads for marches."

RIFLE ON SHOULDER.

Edgar is thirteen years of age, 4 feet, 10 inches in height, is dark in complexion, and has a long fresh scratch on the right cheek. When last seen he had a rifle over his shoulder, and carried a pair of field glasses. He was dressed in brown corduroy trousers, light colored shirt with blue stripes, cloth cap, and red sweater to keep him warm at night.

He said that he had some provisions with him, but did not tell his friend what they were.

ALIMONY GRANTED ESTELLA M. BALEY

Contractor Ordered to Pay His Wife $50 Monthly During Suit.

Superior Judge William H. Waste has granted to Estella M. Baley temporary alimony in the sum of $50 a month pending the disposition of her suit for a divorce from John H. Baley, an Oakland contractor and builder, whom she charges with desertion and abandonment.

Baley is also ordered to pay his wife $25 additional on the first day of September, together with $50 counsel fees for services up to the time of the trial of the case or its hearing before the court commissioner, and to enable him to comply with the court's ruling forthwith the order restraining him from raising money on his race horse, Who, either by mortgage or sale, is vacated.

In addition to her divorce suit Mrs. Baley is seeking in a separate action to recover from Mrs. Myers $10,000 as damages for alienating the affections of her husband.

Alleged Affinity Brings About Suit

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Agnes Cecile Haigh, less than seven months after she married Frederick Haigh at San Diego in 1907, on April 4 last, says she discovered he had an affinity at 1215 West Eleventh street, Los Angeles.

On the date of the discovery the couple, according to a complaint for divorce filed in the Superior Court today, lived in Los Angeles. Immediately Mrs. Haigh left the home and came here, declining to share the affections of her spouse with any other woman. She asks the court to grant her an interlocutory decree and suitable alimony for her support.

BALDWIN GIVES UP IDEA OF FLYING OVER CHANNEL

optimistic in regard to his probable success and stated that an exceedingly high wind would be all that would prevent his successful passage.

Said he: "Of course we can't count on the weather in the channel. The wind sweeps through the Heads at a great rate at times, and at others the air is so still that the conditions are ideal. If I don't go tomorrow, I shall try every morning and evening until I can get a good opportunity to fly. My machine is no experiment, as I have made many flights with it during the past three weeks."

IN CASE OF ACCIDENT.

Baldwin's machine is equipped with pontoon attachments, torpedo-shaped floats covered with oiled silk, and it is on these that he will rely to keep his frail craft afloat on the waters of the bay in case of accident.

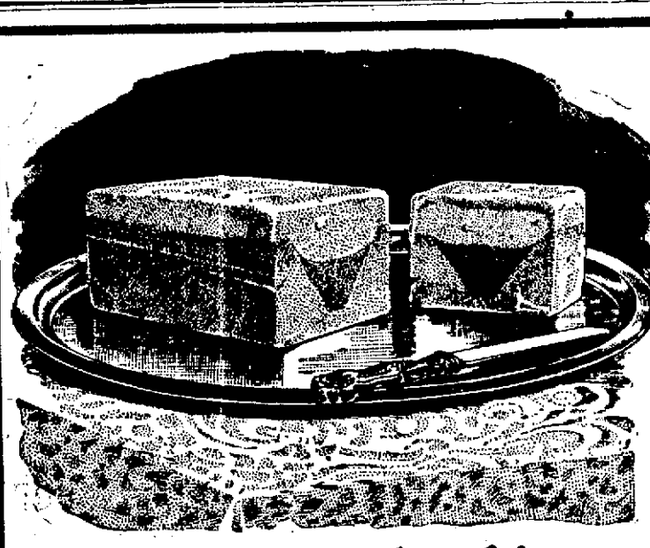
The trials will be witnessed by a large number of Army officers stationed at the various posts about the bay. Major F. Green, chief signal officer of the Department of California, who is a former commander of Baldwin, will observe the flights in order to gain information for the use of the Army signal corps.

Dirigible Makes a Long Flight

NEW YORK, August 27.—The big new dirigible Pennsylvania I, carrying Leo Stevens, the aeronaut, and two friends, landed yesterday morning in the village of South River, N. J., after having made a sixty-mile voyage from Philadelphia in the fast time of eighty minutes. The party left Philadelphia at 3:25 a. m., starting from Point Breeze. A train followed them but lost sight of the dirigible at Trenton. New York had been the goal originally decided on by the air travelers, but a stiff wind almost blew them out over Raritan bay, and the drop at South River was decided on.

In the party were Arthur T. Atherholt, president, and Convers B. Graham, also of Philadelphia. The balloon, which was built by Leo Stevens, has a capacity of 35,000 cubic feet of gas, and is the property of the Pennsylvania Aero Club, under the auspices of which the trip was planned.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS IN THE TRIBUNE PAY BIG RETURNS FOR THE MONEY INVESTED.



-The interesting history of tomorrow's dessert.

There are no finer desserts served anywhere than upon the palatial diners of the trans-continental limited train. We furnish the frozen desserts, at this end, for all of the great companies.

Within the past week we were called upon to furnish something particularly fine for a special occasion and as a consequence arranged a frozen brick in the following combination:

HAZEL NUT ICE CREAM
PINEAPPLE WATER ICE
VANILLA ICE CREAM

As the yearly contract is an important one and as the occasion was unusual and the cost of no consequence we had full liberty to make up something unusually delicious. The above was the result.

Believing our patrons to be interested in such events we arranged to make 1000 extra bricks from the same receipt and offer them as our Sunday Special tomorrow. Manufacturing them in such quantity we have been able to bring the cost down to a point that enables us to charge nothing extra for this dessert, which fact we trust you will all appreciate.

The bricks will be ready for our friends any time after 10 a. m. tomorrow.

50c for a quart brick if you call and carry it home.
80c for a quart brick if we deliver it.

'DEAR LITTLE SLOB' WRITES MAGNATE TO FAIR ONE

Mrs. French Gives Out Copper King's Letters to Prove Her Claim to Support

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Declaring that F. Augustus Heinze precipitated the panic of 1907 because Charles W. Morse and Charles T. Barney refused to lend him $1,000,000, Mrs. Lillian Lobert French fulfilled her promise in part today to make startling revelations in retaliation for the copper magnate's refusal to give her back $25,000 securities.

After a bitter denunciation of the man who has spurned her to marry an actress, she sprung the first installment of her series of sensations by telling of a secret conference between Heinze, Barney and Morse just before the crash. She told how Heinz caused the financial disturbance in order to drag down the two men who refused to help him out of his difficulties.

Incidentally Mrs. French added flavor to her revelations by introducing a sheaf of ardent love letters.

"F. Augustus Heinze knows me only slightly, does he?" she said.

"Well, he knew me well enough to write me more than 150 love letters during the twelve years I knew him, and here they are. They are addressed to 'My Dear Little Girl' and 'My Dear Little Slob' and 'My Dear Puss,' and so on."

Mrs. French, her pretty light blue eyes shooting sparks of fire, gave the letters out for publication.

"My Dear Little Slob"

A letter dated October 31, 1905, and which came from somewhere in Europe, read:

My Dear Little Slob: I have just a moment, so will send you a line. It has occurred to me that it would be rather fine for you to have some pretty pictures in your flat, and as I admire the three oil paintings by that Italian artist which we saw at A. Higgins and Settlers the day we were there together, I thought I would suggest your buying two of them. You remember they wanted $600 a piece. I think perhaps you can get them for a little less, say $400 or $450 each. You can try, anyway. If you buy them you can charge them to me and consider it as a loan. I understand one of the statues which I bought in New York was broken in my brother's house, 220 Madison avenue. The other two are at my brother's house. I am inclosing an order to Ovington Brothers to get those two statues, have you select pedestals for them and deliver them to your flat, which I think will add a lot to the beauty of your rooms and which you must also consider a loan, because when I fix up my rooms I shall possibly want them myself. * * * I hope you are getting along all right, Slobby, and taking good care of yourself. Don't run around too much and be a good girl. Lots of love.

Devotedly, F. A. H.

"My Dear Little Pussy"

A letter written from Butte, Mont., in the same year was addressed to "My Dear Little Pussy," and reads:

I expect I have received all your letters with one or two exceptions, one every day, and I look forward to getting them the first thing in the morning when I go to my office, with a great deal of pleasure. As you can imagine, I find it very lonely here without you. . . . Be sure to get yourself some pretty dresses, because, you know, I always love to see you dressed prettily. I am glad to hear you have gotten a chauffeur who can run your automobile and I have no doubt you are getting lots of fun out of it. . . . I send you lots of kisses and my best love. Yours, F. A. H.

A letter from the Hotel Regina, Paris, May 10, 1905, was addressed:

My Dear Little Girl: Your letter of July 29 reached me yesterday. I was sorry to read about the awful times you seem to be having and I am afraid the doctors are giving you the worst of it. I was amused to read that you were vexed, because you had not yet heard from me.

Regarding money, of course I could have no idea that the moment I left you you would be immediately plunged into some extraordinary expenditure of $600. I am inclosing three checks for $100 each. I do this so that you will not be under the necessity of cashing a large one all at once. I cannot tell you how sorry I feel about your trouble. Of course you must realize the doctor does not do anything to make you think less of it.

With lots of love and in the hope you will not suffer too much, yours, etc., etc. F. A. H.

Sends "Lots of Love"

On August 2, 1905, Heinze wrote from the Savoy Hotel, London:

My Dear Little Puss: Your letter of July 29 just reached me. I am awfully sorry you have had such a disagreeable experience and am very glad you have consulted another physician and so gotten the benefit of two people's views. I hope by this time the operation is O. K. performed and that you are not now and have not had to suffer much. Of course it is most unfortunate that it happens to be summer time and possibly extremely hot in New York, but accidents will happen. I note what you say about money and will send you some more later in the month, but I would not blow myself particularly. You must realize how much I sympathize with you in your trouble. . . . Keep a stiff upper lip, and with lots of love believe me, very devoutedly, F. A. HEINZE.

A letter sent from the Lucerne Club, Lucerne, Switzerland, on August 19, 1905, read:

My Dear Little Girl: For some

days now I have been looking forward to the receipt of a letter from you and I have been disappointed. I have not yet received any telling me that you had received one from me since my departure and I am almost afraid you are not receiving my letters, and maybe you are too sick to answer. I am very much worried and shall be greatly relieved when I hear from you. The fact of the matter is that the Atlantic voyage so interfered with the receipt of mail and in addition I am moving from place to place so rapidly that even when it gets over here it is quite a job to get hold of it. . . . I go direct to Cherbourg, where I will embark on the Kaiser Wilhelm II on the 30th instant. This should bring me to New York on the 4th or 5th of September. I have no idea who of my family will be at the dock and get me, nor do I know at all whether you will be able to be there. I think you had better mail a letter to my office, 31 Nassau street, telling me where you are and I will communicate with you immediately I reach the office. . . . I have had great trouble selecting something for you and have finally gotten a little pig in ivory that I think you will like. It will not be possible for you to answer this, but I will try and write you again.

With best love, sweetheart, and hoping you are not suffering too much, but rapidly improving.

Yours, etc., F. A. H.

FOREST FIRE DEAD ARE BURIED IN PIT

Tales of Horror From District Around Avery Verified by Returning Ranger.

NATIONAL GOVERNMENT WILL BE ASKED FOR AID

SPOKANE, Aug. 27.—A dispatch from St. Maries, Idaho, today says that there is no wind and the fires are being brought under control. The fire fighters in the St. Joe country are working in privately owned timber under the direction of the Coeur D'Alene Timber Protective Association. The forest service has dismissed its emergency men and sent them to Spokane.

A dispatch received from Iron Mountain from a member of the Haim party says that all are safe and uninjured.

VERIFIES ACCOUNTS.

Jesse Turner, foreman of a carpenter crew working with Ranger Debbitt at Avery, arrived in Spokane last night and verified the newspaper accounts of the destruction of life and timber near Avery. He said:

"Forest fires will not cause trouble around Avery again, for there are no forests to burn.

"The ranchers, while depressed over the loss of life, rejoice that the timber and brush has been cleared away and the land made available for agriculture.

"The story of the horrors of Big Creek can never be told, for the men who could have told it are dead. The time-keeper was burned to death with all his records. Only he knew how many men there were in his party. Men working side by side did not know the names of one another.

BURNED IN TRENCH.

"We started at Avery to make coffins for the eighteen dead men of Hollingshead's party and a squad of men was sent out to bury the bodies. The coffins were never used. All the fragments of bodies were laid in one trench and a board was erected at its head with a card placed on it saying:

"Eighteen men lay here."

The Spokane city council adopted a resolution last night asking the National Government to render assistance to the thousands of persons made homeless and helpless by the fires.

TRUSTEES DECIDE PRINCIPAL MUST LEAVE

'FOR GOOD OF INSTITUTION' IS GIVEN AS THE CAUSE

The Attorney-General Drafts Resolutions of Dismissal; Adopted by Officials.

DR. C. C. VAN LIEW, who was dismissed from the presidency of the State Normal School.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 27.—The conference of the Chico State Normal School trustees, presided over by Governor Gillett and held in the Governor's office yesterday afternoon, closed with the unanimous adoption of a resolution summarily removing Charles C. Van Liew from the presidency of the institution. While the vote was unanimous, the two trustees who had voted to exonerate him at the close of the recent investigation into the charges preferred against him by Miss Ada Clark, submitted a written statement setting forth their versions for voting in favor of his removal.

RESOLUTION OF REMOVAL.

The resolution removing Van Liew, which was prepared and submitted to the trustees by Attorney General Webb, who attended the meeting at the request of the Governor, reads as follows:

Whereas, It appears and is found to be a fact by the board of trustees of the State Normal School, located at Chico, State of California, that it is and will be for the best interest of said school that Charles C. Van Liew, the president thereof, be removed from such position as president; and,

Whereas, It appears to and is found to be a fact by the said board of trustees that good and sufficient cause exists for the removal of said Charles C. Van Liew from the position of president of said school;

Now, therefore, be it resolved, that Charles C. Van Liew be and he is hereby removed from the position of president of the State Normal School at Chico, State of California, good and sufficient cause therefore existing, said position of president of the State Normal School at Chico is hereby declared vacant.

(Signed)
J. N. GILLETT.
F. J. O'BRIEN.
EDWARD HYATT.
CLIFFORD COGGINS.
J. F. CAMPBELL.
FRANK M. RUTHERFORD.

Following is the statement submitted by Trustees Coggins and Campbell when voting:

"In casting my vote I do so simply and solely with the best interests of the Chico State Normal School in mind. I believe now, as I believed at the time of the acquittal of Dr. Van Liew that he was and is innocent of the charges laid against him. But the publicity of the trial and the scandal connected therewith, in my judgment, will injure the school if no change is made in the presidency.

"Therefore, believing that it is for the best interest of the school that a change be made, I vote aye, at the same time recognizing that Dr. Van Liew is one of the most prominent and best equipped educators in the State of California.

(Signed) J. F. CAMPBELL,
CLIFFORD COGGINS."

MAY SUE STATE.

Whether Van Liew will bring suit against the State to recover what salary he claims to be due him under an alleged contract for a year's time, if not yet known. It is authoritatively asserted that Van Liew has no written contract which can be produced in court to fortify his claim. But in anticipation of a suit being brought, it was deemed prudent by Governor Gillett that the resolution of dismissal should be drafted by the Attorney-General.

Among the candidates to fill the vacancy created by Van Liew's removal are the following:

H. A. Adrian, formerly city superintendent of schools, Santa Barbara.
J. H. Hann, high school principal, Nevada City.
Prof. Maxwell Adams, University of Nevada, Reno, Nev.
Wilberforce F. Bliss, San Diego.
C. L. Biedenbach, principal McKinley school, Berkeley.
Cree T. Work, Denton, Texas.
Dr. F. B. Dressler, University of Alabama, formerly of the University of California.
Prof. Harry Shafer, University of Pittsburg.
J. H. Ackerman, state superintendent of schools, Oregon.
J. F. West, normal school, San Diego.
Allison Ware, San Francisco.
Fred W. Sanders, Riverside.
A. W. Stamper, city superintendent of schools, Chico.
Alex B. Coffey, professor in the University of Louisiana, Baton Rouge.
W. T. Randall, former president, University of Southern California, Los Angeles.

MAY SUCCEED VAN LIEW.

ALAMEDA, August 27.—Will C. Wood, superintendent of the Alameda schools, candidate for president of the State Norman school, and may succeed Dr. Van Liew, recently deposed president of the institution. The salary of the office is $4000 a year.

Superintendent Wood succeeded Fred Moore as superintendent of the Alameda schools and has occupied the office satisfactorily for two years. Under his regime the local schools have attained a standard of excellence never before reached.

Superintendent Wood has applied for the position in the State Normal school, and it is thought that he will be the likely successor of Van Liew.

CHIEF MARTIN AROUSED BY CHARGE OF GRAFT

MONGOL SUSPECT'S TALE STARTLES AUTHORITIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—A wide-reaching and careful investigation was begun this morning by Chief of Police Martin into the charge that protection money was being paid in Chinatown.

"I intend to leave no stone unturned in an inquiry as to the truth or falsity of the charge that Chinese gamblers are paying money into a corruption fund to prevent the police and district attorney from arresting them for violations of the law," said Chief Martin. "There will be a rigid, strict investigation. Sergeant Layne has been given all power to go ahead and stamp out violations of the law. I am inclined to think that there is nothing to the rumor of hush money being paid, but I intend to know for certain."

HING LEE'S STORY.

Yesterday a Chinese named Hing Lee was arrested by Layne because of reports that he was collecting money from the gamblers to silence the police. He was brought before Martin and Fickert, but released because there was no evidence against him, it is claimed.

District Attorney Fickert was interviewed at his office this morning in connection with the report and made the following statement:

"I was not called into consultation yesterday by Chief Martin, but happened to visit his office when this man was brought before him.

SUSPECT RELEASED.

"There was nothing tangible on which to hold him and he was released. We have been investigating affairs in Chinatown for some time. There have been rumors of money being paid or rather of it being demanded, and we have been endeavoring to run them down. I shall continue to exercise due vigilance in the Chinese quarter."

ESPIONAGE SYSTEM OF BURNS IS LAID BARE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—The supporters of Dr. E. B. Perrin in the present investigation before United States Senator Stone at the Fairmont Hotel, this morning began the interrogation of detectives employed during the trial of the doctor for participation in the land frauds. S. B. Priest, one of the four detectives who assisted "Gum Shoe" Burns in his espionage of the jury told of his following Jurors Dillon and Leake.

In response to questions he said he did not think either of the men knew that he was on their trail. He told how he shadowed them to their homes and places of business and of the acquaintances they met and talked to.

E. G. Borden was examined this morning as to a conversation he held with Juror F. A. Wright.

ENTERS DENIAL.

Several days ago J. W. Parmelee, a detective, testified that he thought Borden had told Wright he was being shadowed while the two were talking in a saloon.

The witness denied this and stated that he was not sure he knew the juror but that he might have been drinking at the bar.

L. S. Williams, Perrin's private secretary, was questioned as to whether he knew that Devlin had written a letter to the Department of Justice at Washington admitting that Perrin was convicted solely on Snell's testimony. Williams denied knowing for certain about the letter and his evidence was something of a disappointment to Attorney Henley. The session will be resumed Monday.

PLAN BOOST FOR CITY AUDITORIUM

Progress and Prosperity Committee to Start Endless Argument Chain.

With a view to arousing interest in the auditorium project, which is to be voted upon at the coming bond election, the suggestion was made last night at a meeting of the Progress and Prosperity committee in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, that an endless chain of argument in favor of the plan be started.

The suggestion, which was made to the auditorium committee by Chairman Charles Gorman, is that each member of the committee enlist two men, who in turn will enlist two others, etc., in boosting for the project.

A motion was also made at the meeting to have a number of Alameda county representatives go on an excursion to the State Fair at Sacramento on Alameda county day. The details of the excursion will be arranged by a committee of which F. E. Reed is chairman. The date for Alameda county day at the fair has not been set. The excursion will probably travel over the Western Pacific and make stops at Stockton and other places en route.

Chairman Gorman called attention to the approaching election of officers to be held next Friday night. O. F. Olsen was elected a member of the Progress and Prosperity committee and F. N. Hanrahan was reinstated.

Espie Still Dodges Oakland Authorities

When Judge Everett J. Brown again called the case against George E. Espie, charged with making an assault upon Margaret Silva, a minor girl, this morning, in the criminal department of the superior court, the district attorney's office reported that all efforts to locate the defendant, who jumped his cash bond of $500, had been unavailing. The court continued the matter until Monday to give the authorities more time to search for Espie.

Rev. George Adams Stricken by Illness

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Rev. George C. Adams, pastor of the First Congregational church of this city, is seriously ill at his home in Mill Valley, suffering from an sudden attack of heart trouble. Professor Nash of the Theological Seminary of Berkeley has been engaged to fill the pulpit tomorrow.

STORE ROBBED TWICE.

SALINAS, Aug. 27.—For the second time in a period of three weeks the A. Widemann company's store in King City has been robbed. Sheriff Nesbitt is of the opinion that it is the work of an authorized gang of thieves who are operating in the small towns of the coast region.

BOOSTS EXPANSION OF SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Councilman Albert H. Elliott of Oakland spoke on "Greater San Francisco" at a dinner given by the Young People's Society of Bethany Presbyterian Church, on Bartlett street. He said in part: "Everything at the present is managed by consolidation and combination. By combining San Francisco and Oakland we can reduce administration expenses, stop many useless expenditures and give to the citizen the best for his money. All about us are little, petty towns, divided in their interests, which would be better maintained by consolidation. All things contiguous are advantaged by having a common head, and though the bay cities are geographically not contiguous, in effect they are. The bay is not a line of demarkation, but a bond uniting all its cities; it does not separate the people, it brings them together. All the bay people have common pursuits and a common destiny, and their towns should be united under one administrative head."

The speaker cited the fact that he was an Oaklander, living in that city, though he was born in San Francisco and earns his living here and was educated at Berkeley. "To which of these," said he, "do I owe my allegiance?

"London was originally many little municipalities; so was New York. For economy, consistency and justice each has gathered its small parts together, with the successful results we all know of. Our towns will not lose their identity. We all register from San Francisco when we travel."

He closed by saying that much of the narrow-mindedness in both Oakland and San Francisco was the main and immediate proventive of the greater San Francisco.

Millionaire Accused of Insanity by Wife

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27.—Charge of insanity were preferred yesterday against Edward F. Woestman, a Pasadena millionaire, by his wife, Henrietta C. Woestman, and the hearing before Judge Cole of Imperial, sitting for Judge Bordwell, was continued for thirty days. In the meantime Woestman will go to a sanitarium at Livermore, Cal.

According to the evidence Woestman has been under the influence of liquor recently and has been abusive, which caused his wife to bring the charges. Judge Cole forbid Woestman, during his stay at the sanitarium, to transfer any of his property to his wife and only allowed her the necessary expenses to run her home. Woestman was represented by Millsap & Sparks.

Intemperance Alleged in Woman's Answer

In the suit brought in the superior court by Thomas Sutliffe, a tobaccomist, for a divorce from Agnes D. Sutliffe, on the ground of desertion, the latter, in her answer and cross-complaint just filed asks that the decree be awarded to her on the ground of habitual intemperance. All of the papers in the case are under seal.

PROHIBITION CLUB NAMES DELEGATES

Any Member Attending Convention Sanctioned As an Official Representative.

A resolution sanctioning any member attending the State convention at San Jose as a regular delegate, was passed at a meeting of the Woman's Prohibition Club of Alameda county, held in the parlors of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, South, yesterday afternoon.

Members of various clubs around the bay were represented and discussions along the lines of interest to those working for the abolition of the liquor traffic were in order. The Rev. Dr. Moore, pastor of the Thirty-fourth Street Methodist Church presided.

At the State convention, to be held in San Jose, reports of the work accomplished during the past year by the various branches of the organization will be submitted and a program of prominent speakers from all parts of the West has been arranged. Upwards of five hundred delegates are expected to be in attendance.

COST HIM $1000 MONTH FOR LIQUOR

Mrs. Turner Declares That Husband Spent Amount; Seeks Divorce.

Laban Turner spent $2000 for liquor in May and June of the same year, according to Christena A. Turner's complaint for a divorce, filed in the superior court, in which she charges this extravagance against her husband as one of the numerous alleged cruelties he has inflicted upon her during their marital career.

Mrs. Turner was very ill on one occasion and she tells the court that when she asked her husband to get her some cracked ice for her parched throat he gave her some broken glass. She cut her lips with it badly before discovering what Turner had done.

The complaint also sets forth that frequently Turner forced her out of the house at night when she was clad only in her night gown.

Civil War Veteran Dies Across the Bay

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27. — Charles M. Leavy, 71 years of age, veteran of the Civil War and one of the oldest members of the G. A. R., died at his home, 2727 Pacific street, last night after a long illness.

He was a native of Germany and came to this country when still a young man. He entered the Union army, coming to California after receiving his discharge, where he established the firm of Leavy & Bro., tobacco dealers.

Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made, but it is probable that services will be held Monday under the auspices of the G. A. R.

He leaves a wife and the following children: Franklin M., Leonard S., Clarence M., Mrs. F. E. Baum, widow of F. E. Baum, late member of Parliament at Auckland, New Zealand Mrs. Selby Oppenheimer and the Misses Edith and Nanette Leavy.

THREE GIRLS

THREE GIRLS NEAR DEATH IN OCEAN

LONG BEACH, Aug. 27. — Three summer girls—Miss Irene Adams of Chicago, Miss Myrtle Keaston of Long Beach and Miss Mamie James of El Paso—today owe their lives to the bravery of Wallace Hauk, a waiter, who plunged into the surf and saved the girls from drowning after they had fallen into a "jump off" in the water.

The girls ventured too near some old pilings in front of the Hotel Virginia, which was left standing after an old pier had been torn away. The "jump off" was around these pilings, caused by the washing of the tides. Suddenly all three lost their footing and began to sink. Hauk was the only bather near enough to hear the girls' screams. He swam to their assistance and carried them one by one to shore. Miss Feaston, the last to be rescued, was sinking the second time when taken to shore.

JOHN A. SHEEHAN DIES SUDDENLY

Veteran Editor Was Known by Many in Oakland and Berkeley.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 27.—John A. Sheehan, a veteran newspaper man of this city, who was for a number of years connected with papers in San Francisco, died today at his home in this city after an illness of several weeks' duration. Sheehan worked his way through the University of California by selling newspapers in Oakland. He was editor of the Sunday News and was 53 years old at the time of his death. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Olive Cope, of San Francisco.

New Morning Paper to Appear in Week

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27. — Announcement was made today that the San Francisco Sun, a new morning paper, will make its initial appearance September 3. Henry J. Bartlett will be general manager, James Stuart, business manager and H. A. Dunn, managing editor. Dunn is a San Francisco newspaperman and was formerly connected with papers in San Francisco, Chicago and New York. In politics the Sun will be Democratic in State and national affairs.

The Sun will be the first penny paper in the morning field on the Pacific Coast.

Capitalist Is Thrown in Street Runaway

Frightened by a passing car, a horse driven by E. L. Blackman, capitalist and lumber dealer of the annexed district, ran away last night and in turning a corner threw Blackman from the buggy. The horse was stopped by Officer Schmidt of the Melrose station, and returned uninjured to Blackman, who resides at 481 East Fourteenth street.

Gigantic Salute May Bring Rain

SEATTLE, Wash., August 27.—Timbermen, conservation advocates and forestry officials are bending every effort to stay the fires which are working their way through the fir forests in Western Washington, hoping that within the next twenty-four hours President Taft will have instructed the War Department to co-operate with the navy in firing a gigantic salute to the rain god and bring about a storm that will thoroughly drench the blazing mountainsides.

Already one life has been lost in the country east of Seattle. An unidentified workman was killed yesterday near North Bend by the premature explosion of a charge of dynamite being placed to throw up earth works to block the progress of the fire.

CABINS ARE BURNED.

Reports are constantly being received of the destruction of settlers' cabins and buildings on the outskirts of the mountain towns. The fire fighters fear that unless rain falls soon they will be unable to prevent the destruction of some of the finest bodies of standing timber in the state, to say nothing of the loss of many improvements and the increasing danger to human life.

The city's electric pole line from Monoton to Seattle and the Cedar river pipe lines from Cedar Lake to Seattle are safe.

PIPE LINE SAVED.

The pipe from Cedar Lake to the power station at Monoton was saved from a disastrous fire at Camp 2 by a hard fight. There the big stave pipe crossed several gullies on wooded trestlings. It was bored full of inch holes and the leakage force of water kept the trestling and pipe saturated and unscathed during the worst of the blaze.

Railroad communication on the Northern Pacific branch between Barnaston and Kerriston is impossible because of three burned bridges and giant trees which have been toppled by the fires across the tracks.

Pall of Smoke Hides Mountains

TUCSON, Ariz., Aug. 27.—A heavy pall of smoke that evidently drifted down from the forest fires in the northwest hid the mountains surrounding this city all day yesterday. It was the first time in the memory of pioneers that the big hills have been blotted off the horizon. Even the Santa Catalina range, fifteen miles distant, was obscured. The atmosphere during the day was exceedingly oppressive, the heated air bearing a heavy odor of smoke. The sultry weather reminded inhabitants of the last earthquake and some of the more impressionable expressed fears of a repetition of the temblor.

Fire Breaks Out In Targhee Forest

OGDEN, Utah, August 27.—District Forester R. E. Sherman, whose jurisdiction extends over the southern part of Idaho, received a message today from the supervisor of the Targhee forest that a fire of huge proportions had broken out near Island Park, on the Yellowstone Park branch of the Oregon Short Line.

It spread rapidly through the dry grass on the edge of the forest and soon presented a fire line miles in extent, working back into the heart of the timber belt.

The railroad officials at Pocatello have ordered a crew of 150 men to proceed on a special train to the scene. These will reinforce 100 men who have been drawn from the forest service of this district.

The Stinkpot Invasion of the Council.

While the proposed Southern Pacific lease or franchise was under consideration by the City Council Thursday night E. P. E. Troy, a professional agitator from San Francisco, interjected himself into the proceedings and ranted around in the fashion that has made him a familiar nuisance across the bay for a dozen years past. Why the Council should have permitted this noisy, impudent blackguard to intrude upon their deliberations passes comprehension. He does not live in Oakland and has no interests here. He belongs to San Francisco, and ninety-nine out of every hundred San Franciscans would subscribe to a fund to ship him to the North Pole. He pretends to be a lawyer, but he has no practice and seeks notoriety by interrupting the proceedings of public bodies. For two or three years past he has been reviling everybody and everything connected with the city government of Oakland and the county government of Alameda, using an obscure weekly in San Francisco to give publicity to his diatribes This pestilent blackguard finally had the audacity to invade the council chamber and discharge himself of a hoodlum tirade. Why he was not promptly ejected passes comprehension. Why a vociferous loafer of Troy's type should be tolerated is a mystery. He simply came in from another town to make an uproar and advertise himself as an agitator and obstructionist. Troy is regarded as a public nuisance in San Francisco. He is an interloper in Oakland—a meddlesome, venomous vagrant without standing in the community or warrant to interfere in the public concerns of this city. The Council should never again permit him to thrust his malodorous presence upon their official deliberations He combines the manners of an ape with the vocabulary of a costermonger, and is a sort of human polecat who is formidable only because his touch is defilement and his presence an affliction

The Chico Normal School has at last been relieved of the incubus of Dr. Van Liew. Clinging to his position with defiant desperation despite the knowledge that he was strangling the institution as an educational and moral influence, Van Liew has finally been dislodged, utterly discredited The questionable vindication given him by a partisan majority of the board of trustees has turned to dead sea ashes. It has not saved him from dismissal and has merely aggravated the popular contempt in which he is held. Had he resigned as he should have done, and would have done had he possessed fine sensibilities or had any proper conception of his moral responsibility to the public, he would have done much to atone for his shortcomings and have gone far toward regaining the good opinion he forfeited by his conduct. But he chose to play a part that heightened popular indignation and increased the public contempt in which he was held. He hung on till he was kicked out. By doing so he will be enabled to claim about $3000 of salary he did not earn, but he retires from the presidency of the Chico Normal School despised and discredited in the eyes of a vast majority of the people of California.

Perhaps it is only excessive modesty that prevents Colonel Roosevelt from copyrighting the Ten Commandments

Atlanta is not complaining about her showing in the census The population for 1910 foots up 154,839, as against 89,872 in 1900 —a gain of 72.3 per cent Unless Memphis can make a better showing Atlanta will take second place in the South Atlantic group of cities, being only surpassed by New Orleans. Louisville, which promises to overtake Cincinnati in the near future, is not classed in the South Atlantic group, but is charged to the Middle West. Each decade Cincinnati drops further behind in relative importance. Cleveland and Buffalo passed her in 1900 and in 1910 Detroit and Milwaukee go up ahead of her. Louisville and Indianapolis are coming hard after and Kansas City claims precedence Of all the large eastern cities thus far announced Detroit has made the greatest percentage of gain. She is now in the half-million class, not so far behind Cleveland. Columbus has spurted ahead of Toledo and Dayton has climbed into the 100,000 class.

Bryan's second attempt to make the Nebraska Democracy take the water cure has failed. Cowboy Jim Dahlman has defeated Shallenbarger, Bryan's candidate for Governor, in the primaries, and will head the Bourbon ticket in November.

Colonel Roosevelt still keeps the political wiseacres guessing. Not once in the speeches delivered since he started out from Oyster Bay has he aligned himself with either the insurgents or the regulars. He receives regulars and insurgents with equal cordiality. At one place in Iowa he is introduced by Congressman Walter I. Smith, one of Uncle Joe's stoutest supporters in the House, and then holds a long confab on the train with Senator Cummins, the insurgent leader in the Hawkeye State. It is announced that he is going to Virginia to say a word in behalf of Congressman Slemp, the lone Republican from the Old Dominion, who is under hot fire for standing by Uncle Joe and the House rules Speaker Cannon is also going to the help of his friend and supporter. The only thing we do know is that Colonel Roosevelt has declared war on the Woodruff-Barnes machine in New York It is a fight the whole country will watch with interest and impartiality.

It is stated that Vice-President Sherman will retire from politics at the close of his present term. The announcement will be music to Roosevelt's sun-burned ear.

The Republican county convention denied the Alameda district, the Forty-seventh, the right to name its delegates to the State convention Delegates to the State convention are apportioned by Assembly districts, and it has hitherto been the practice to allow each district to name its own delegates. But the Lincoln-Roosevelt League has no compunction about overriding precedent and trampling under foot the rights of minorities. Had the regulars been guilty of the partisan injustice committed by the Alameda county convention the whole State would have rung with the story of the outrage. But it happens that the Lord's anointed are the persecutors in this instance, and hence it is a pious duty to say amen to as rank and unfair a political job as was ever pulled off in California.

The Journeyman Barber says there ought to be a tax on safety razors. This suggestion fails to meet the demands of the situation. Every man who shaves himself should be compelled to pay a license for working at the barber's, trade, and then the Labor Council should boycott him for violating union rules. The man who uses a safety razor must be made to understand that this a free country. Hush!

FIVE-FOOT BOOK SHELF

Dr Charles William Eliot's famous "five-foot shelf of books," heralded far and wide as being the quintessence of the world's classical literature, was abandoned yesterday on limited trains operated by the Burlington Railroad

The famous library will be displaced by another library of books, largely modern, which the railroad's officials think make a more direct and hearty appeal to the modern traveler's mind

The Burlington Railroad has been experimenting with the "five-foot shelf of books" for over a year. The library was installed on the limited trains last summer. The classical works retained the gloss of their newness as winter rolled around, and O L Dickeson, member of President Miller's staff, personally investigated to what extent they were being taken from their shelves in the cars by passengers

Then he set about selecting a new library

The Eliot library was chosen for installation on Burlington cars by Daniel Willard now president of the Baltimore & Ohio but at that time vice president of the Burlington Mr Willard is a "bookworm" of repute in railroad circles, and naturally turned to the serious selection made by Dr Eliot when the furnishing of the car libraries was brought up Mr. Willard, however added the Bible to the list made up by Dr Eliot The Bible was later stolen from the cars and has not been replaced —Chicago Tribune

THE HAT TIP TRUST

The hat-tip trust? Yes, verily; even so. The coat-room tip business is as highly organized as any of which the public is aware With two or three exceptions, all of the large hotels and restaurants in New York, for example, farm out the "coat-room privilege" to the hat-tip trust. The trust is embodied in an elusive, reticent little man with an office near the "Great White Way" He pays the innkeepers well for the privilege, hires the hat-boys, and pays their wages They surrender all their tips to the trust's "captain."

But how can the trust be sure of getting all the money?

That is easy; he has no trouble at all. He may lose a few dimes a day on a boy, but the boy can not keep it up. It is not half so easy beating this system as it is for a street-car conductor (on a car of the ordinary type) to "knock down" fares with his car full of spotters

In the first place, the exploiter of tips furnishes the uniform. He charges his employes only two dollars a month for wearing them They are made to his special order, and there is not a pocket in them. That fancy gold braid you see where pockets ought to be is only a gilded pretense. There is no pocket there. But the boys used to beat that. They used to slip an occasional dime inside their collar and allow it to work its way down inside their underclothing into their shoes. But the trust boss stopped all that. He makes them wear knee-length running-trunks. Now they are all honest. They turn over every cent to the captain as soon as it is handed them They get six dollars a week for serving the tip-trust and collecting the tips from the patrons of the houses where he works them.—New York Sun.

HE DIED POOR

The late David Ranken Jr., the St. Louis philanthropist, held opinions regarding man's usefulness to society of which Ruskin would have approved He thought a bricklayer more valuable to the community than an educated idler, and ranked the shoemaker, the glazier and the iron-molder "alongside the farmer and the merchant in the long army of honest workmen."

Mr Ranken's gift of $3,000,000 to found a trade school was not a large benefaction as millionaire donations now go But in reserving only $3000 a year from his fortune for his personal use and living simply in a small flat he gave an example of voluntarily "dying poor," in fact, which showed a rare consistency.—New York World

AMERICA'S GREAT LUXURY "JAG"

America's luxury imports are astounding If the fiscal year of 1910 were the first season of this mania, we would declare ourselves on one whooping "jag" and try to sleep it off. But while 1910 eclipsed all other years, it is great only in degree, and is due to be put in the shade by 1911 and 1912. America has gone luxury mad, and this abnormal taste is largely for foreign products. Not counting such luxurious imports and exports as titled husbands and noodle-pated heiresses, nor that greater luxury of foreign travel, we paid $250 000 000 last year for diamonds laces, wines, tobaccos, jewelry and other articles that belong solely to the rich In this amazing total it has been figured that we can find the surest evidence of fully returned prosperity, but the figures seem to us to suggest only a few deeper draughts of that which made the intoxication, and a surer and swifter spurt for the next financial flurry The whole atmosphere is that surrounding a drunken sailor, which is rosy in vice until his hard-earned wages have been spent and the leering proprietor or the dive kicks him outside, where he must begin labor again

We bought last year diamonds and precious stones for which we were charged $48,000 000 Nearly one-third of the Southern African product of the De Beers interests is shipped to America. In laces and embroideries, our imports reached $46,000 000, which deck our fair ones Men had to put in a small item of $37,000,000 for cigars and tobacco, to get into the running, and the $23,000,000 in wines and liquors imported was divided between the sexes, man, let us hope, getting the major portion

What comfort any student of political economy can draw from this prospect is beyond comprehension. Even the $21,000,000 paid for art works, at the stupidly absurd figures which Americans offer, has barely more of a healthful tone.—New York Evening Telegram.

JUST A MINUTE.

A Little World.

It's a little world, my brothers, for the man who has to flee,
There is not a nook within it where he may, in safety rest,
Though he seek the farthest mountain and ascend it stealthily,
Someone there will know the secret he is hiding in his breast.

It's a little world, my brothers, for the man who wants to pose,
There is not a safe place in it, wheresoever he may roam,
And it matters not how distant or to what extent he goes,
There is someone there to tell them what they think of him at home.

GOTHAM AND CHICAGO WAYS

Harley Livingston of Chicago came to town the other day His conversation consisted largely of unpleasant comment upon the manners of New York, thereby reminding his acquaintances of the standard story of O Henry The novelist, you may remember was hurrying along the street one day when he was run into by a man who was walking along, his head turned over his shoulder

"I beg your pardon," said Henry, "but really you ought to look where you're going"

"If I did I wouldn't go—in New York," said the other with an acid smile.

"Ah," said Henry. "And how are the folks in Chicago?"

Well, Livingston, being hungry and in a hurry, was escorted into a help-yourself lunch by one of his friends. They walked to the counter and loaded themselves with eatables and then sought adjoining chairs. Mr Livingston called his friend's attention to a man who got up, took off his hat, and left it in the chair while he walked away.

"What's he doing that for?" asked Livingston.

"That," said his New York friend, "is his way of reserving his chair. He is on his way to the counter for more provender While his hat is there, no one would think of taking his chair."

"They wouldn't take it in Chicago, either," said the indignant Livingston. "That's a live town. They'd take the hat."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

GOSSIP FROM SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

Annette Kellerman's Rival.

We have been regaled during the past month with several stories of the natatorial prowess of the fair maids who have been contributing to the excitement of the summer colony at Santa Barbara. In the columns of the newspapers these mermaids of the Potter have been credited with feats which seem to make them fit candidates for a race across the English Channel, but I take leave to state that there is a little girl in San Francisco who can outswim them all I say this on very respectable authority, the authority of Miss Annette Kellerman. The girl in question is Miss Dorothy Eaton, the fourteen-year old daughter of Louis Eaton the well-known organist of Trinity Church. Miss Eaton and Miss Kellerman gave an exhibition at Sutro's Baths a few mornings ago to a select gathering which included Dr Clampett, the rector of Trinity. It was worth the price of admission and a great deal more The mature professional swimmer and the girlish amateur indulged in feats of diving long-distance swimming and water-wrestling which excited the admiration of all who had the good fortune to be present At the conclusion of the exhibition Miss Kellerman told her friends that she had never seen a girl of Miss Eaton's tender years who was such a mistress of the water and she predicted that her young antagonist would grow up to be a world's champion Miss Eaton is as pretty as she is graceful and as becomes the daughter of one of our best musicians is as accomplished in other respects as she is in swimming. —Town Talk

This Rule Should Be Amended.

There is a rule existing upon the local ferry-boats, imposed by railroad authorities, which causes a great deal of wholly needless annoyance and inconvenience, and should be either amended or revoked altogether, and a more reasonable one substituted It is the rule that not more than four automobiles shall be permitted upon a ferry-boat at each trip

The rule was instituted many years ago, when automobiles had not reached their present stage of perfection The early machines were often crudely fitted for the gasoline they carried, and not only emitted a strong and objectionable odor, but often dripped their gasoline and grease in their wake They were not always entirely safe from explosion or fire, either. Under such conditions, it was the part of wisdom, or at least a justifiable precaution, to limit the number of automobiles upon a single ferry-boat to four

But these conditions have all been entirely changed The modern automobile is as unobjectionable as a baby carriage It does not drip gasoline or other oil it emits no objectionable odor, and it is safer from explosion than the boilers of the ferry-boat itself. There is no rational objection whatever to the automobile itself nowadays, the only limit that might be reasonably placed upon the number to be carried being measured by the deck-room of the boat With our large transbay ferry-boats there is no reason whatsoever why at least eight automobiles should not be carried on each ferry-boat trip.

This old, anachronistic, moth-eaten rule calls for a change, to bring it up to date and make it sensible —News Letter

A Plunger's Superstition.

The late Ed Purser once a prominent plunger on the turf and like most sporting men, superstitious One night Benny Benjamin sporting editor of the Chronicle was entertaing a jolly group of acquaintances in his "Attic" on Montgomery street In the company were Guy Barham, the Los Angeles politician, Minnie Seligman, the actress, then playing a stirring engagement at the Grand Opera House, Purser handsome, debonair and a good story teller, Madame Neergaard the blonde and piquant pianist, and a few others Benny had an epicurean supper for his guests cooked by himself Conversation was brisk and brilliant During the progress of the hours Madame Neergaard was asked to read Purser's hand The palmist told the plunger that he would meet with a serious financial reverse, and drew a gloomy picture of his future The other guests laughed and jested over the "prophecies" seen in their palms but for the remainder of the evening Purser could not recover his spirits About two years ago, by a reversal of fortune Purser found himself blind and helpless at a local hotel which was run by a former newspaper acquaintance Between himself and poverty the former favorite of fate had only a hundred dollar bill A bellboy stole the bill from the blind man and the turf man was left without a cent Some of the former plunger's intimates were made acquainted with his plight, and they came to his aid. They sent him to the Blind Institute at Berkeley, later having him removed to the Ukiah State Hospital, where he died the other day At one prosperous period of his career he was a favorite with some of the younger members of the Burlingame set—The Wasp

The Rev Jordan of Jerseyville, Ill, is said to be studying the methods of his village newspaper to acquire the secret of making what is known as "vivid copy"—something that will force the most blase reader to sit up and take notice. When the Rev Jordan shall have mastered the coveted art of the journalistic penny-a-liner he will display his skill in the pulpit by the compelling power of his sermons, pull the backsliders of Jerseyville out of their worldly resorts and into the kirk which ordinarily repels them. It is to be hoped that familiarity with the inside of a newspaper office will impress the reverend exegist with the importance of news Even the village journal of Jerseyville would hardly keep its millions or so of subscribers if it came out in every issue with nothing changed but the date.—The Wasp

De Leveaga Will Case.

Society has watched with keen interest the De Leveaga will contest, and the newspapers have given the usual accounts of the proceedings, but only those who have a howdy-do acquaintance with Spanish have appreciated the delicious flavor that pervades Judge Coffey's chambers when the contest is on the calendar. It is that subtle Castilian aroma which all California writers have at one time or another tried to distill in their inkpots, that unsophisticated, ingenuous, yet withal haughty air that obtained before the Gringo came Mrs. Andrew Welch, who belongs to the family, is a member of the exclusive Burlingame set, and some of her intimates have made pilgrimages with her to the court room. Here is a scene described by a young girl who knows her Spanish well Judge Coffey's own family tree roots down deeply into the rich Castilian soil, and his acquaintance with the good old Spanish families is very extensive Spanish dames called as witnesses know nothing of the conventions of the court This particular day a witness answered question after question in prettily broken English After a wearing hour she turned to Judge Coffey and said in Spanish, "Something tells me that he is trying to confuse me—such impertinence!" She thought she was the Christopher Columbus of the nefarious practices lawyers have and she acquainted the Judge with the discovery that the lawyer was trying to confuse her in the most delightfully ingenious fashion.

Another Spanish grand dame was called to the witness chair She is on visiting terms with the Coffeys For an hour or more she bore the questioning with serene grace, then grew visibly impatient "Really, you must excuse me" she said to the lawyer "I grow tired" then turning to Judge Coffey, she said in Spanish "We shall meet as usual at dinner on Saturday night until then, adios!" The Judge, with the grace that came of an understanding of her people had to tell her that witnesses could not thus dismiss themselves —News Letter

No Snub for the Countess of Granard.

The Countess of Granard is coming to this city and the leaders of the Burlingame set are making arrangements to entertain her This is interesting and throws me into a reminiscent mood The Countess of Granard, as everybody knows is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Ogden Mills and the granddaughter of the late D O Mills Mrs Ogden Mills was a Miss Livingstone and cherishes a deep conviction that the blue blood which flows in her veins is of a very superior quality. The Livingstones have one of those very rare and awe-inspiring things, a Pedigree Mrs Mills is exceedingly proud of that pedigree and lives up to it She not only knows it by heart but can calculate to a nicety just what degree of exclusiveness is imposed upon her by its various ramifications On a certain memorable occasion Mrs Mills nee Livingstone made the statement—or at least is credited with having made the statement—that she would not sit down to the table with a San Francisco woman because there are no ladies in San Francisco The remark of course was meant in a genealogical sense Mrs Mills was thinking of her pedigree when she made it, the ultra-blue blood of the Livingstones was coursing spiritedly through her veins at the time Of course we all know that pedigrees are none too common in San Francisco Most of our family trees are twigs Just the same the remark was exceedingly resented here It cut deeply and has not been forgotten But San Francisco society is charitable and does not assume the biblical prerogative of visiting the sins of the mother on the daughter So when the Countess of Granard comes to San Francisco she will be received with the nearest approach to an open-arm welcome that strict social usage will permit Miss Jennie Crocker is a relative of hers and for the sake of the Crockers if for no other reason, the snub of Mrs Mills will be ignored —Town Talk

The Pope and Fashionable Dress.

At one of the smart social gatherings this week a lady well known in the exclusive corral of society filled in a gap in the conversation by remarking that Pope Pius had denounced the prevailing fashions in woman's dress There was quite a flutter of interest over this until a very beautiful matron who is known to be a devout communicant of the Catholic church declared that she did not think the despatch carrying the statement could be true "It is exceedingly rare," she said, "for the Pope to interfere in such ephemeral matters The Pope through his chamberlain regulates the dress of all, both men and women, who seek audience but otherwise I have never heard of either the present pontiff or Pope Leo trying to influence fashions The Vatican is too busy with the cure of souls to care much about feminine clothes As a matter of fact the church is exceedingly reasonable about such matters Those who know about a recent order in regard to the wearing of scapulars—something of course which concerns Catholics only—realize this The order was made solely for the accommodation of ladies But even if it is true that the Pope has condemned certain fashions it does not follow that Catholic women will discard them They will receive his admonitions with respect and continue to dress according to the dictates of their own taste. Nobody will ever dream of accusing them of not being orthodox on that account" All of which seems to me eminently sensible —Town Talk.

A Family Affair.

Mr and Mrs. Dario Orena and their interesting family, are spending the summer at their ranch, Los Alamo They will return to their home in Los Angeles about the first of September. The wedding of their second daughter, Miss Anita Virginia, and Wilson Dibblee, will take place in the very near future. It will be a quiet affair. Invitations will be limited to the family connections, which are numerous.—The Wasp.

Royal Battle of Wits.

The ruthless battle of wits and lawyers between Barrister Daniell and Mrs. John Darling has strained the nerves of the Hotel Stewart guests to the danger point The implacable Daniell, suddenly transformed into a sort of raging British lion, as told elsewhere in this issue of the Wasp, resolved to subpoena his foe and thus make her his own witness His legal emissary, armed with the necessary documents, hastened to the Hotel Stewart, where Mrs Darling stops when in town, but the citadel was not to be taken so easily Mrs Darling was not accessible to any callers, and the myrmidon of the law cooled his heels downstairs for half a day in vain hope of waylaying his prey At lunch he saw a bellboy carrying a tray of sandwiches and liquid refreshments upstairs, and, slipping into the elevator, he followed the brass-buttoned Ganymede, hoping as soon as the door was opened to basely thrust his foot inside and force an entrance His duplicity failed miserably, for the besieged door was opened only wide enough to permit a cautious arm to be put out for the tray, and in the inevitable scuffle which ensued the sandwiches and brew of Gambrinus were distributed impartially inside outside and every way. All that day and night the bailiff lurked in halls and corridors, at times growing ferocious and threatening to call aid from the sheriff's office and break in the door that thwarted his fell purpose Pale hotel managers and sub-managers and hysterical bellboys conveyed to the besieged society leader the threats of the foe, but she held the fort till noon the next day, when Major Darling descended with a flag of truce and announced that presently Mrs Darling would depart on her usual afternoon drive and could then be seen by anybody with lawful business to transact At the state time the bailiff, hollow in the stomach and round the eyes from his protracted vigil and fasting, served the subpoenas and at the same time pressed into the hand of the recipient the regular $2 witness fee, which clinched the business Pocketing the money of the enemy with queenly grace, the society leader swept out of the office and into her victoria, and the next scene in the implacable feud will take place in Judge Graham's court The prolonged siege caused Mrs Darling to postpone her intended dinner to several eminent jurists and the date of her departure to Del Monte to attend the great gathering of California's social elect Barrister Daniell stalks around with his chin in the air, as if he had achieved a masterstroke —The Wasp

The De Sabla Pool.

The swimming pool which is one of the attractions of the De Sabla country home is becoming famous When Miss Vera De Sabla had her memorable coming out party Miss Wilson and her partner who were dancing the barn dance fell into it in full evening array and emerged to make a half dozen paragraphs for the bavardes of the press. And now Miss Frances Howard has jumped into it, accoutered in complete and stunning costume. Who will be next? If this sort of thing continues the swimming pool will need a chronicler of its own Miss Howard by the way is one of the most charming and interesting bachelor maids of our smart set She recently built a very pretty bungalow in San Mateo near the home of her brother Teddy and his wife and she lives there all alone. The ex-Mrs. Peabody in Newport.

"He is the best man in the world," says Mrs Elizabeth Crowninshield Peabody of her former husband, George Peabody, fiance of Miss Edith Deacon, "and the woman who wins him will be lucky" Strong commendation, that, from a wife who consented to divorce on desertion grounds from 'the best man in the world' Mrs Peabody recently crossed the Atlantic from her English home and is being much feted by the smart Newporters. J J. VanAlen gave a dinner for her this week, and the Princes of Boston and Mrs Reginald Brooks of New York have entertained her royally Rumor in Newport will have it that Mrs Peabody regrets that she let the best man in the world go so easily and since he became engaged to another she wishes she had him back Rumor even says that the purpose of her trip across the water was to effect a reconciliation. This, too, when the date of her ex-husband's wedding with the Princess Radziwill's charming sister has been announced. The bridegroom-elect has been lying at the point of death at Beverly Farms in Massachusetts but the wedding plans are under way Miss Sadie Jones was to have been a bridesmaid, but the illness of her grandfather, Colonel Greene, has caused her to lay the proposition over temporarily. Man Spiritually Dead.

A remarkable case of quickened moral sensibility was recently brought to the notice of the Mutual Benefit Society of North America. A conscience-stricken policyholder awakened to the belief that he was spiritually dead, and his wife, upon hearing of the fact, immediately filed a claim that was not spiritual for the price of her husband's life. The man was a member of the German Baptists of North America, and his pastor certified to the truth of the statement. Perhaps he was, in a measure, justified by the character of his parishioner's contributions to the support of the North German pastor's North German bread and butter. At any rate, he certified to the death of the man, and with singular stupidity, the officers of the society failed to appreciate the logic of the situation, and have served out warrants for the arrest of the preacher and his spiritually dead and morally damned parishioner.—News Letter.

Judge Lawlor's Obstinacy.

Superior Judge Lawlor persists in his obstinacy in the matter of personally prosecuting and persecuting those defendants brought before him whom he personally dislikes and wishes to see convicted, evidence or no evidence

His bias in the cases of Messrs Calhoun, Ford, Mullally and Abbott was long ago demonstrated to a degree that could not fail to impress any unprejudiced observer acquainted with his conduct of the cases against these gentlemen, against whom the privately-paid prosecution of the Spreckels-Heney-Older bunch trumped up wholly unsubstantial charges.

This week Judge Lawlor exhibited in the Ruef case the same sort of temper He is venting his spleen upon Ruef in much the same manner that he has been venting it against the others named The situation is really an astounding one. It seems almost incredible that in this age and in this country and in this State a Judge should take upon himself the prosecution of a defendant, with the palpable determination to convict him, regardless of the sufficiency of the evidence It was long ago shown conclusively that a conviction of those accused of the so-called trolley graft is impossible, for there is no evidence that they grafted, save in the imagination of a pack of personal enemies who wish to secure the business profits of the defendants

Yet Judge Lawlor, in his dogged persistence, disdains all legal precedent and procedure in his conduct on the bench, and continues to harass by every means in his power, those whom he cannot convict —News Letter.

He Taught Rigo "Cavalleria."

Speaking of Herma Heller reminds me of a story which I had from his lips some time ago Heller used to be at the Valencia Theater but now leads the orchestra at the St Francis and his concerts in the tapestry room are very much enjoyed by the ladies and gentlemen who drop in there or a quiet cocktail or highball But that is not my story When Heller was a youngster in Copenhagen Nils Gade, the well-known musician, gave him his first violin and his first lessons. But Heller did not intend to follow music as a life study and when still very young he was located in a little town of Croatia studying electrical and mechanical engineering The town depended for its music on the regimental band but one summer the regimental band had gone to the maneuvers and the inhabitants would have been without music had not a gypsy band appeared The gypsy band played entirely by ear and their repertoire was not extensive The townsfolk wanted them to play "Cavalleria Rusticana" which was then in the first flush of its vogue, but the gypsies had never heard it and the score meant nothing to them At this juncture young Heller stepped in and played Cavalleria for the gypsies on his violin When he has gone through the opera a couple of times the quick ears of the gypsies had mastered it completely and the rendered it to the general approval One of the members of the band was Rigo I wonder if he has ever thanked Heller for introducing him to the music of Mascagni?—Town Talk.

A Sensation in Bohemia.

Mrs Marie Nevins Blaine Bull's charges that Mrs Ellen Dunlap Hopkins of New York led her into the trap of John A Qualey and Harvey Wiley Corbett, promotors of a magnesia-asbestos company, has caused a terrific sensation in bohemian New York Mr Hopkins is the head of the Applied School of Design in New York, and is a noted person in the metropolis Corbett, who is accused by Mrs Bull, is a teacher in Mrs Hopkins' institution It is claimed by Mrs Bull that, regarding Mrs Hopkins as a true friend, she relied on her advice and bought $35,000 worth of the Magnesia-Asbestos Company's stock and lost her money The bohemians of San Francisco and local society are interested in this affair because Mrs Bull is well known here as the wife of young Jim Blaine, and William Funk, the portrait artist, has come forward as Mrs Hopkins' special champion Mr. Funk's name got mixed up lately here in the gossip about the divorce case of Mrs Frank Powers, who developed such a love of Bohemia that she could no longer live the prosaic life of an eminent lawyer's wife —The Wasp.

He Affronted Jouillin

Amedee Jouillin, artist and "Manbeast" of the Bohemian grove play, entered the Techau Tavern with Harold Practt, the singer, a few nights ago and was shown to a seat in the middle of the crowded dining room Shortly afterwards a well-known merchant accompanied by two ladies was making his way past Jouillin's seat and accidentally overturned the Scotch highball which the artist was drinking Jouillin looked up inquiringly but the merchant continued to escort his feminine guests to a seat without offering an apology Scribbling a few lines on a visiting card Jouillin sent them to the offender and a flush of embarrassment overspread the features of the merchant when he read. "When one overturns a glass it is courteous to replenish it—Amedee Jouillin" The merchant rushed over to the artist whose identity he thus discovered and made profuse apology and an offer of restitution. But Jouillin pulled a serious face, waved a hand dramatically and answered "It is now too late" The discomfited merchant retired to his fair companions where he fretted and fumed Commerce wanted to be on good terms with Art but did not know how to accomplish the thing. Finally he sent a box of cigars to the table and although Jouillin was disposed to continue the punishment, Harold Pracht acted as peacemaker and friendly relations were established. As the little drama was watched by many people who knew all three parties that merchant has probably decided that it will be well henceforth to apologize for such an accident, no matter who the party may be.—Town Talk.

The Natives' Beauty Contest.

Let me lose no time in extending my congratulations to Miss Grace Smith who has been chosen Queen of the approaching Native Son celebration. Miss Smith is a very popular young lady—that was evidenced by the one hundred and ninety odd thousand votes which she polled. Miss Smith is also a good politician—that was evidenced by the strategy which she used in the closing hours of the contest. Every young lady is glad to be popular and in these days of suffragettes most young ladies, no doubt, are delighted to be hailed as good politicians. So, having paid my dutiful respects to the Queen Elect by yielding her the palm for popularity and political sagacity, I do not feel called upon to rhapsodize on her queenly airs. Tall and of graceful figure is Queen Grace with graces of mind and heart more than enough to compensate for anything that she may lack in facial fascination. —Town Talk

The Hobble is American.

Apropos an accident which happened recently to a fashionable Parisienne the hobble skirt has come in for a lot of denunciation in the capital of the world. This denunciation becomes interesting to us because America is not only credited with the invention of the amazing garment but also blamed for its introduction into Paris This is probably the first time that the old order of derivation has been reversed in regard to so important an article of feminine attire. The accident in question occurred when a young woman attired in a hobble skirt was alighting from a taxicab. She fell and broke her leg, receiving besides distressing bruises on the head and face The accident has received a great deal of exploitation in Paris where the study of the immaterial is one of the most popular pursuits A leading man dressmaker of Paris who has been interviewed on the hobble skirt as a dangerous evil declares that it was brought to Paris by certain fair Americans and that reputable makers of Paris modes have always opposed it. "It is only worn," he says, "by women who desire to make themselves remarked in public. It has never been acclimated in the upper circles" Another "grand couturier" says "The hobble skirt is now seen only in ready made fashions and never was adopted by the really elegant. This grotesque mode will soon disappear as if winter it becomes absurdly impossible for a woman to manage a gown built in that manner"—Town Talk

Upholsterers Are to Strike.

The upholsterers are to strike. Nothing, not even young love spooning on a sofa, can deter them The hod-carriers have struck and the upholsterers are surely every whit as good as the hod-carriers Young engaged couples will do well to order their furniture, mattresses and baby carriages now Otherwise, and whatever the state of their hearts, they may find it in their purse impossible to wed In a short time cushions of the upholstered variety will be at such a premium that a husband and wife can no longer afford to fire them at each other's head Mission furniture, once the fashion, will become a ruling necessity All that will be left to us in the way of comfort will be to sit on our hotwater bags and lap-dogs The situation is indeed, a cruel one—the crisis exceedingly grave The upholsterers, not having had their annual picnic this year, are in need of diversion—and must strike Whether or not they achieve more wages they will, at least, get a rest from work, which never was any job for an aristocrat Anyway, why shouldn't they take it a little soft when it is their life-work to make it soft for us May their penalty for the obsession be to sit on some of their own unevenly-stuffed cushions By the time the strike is over, every one connected with it will be so utterly calloused in the matter that it will not at all matter whether it is ever or not But had not the upholsterer better be careful? If we should take to old-fashioned feather beds and home-made cushions like mother used to make, and find them best, what might not happen to him? It were well for him to take his diversion in some other way. —News Letter.

The Kellerman Fad.

Our society women are all striving to out-Kellerman Kellerman. The Gregg girls, Miss Elyse Schultz, Miss Helene Jackson, Mrs Vincent Whitney, Mrs Frank H Preston, Mrs Frank Ballantine, Mrs Norris Davis, Miss Foster Miss Calhoun, and innumerable others take daily dips The baths are thronged with smart women wearing stunning bathing suits One made of pongee trimmed with bands of blue dotted foulard, worn by Mrs Harry Long, is particularly striking Mrs Long, by the way, has very original ideas It was she who initiated San Francisco into buffet luncheons and dinners, and now she, with Mrs. Frank Ballantine, are going to give a swimmifig party The invitations are in the shape of a fish, on which a clever verse is written bidding the recipients to a luncheon and a swim The luncheon will take place at Mrs Ballantine's apartments at the Alta Casa.—The Wasp.

And She Saves Time.

And speaking of swimming reminds me of a story about a well-known feminine frequenter of the baths, who dutifully trudges down there every day to work off too much plump. This ambitious lady is so busy with society, and is such a student of the languages besides, that in order to get time for her daily swim she jumps right out of bed into her bathing suit and walks down to the baths. All she has to do is to doff her shoes and her cloak and she is ready for a plunge Her Japanese maid follows with street garments, and lo and behold! the swimmer is as fresh as a daisy for her luncheon-breakfast.—The Wasp

Debutantes Runaway Marriage.

In almost every crop of debutantes is a willful bud that refuses to bloom according to the handbook for social gardeners. It blows willy-nilly into fresh fields, and the society pastures know it no more. Some girls take to nursing and bookbinding and translating and music, and this, that and the other, instead of taking to society; other buds bloom out as matrons just skipping right over the preliminary stages of belledom. The news that Elizabeth Rowan had married Thurman De Bolt, of Los Angeles, came right on the heels of the announcement that little Miss Rowan would be one of this season' debutantes She came out to San Francisco at the tag end of last season from New York where she had been at a finishing school on the Hudson Her father, Major Andrew Rowan, is widely known as "the man who carried the message to Garcia," and since his retirement from the army a year ago, has made his home here with his wife, who was the much-admired Mrs. Josephine de Greayer. Mrs. Rowan's interests have already been identified with the humanitarian spirit, and her chief interest is in reading rooms for the blind Since her return here, she has again identified herself with this worthy project, and the interests specially dear to Mrs. John Merrill's heart, for Mrs Merrill and Mrs Rowan worked hand and hand for years.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth and Mr. de Bolt has been called a runaway affair, which is not strictly true It was a headlong rushed-through affair, but not a run-away. As in many another instance, the parents would have been most happy and content to have the marriage solemnized with due dignity But the young people determined to get married one full of the moon last week—to be exact, on Monday night—and at crack o dawn on Tuesday obtained the license and were married before another sunset could paint a pathway for the moon No lingering over the polished counters where trousseaus can be shown to such advantage, no dizzy round of engagement festivities, no whirl of wedding preparations—just a speedy and effective way of embarking on the journey —News Letter.

Miss Brigham a Stenographer.

Miss Gladys Brigham, the pretty and sensible daughter of the Frank Brighams, who make their home in Los Gatos, is working as a stenographer in San Jose. The society chronicler will not let it go at that Miss Brigham would probably say, "I wanted to earn my own living, and stenography seemed a simple way of doing it" But the society editor cast her in the rôle of a rather eccentric but harmless heiress who is giving up the gay glamors of a limousined life for a typewriter. Now the Brighams drive to the station at Los Gatos and they live there—well, they live there because one can at least raise chickens in the country even if the goose does not hang high in father's office Of course, Gladys Brigham could be a peripatetic society girl—there is her aunt, Mrs C O Alexander, who would welcome her in town—but then, Mrs Alexander herself visits about a good deal And there is her cousin, Harriett Alexander—but Harriett is visiting the Spencer Eddys right now in Paris, whither she went as the guest of Mrs John Bidwell of Chico There are dozens of old family friends who would like to have her, and there is her married sister Beulah, now Mrs Eugene Cooper Johnson, of Los Angeles But Gladys has a sense of humor and this living in a suit case and hanging on to society with both hands did not appeal to her So she decided to study stenography and at once secured a good position in San Jose and she does not want to be classed among the people who pretend that they take boarders "just for company"—News Letter

Young Barrymore's Latest Heart Trouble.

Jack Barrymore, who got out his license to wed Miss Katherine Corri Harris of New York the other day, has been in love almost as many times as his reported engagements It is said that he was one of Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw's admirers, and when the gossip about them came out in the Thaw trial it sent the sensitive young actor into a sanitarium with nervous breakdown. He was an avowed admirer of Bonnie Maginn when Bonnie was basking in her greatest popularity and Vivian Blackburn, known in New York city, but not out here, was also a divinity at whose shrine he worshiped. The late Lotta Faust was his idol for more than a season His engagement was actually announced to Grace Lane, a Chicago heiress, but it was broken off and no reasons given Five times young Barrymore's engagement was announced last season He seems to be duplicating the experience of his fascinating sister, Ethel, who made and broke a dozen engagements before she finally married the $15,000,000 broker, Russell Colt —The Wasp

She Killed a Rattler.

Word comes to me from St. Helena that Mrs. Elmer Graves White who has been spending the summer there with her parents, Mr and Mrs R N Graves and her two sons, is regarded as the heroine of the countryside. Mrs White was sitting on the porch of the Graves country home one afternoon with a number of friends when a rattlesnake appeared not ten feet away. Lifting their skirts and shrieking the rest of the party fled within the house, but not so Mrs White She seized a long stick and with a well-aimed blow brained the rattler It had six rattles and one button. Mrs White recently returned from a lengthy tour abroad During her travels she spent most of her time in study. Early in September she will return to San Francisco to open a musical studio. Those who have heard her sing recently tell me that she possesses a voice of rare quality and great cultivation. Mrs. White is a cousin of the Mayo Newnalls and Miss Linda Cadwalader and her studio this winter will be the rendezvous of the smart set.—Town Talk.

Domestic Life for Actress.

Grace Travers' suit against the Oakland dentist-politician, bon vivant, came as a surprise to her many friends, who thought that she had solved the complex problem of being the wife of a good fellow. After the theater, when Harry was not busy elsewhere, he would often meet his wife and take her to supper. In fact, they lived at the same hotel. Her patience seemed to have no end. Every one in Oakland remembers that when Travers sold out a very good practice, for no reason at all, and took to selling voting machines, his wife took boarders in order to pay the bills. Still Harry continued to stray, and so, having both beauty and talent, Mrs. Travers turned, not to the alimony path, but to the stage. She could sing a little, and was first seen in comic opera at Idora Park Then she went on the National Circuit with Frank Bacon, and finally landed at the Valencia, where she made such a hit in "The College Widow" as the athletic girl that the Alcazar engaged her for a season. Through that she joined Miss Harned's company. Mrs. Travers' mother, Mrs Owen Bresnin, is the sister of Martin Egan, the far-famed newspaper correspondent. Harry Travers is a nephew of Mrs. Clarence Mackay —The Wasp.

Prerogatives of British Citizenship.

Mr Daniell evidently believes that, as an English subject and as an English barrister, representing his daughter-in-law, a naturalized British subject, his position is unassailable In fact, he has reached that stage of confidence that he sniffs disdainfully when Mrs Darling's name is mentioned, and asks, "Where does she come in? What has that woman got to do with the case anyhow?" Friends of Mrs Darling say that he will find out before he gets through with it. Mrs Darling has not altered her position in the least She declares with great positiveness that Mr Daniell is a barrister without clients, and that he wishes Miss Hastings to get full charge of her California estate so that he may have the management of it "But he'll never get a cent of it," says Mrs. Darling It is difficult to see how he can be kept out unless the lawyers gobble it up, seeing that the English courts have technically cut the ground from under the feet of his opponents by treating Miss Hastings as an English subject. The case will be tried about the middle of October, by which time Louis Hoeffler is expected to have returned. Whether he is here by that time or not the case will go on —The Wasp

The Newest Divinity.

The latest claimant to the affections of young Jack Barrymore is a young girl 18 years old, daughter of Sydney Harris, a lawyer who resides in Paris, but whose family affiliations lie in New York Mrs Kathryn Brady Harris, the young lady's mother, is the daughter of the late Judge John R Brady of the Supreme Court, and is a sister of Mrs. Herbert Harriman, whose name figures constantly in the Newport society columns Mrs Harris inherited a half-million from her uncle, Charles F Daly. She was divorced from her husband nine years ago, their married life having been a succession of storms Mr Harris is permitted to see his daughter a few times each year. He was said to have objected very strenuously to his daughter's marriage with Barrymore not because the latter is an actor, but because he considered his daughter too young to wed anybody Mrs Harris on the contrary, was heart and soul for Barrymore as a son-in-law. She once played in "Rosemary" with John Drew many years ago, and perhaps "rosemary for remembrence" is the romantic reason why she has found in the middle-aged comedian's nephew the ideal husband for her little eighteen-year-old Katherine Though the young actor secured his license to wed, his fiancee says the marriage will not take place until October In deciding upon this step Miss Harris has given in, temporarily at least, to the wishes of her father and her aunt, Mrs Harriman. Mrs Harriman, it is said, has always had a great fondness for her niece, and once told her that she would be liberal to her in a monetary way when she married. It is said she withdrew the promise in the event of her niece marrying Mr Barrymore —The Wasp

Mrs. McKim Not a Bromide.

Mrs Margaret Emerson McKim got her fortune through Bromo, but she is not a bromide, as her various admirers will all vouch for While she was in Reno detaching herself from the delinquent McKim, she made frequent trips to San Francisco, and Ray Baker was not the only swain who danced attendance on her A very eligible young man, who was supposed to be interested in a girl in the set which includes Mrs. George Cameron, her sisters, Mrs. Roy Pike and Mrs Laurence Harris, gravitated into Mrs McKim' circle, and was always present at the little luncheons and dinners he presided over at the St Francis Her return from the Orient will probably show just how much of a dent this rival made in Baker's chances. —News Letter

County Republicans Choose Delegates

PLATFORM IS ADOPTED AND CANDIDATES RATIFIED

Enthusiastic Meeting Held and Representatives Named for State Session.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED AND REPORTS HEARD

Support Pledged to Nominees Chosen at the Primary Election.

The Republican County Convention which met last night in W. of W. Hall on Eleventh street adopted a platform declaring adherence to the Roosevelt policies, expressing confidence in President Taft and commending him for the legislation which he has been the means of placing on the statute books; pledging support to Hiram Johnson; insisting upon the election, instead of appointment, of the executive committee of the Republican State Central Committee; recommending a state-wide advisory vote for United States Senator and pledging legislators to support the choice of the people; favoring legislation for the speedy determination of criminal trials and asking for a reduction of the county tax rate.

Delegates Are Elected

The county convention also elected 43 delegates to the Republican State Convention, which is to be held in San Francisco September 6 and appointed a new Republican County Central Committee, consisting of 17 members, from all the assembly districts of the county.

The session was one of the shortest of the kind ever held in this county. There was only one speech delivered and that was by Charles E. Snook, when he called the gathering to order, and which lasted not more than two minutes.

In effect, the resolutions adopted constituted a speech, but the reading of these occupied only a few minutes and many of the sentiments expressed in them were greeted with cheers.

Prominent Republicans

There was not a full attendance of delegates, but every assembly district was represented, and among the well-known members of the Republican party in attendance were:

Dr. H. B. Mehrmann	John W. Stetson
H. S. Anderson	Walter Fawcett
L. J. Toffelmier	Guy C. Earl
Sid Wilson	Clarence Crowell
J. B. Lanktree	Wm. Fitzmaurice
Chas. E. Snook	E. F. Garrison
E. J. Tyrrell	County Clerk J. P. Cook
Wm. McDonald	W. A. Dow
Prof. Frank Soule	Friend W. Richardson of Berkeley
J. A. Elston	Andrew Johnstone
Joe Coughlin	County Treasurer M. J. Kelly
Supervisor W. B. Bridge

The gathering was called to order by Charles E. Snook, who, at the first meeting of the delegates, was selected temporary chairman. At that time no business was transacted for the reason that the canvass of votes for delegates had not sufficiently advanced to enable the county clerk to certify as to who had been elected to represent the various assembly districts in the convention. As a result there was an adjournment until last night.

In calling the meeting to order, Temporary Chairman Snook said:

> Two weeks ago this convention was organized temporarily because the county clerk had not yet issued the certificate to the election of delegates whose election had been certified to by the supervisors.
>
> The convention elected George Wade temporary secretary and myself as temporary chairman. The canvass of the votes has been made and the list of the delegates is in the hands of the secretary.
>
> Are you ready to get down to business? The convention has little to do. The people have spoken and nominated all the officers from Johnson (cheers) down to the constable of every township.
>
> Our purpose is to organize for the purpose of doing three things: To elect delegates to the Republican State Convention, adopt a platform and appoint a new county committee.

Ask Committee of Seven

Dr. Mehrmann moved that a committee of seven, comprising one delegate from each assembly district, be appointed on credentials. The motion prevailed.

Guy C. Earl moved that a similar committee be appointed on order of business and permanent organization and Mehrmann also moved that a similar committee be appointed on platform and resolutions, both these motions prevailing.

Platform—Elston, chairman, 52d; [illegible], 47th; Chandler, 47th; Cox, 48th; Bronner, 49th; Stetson, 50th; Evans, 51st.

Delegates Seated

Senator Earl reported in behalf of the committee on organization and order of business in substance as follows: That the temporary officers be made permanent officers of the convention; that the reports be made first by the committee on credentials and then on platform; that the chair appoint a committee of three to recommend a delegation of 43 Republicans to attend the Republican State convention in San Francisco, as also 17 names as members of the Republican county central committee and that each delegate be assessed fifty cents.

The report was adopted.

New Office Created

On motion of James Brennan, the office of assistant secretary was created and Assistant Secretary Dowd was inducted into office to assist Secretary G. H. Wade.

John F. Mullins moved that two sergeants-at-arms be appointed and named Edward Murphy as one of them.

Later three sergeants were appointed in all, the incumbents being E. Murphy, J. Baumgarten and E. Warner.

Chairman Elston of the committee made the report of the committee on resolutions which appears elsewhere.

The chair then appointed Guy C. Earl, J. A. Elston of Berkeley and Dr. H. B. Mehrmann a committee to name delegates to the Republican State convention, as also members of the new Republican county central committee.

A recess of 30 minutes followed, after which Guy C. Earl reported, recommending the following 43 Republicans as delegates to the Republican State convention:

Delegates Named

Forty-seventh District—A. L. Morgenstern, H. H. Buddington, M. H. Robbins, J. B. Gilbert, J. Ralph Wilson.

Forty-ninth District—John F. Mullins, Geo. Fitzgerald, Edward J. Tyrrell, Gerald Lawlor.

Fiftieth District — Frank K. Mott, Clarence Crowell, John W. Stetson, Guy C. Earl, Chas. E. Snook, Thomas M. Robinson, H. B. Mehrmann, Calvin M. Orr.

Fifty-first—J. W. Evans, C. H. Daly, M. S. Hamilton, W. H. Donahue, F. F. Morse, Frank Harold.

Fifty-second District—Arthur Arlett, B. J. Bither, H. D. Irwin, W. R. Ellis, Oscar Barker, J. A. Elston, Perry Tompkins, W. E. Woolsey, L. H. Lowrie, J. H. Mihan, F. H. Wilson.

The secretary was ordered to cast the vote of the convention for the men recommended.

Those Recommended

J. C. Shinn, L. J. Toffelmier, Forty-sixth Assembly district; J. B. Gilbert, G. M. Hill, Forty-seventh district; Wm. M. Fitzmaurice, George E. Wade, E. T. Planer, Forty-eighth district; Colin Chisholm, J. L. Coughlin, D. J. Mullins, Forty-ninth district; A. H. Breed, A. P. Leach, E. J. Smith, Fiftieth district; M. S. Hamilton, A. Lorsbach, Fifty-first district; J. A. Elston, Perry T. Tompkins, Fifty-second district.

These were also elected by the secretary's vote.

The county central committee, on motion of J. W. Stetson, was empowered to fill any vacancies that might occur on the ticket.

The convention then adjourned till the call of the chairman.

Aeolian Yacht Club Meetings This Month

ALAMEDA, Aug. 27.—Secretary C. G. Badger of the Aeolian Yacht Club announces the following meetings: Directors, Tuesday, August 30; Regular club meeting, Friday, September 2; smoker, September 2. On the last mentioned occasion Commodore Ward will give an interesting talk on the Honolulu race. Commodore Ward returns on the Wilhelmina this week, after racing the Mollilou to the island

Alameda County Republican Platform

"We declare our adherence to the Roosevelt policies, and we commend the national leaders of progressive Republicanism in their efforts to preserve the Republican party as the party of the people, and to save it from control of selfish interests.

* * *

"We declare our faith in President Taft and commend him for the constructive legislation which he has been instrumental in placing upon the statute books

* * *

"We pledge our loyal support to Hiram Johnson and to the progressive principles for which he stands.

* * *

"We urge all Republicans to heartily support the state, congressional, district, legislative and county tickets of the Republican party.

* * *

"We believe that the Republican party, which stands for the fullest measure of self-government, in the people, should, in its own management, be governed by representative authority. To that end we pledge delegates selected by this body to the state convention to stand firmly on the proposition that the state executive committee of the Republican party be selected by vote and not by appointment.

* * *

"We congratulate the Republican party upon the enactment of the direct primary law and we pledge our nominees to the legislature to oppose any amendment directed against its fundamental principles. We recommend, however, a state-wide advisory vote on United States Senator and a pledge by legislative candidates to support the choice of the people.

* * *

"We pledge our candidates for the legislature, in case of election, to work and vote for such revision of the laws of criminal procedure in this state as shall make the administration of justice more speedy and certain.

* * *

"We pledge our nominees to the legislature to enact such laws with respect to convicted criminals as may be necessary to immediately provide for the segregation of first offenders and younger prisoners.

* * *

"We declare for an economical and honest administration of our county government and demand a reduction of the county tax rate."

SCORES CITY OFFICIALS FOR PLAYING PART IN POLITICS

Freeholder Chamberlain Renders Report and Takes Fling at Administration; Sale of Utilities Is Discussed

For the first time since the freeholders have been engaged in framing a new charter for the city discord interrupted the proceedings, when, at last night's meeting, Freeholder H. C. Chamberlain, in making his report on the civil service provisions which should be included in the charter started to deliver a scathing denunciation of the city administration. He referred to the conduct particularly of the officials and the police department in the recent elections, during the selection of the freeholders and in the primaries.

In substance the report provided that no city employe should take any part in politics other than in his official capacity. Also that a candidate for office should not make any election promises. He said:

"I have noticed at the recent primaries that city automobiles and city officials as well as many employes have been busy doing politics when they should be attending to their duties."

ROBINSON INTERRUPTS.

At this point he was interrupted by Freeholder Robinson, who declared that the meeting of the board was not the place to grill the city administration, but that they were there to frame a charter. Chairman Shaw ruled him out of order and Robinson appealed to the body, and when a vote was called for by Secretary Encell the chair was overruled. As a consequence the report was laid over until another meeting, at which time copies will be placed before each member and the question of civil service will again be taken up.

Clark submitted a report on the referendum, providing that action in the matter should be automatic when dealing with any sale, lease or purchase of public utilities owned by the city or any grant or renewal of a franchise. These he felt should be voted upon by the people, and further that the city council by a four-fifths vote could pass any matter to the people; that is, any matter which required that number of votes in the council could be referred by them to the voters.

In speaking on the subject S. H. Robinson said:

SPINELESS COUNCIL.

"If such provision should be made the result would be in our having a spineless council who would constantly pass matters up to the people when they did not desire to take any responsibility upon themselves. They would be influenced through public opinion to the extent that the usefulness of the body would be greatly impaired."

Upon a vote being taken it was decided to turn down the proposition, it being further taken up by the suggestion that the referendum should apply for new franchises and the sale, lease and purchase of lands amounting to a sum exceeding $50,000 by a 10 per cent petition.

A motion made by Robinson to have the percentage increased to 15 per cent failed to pass, and as it was feared that in placing a limit to the amount of purchases made by the council there would be a serious conflict brought about which would retard the efforts of the city along the lines of progression. The whole matter was referred to a committee consisting of Clark, Robinson and Elliot, who will redraft that section of the proposed charter to be taken up at a future meeting.

COMMISSION POWERS.

Another committee consisting of Robinson, Shaw and Hogan was appointed to draft a provision covering the appointment, power and duties of the Park, Library and Playground Commission. Next Wednesday evening has been set as the time for hearing from the police and fire departments as to what suggestions they would make for clauses in the charter affecting their respective departments.

That the commissioners should have an office in the new city hall and be there every morning between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock, was the substance of a report by A. H. Elliot, which further provided that the commissioners hold meetings daily at 11 o'clock for the transaction of business.

The following letter has been sent to the board by the Child's Welfare League and will be taken up at the meeting next Monday night:

LEAGUE'S LETTER.

"The Child's Welfare League asks your special interest as one of the Board of Freeholders to draw up a charter for the future guidance of the people in the government of Greater Oakland, in the matter of the playground commission in the new charter.

"This league includes 100 woman organizations, voicing the sentiments of at least 6000 members. Its object is to keep children out of the juvenile courts in spite of the temptations of modern city life.

"'An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure,' and we believe that the greatest single positive work along preventive lines is to have many public playgrounds, but that they must be under expert supervision and kept out of politics. We realize that in its play the child is forming its character.

"We favor the plan of the playground commission of not less than five unpaid members, three of whom shall be women. The cause of the playground is primarily for children. It is a part of the larger city home in which our boys and girls must be brought up, and whatever is a home problem is a problem for women as well as men.

"We earnestly ask that there be no change in the present form of the playground commission.

"The letter is signed by Miss Bessie J. Woods, president of the league, and Mrs. Kate E. Rix, corresponding secretary."

DEMENTED WOMAN WANDERS STREETS

Found in Night Attire and Is Returned to Home of Doctor.

Found wandering in her night clothes on the street this morning at 2 o'clock in an hysterical condition, Mrs. Margaret Hayes was taken by officers to the Central police station. It was afterward discovered that she was a patient under treatment at the residence of Dr. M. Lewis Emerson at 779 Eighth street and had escaped during the night. She was returned to the home of the physician.

It was explained that she has had mental trouble and had been under treatment for some time. While she was wandering about the streets it was thought by her attendants that she was safe in bed.

After returning from the theater last night Miss Benita Oliver of 1778 Tenth avenue became troubled with palpitation of the heart and left the house to walk the streets in the fresh air, as she found breathing difficult. She was found prostrated at Second avenue and East Fourteenth street and taken to her home.

MAN IS EVICTED BY ELECTRICIAN

Ernest Thompson Rolled Down Stairs of City Building.

Ernest Thompson, a member of the Oakland Gas and Electric Fixture Company, unceremoniously rolled down two flights of stairs leading from the offices of City Electrician George Babcock yesterday afternoon after an altercation with the latter. Thompson declares that Babcock delegated the work of evicting him to one of the subordinates in the electrical department of the city, but City Electrician Babcock states that he knows nothing of the eviction, and is unaware that Thompson was put out of the building by anybody.

The trouble between the two is the culmination of a series of altercations in which Thompson is said by the City Electrician to have used abusive language. Thompson declares that he and his company have been harassed by the electrical department of the city without cause or provocation, and makes charges that the subordinates of the department have worked him as much as they could.

Yesterday afternoon Thompson called on Babcock concerning some business. Babcock refused to talk with him, declaring that he would have nothing to do with a man who would not be civil and courteous in his dealings. Thompson insisted that he had a right to do business any way he liked with the public servant.

According to the story told by Babcock, he decided to avoid trouble and left Thompson, stepping into the tower room to avoid him. He heard sounds of an altercation thereafter but did not investigate. Thompson says that he was evicted unceremoniously by one of Babcock's subordinates.

NEW PLAYGROUND TO BE EQUIPPED

Playground commissioners of Oakland last evening issued orders for opening the second fully equipped outdoor playground of this city, to be created at De Fremery Park. The first playground, at Bushrod Park, has been in commission for months and has proved a great success. The equipment will be installed and the playground ready for the children at De Fremery before the winter.

The matter of equipping a new outdoor playground has been under consideration for some months, and all the preparations for the work have been made by Superintendent of Playgrounds George E. Dickie. At the meeting yesterday afternoon the necessary orders were issued for the purchase of seesaws, slides, sand boxes, bars and other appliances. The entire equipment, including a shelter and shower baths, will represent an expenditure of several thousands of dollars.

SENSATION IS EXPECTED IN CALHOUN TRIAL

Fickert Will Speak His Mind in Open Court, Is the Belief.

FAMOUS CASE COMES UP AGAIN MONDAY

Many Are Trying to Guess What Judge Lawlor Will Do.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27. — Another sensation is looked for Monday in Judge Lawlor's court when the several indictments against Patrick Calhoun, Thornwell Mullally, Tirey L. Ford and William M. Abbott come up for hearing. For the first time since their incarceration in the county jail for contempt of court Attorneys A. A. Moore, Stanley Moore and John J. Barrett will be face to face with the jurist who sent them to prison.

They have not yet had their opportunity to express their opinion in connection with Judge Lawlor's decision refusing, for the time at least, to dismiss the United Railroad cases, and it is thought that they will have something to say on the subject.

FICKERT DETERMINED.

The exciting feature, however, is expected to come, not from the defense, but from the prosecution. District Attorney Fickert is smarting under the reflections placed upon him by Judge Lawlor, who passed him over without even giving him the opportunity to express an opinion at the last calling of the cases.

It is understood that Fickert has determined to have his say on Monday, that he intends to cross swords in a verbal tilt with the court if he is refused a hearing, and that he will take his chances of incarceration in the county jail if he is not permitted to explain his position clearly and concisely in open court.

SPECULATION ON OUTCOME.

Now that the primary elections are safely out of the way it is a matter of much speculation as to what Judge Lawlor will do with the Calhoun indictments.

The defendants have been refused trials, have not been permitted to be heard, have been denied the right to protest, and have failed to bring about the dismissal of the charges which they cannot present for the consideration of a jury because an immunity witness in the shape of a "good dog" supervisor, and a prince of boodlers has taken himself outside the confines of the country.

A Short Sermon for Busy Readers

LIKE A TREE

Psalms 1:3. "He shall be like a tree."

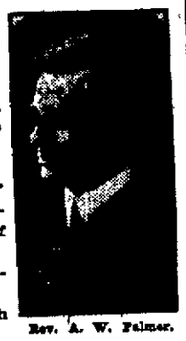
People often admire most the virtues they do not possess. Possibly that is why the Bible, written in a comparatively treeless country, is nevertheless sensitive to the beauty of the trees.

Genesis opens in a garden filled with trees and Revelation closes under the Tree of Life. Under the oaks of Mamre Abraham entertains angels unawares. Under the juniper tree in the desert Elijah sees the angelic vision. That great unknown prophet who wrote the second part of the book of Isaiah, when he seeks to picture the better civilization yet to come, cries:

"Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree,
And instead of the briar shall come up the myrtle tree.
And it shall be to Jehovah for a name,
For an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off."

And when Jesus comes he seeks refuge in the supreme hour of his life under the gnarled olives of Gethsemane—

"Into the woods my Master went, clean forespent, forespent;
Into the woods my Master came, forespent with grief and shame."



Rev. A. W. Palmer.

ALL SHALL BE LIKE TREE.

To all of us who love trees and who have felt in our hearts the mystery and beauty of the woods this text comes like a haunting echo: "He shall be like a tree." How?

In Dignity and Serenity.—I came back from the mountains one summer and wondered why all the houses looked so absurd in line and dingy in color. And then it flashed over me that I had just come from living with the Sequoias in the Giant Forest. Beside their noble forms how trivial the architecture along the car-line! Beside their soft colors how dingy, how cheap, the color of the houses! With what poise and self-respect every tree, large or small, stands in its place—there is no whining, no complaining, no sulking. How fine a thing it noiselessly, cheerfully, radiantly—"like a tree!"

MUSIC IN PATHLESS WOODS.

In Music.—The forest has a music of its own, now a low murmur far away, now a bright, cheerful music close at hand, with every leaf a-dancing in the sunlight, and sometimes a great roar like an organ with all the pedal stops pulled out. Whence comes the music? It is the response of the trees to the invisible presence of the wind! What a parable of many a strong, helpful life quickened by the unseen presence of the Divine Spirit that "bloweth where it listeth"!

In Shelter.—No tree lives alone. The moss and lichens, the snow-plants, the birds and squirrels and chipmunks all keep it company and look to it for the shelter it so freely gives to all. Oh, for more men like great trees—living not only for themselves, but affording a refuge for others.

In Work.—We seldom think of a tree as working, yet it is year after year changing crude raw material into wood and beautiful green leaves, and, with its roots, opening up reservoirs for the rain. We forget that it works because it works so silently and happily, uttering no groanings or complaints. What an ideal for a man's work! To do it noiselessly, cheerfully, radiantly—"like a tree"!

GROW, AS LONG AS YOU LIVE.

In Aspiration.—So long as a tree lives it grows. Though the trunk be scarred with fire the tips of the branches are green, eagerly reaching out into the sky. How splendid to be able to say of any man: "He was like a tree—so long as he lived he grew, reached upward toward God, reached outward in ever broadening sympathy with all new truth and with his fellow men!"

In Depth.—No man ever saw all of a tree—the most important part is underground. The secret of its power of growth and of its strength in time of storm lies in the great roots it sends down into the earth. And the men and women who have lived lives like trees, lives of serene and joyful service—who can begin to measure the great roots of faith and moral purpose, of love, of yearning and of prayer which they have sent down into the depths?

THE MEDDLER

MRS. HARRY FARR, who is a frequent hostess among matrons of younger set. —Webster, Photo.

A NEW character in opera, "The Girl of the Golden West," in the opera of that name, bids fair to challenge the attention of the world. We have had "Martha," "Lucia," "Carmen," "Aida" and now a new heroine is given to us in Puccini's new opera, "The Girl of the Golden West." One hears that the score represents exceedingly fine music, and the opera bids fair to stand as Puccini's masterpiece.

"The Girl" is very definitely placed in history, for it is not the girl of any city west of the Rockies; it is very definitely the girl of California, with the scene laid in the California Sierras. Geraldine Farar is in Italy, where she is studying the leading role, and already all the papers have shortened the title of the heroine, and she is known now simply as "The Girl."

Puccini is easily the favorite of the modern Italian school of composers, and his new opera is said to be full of wonderful melodies.

"The Girl of the Golden West" is to be given at the Boston opera house early in January. Four of the prima donnas are studying the role of "The Girl." They are Emmy Destinn, Geraldine Farrar, Alice Nielsen and Miss Lipkowska. George Baklanoff, the baritone, who is singing in Covent Garden, London, is studying the role of the sheriff, while Constantino, who is singing in South America this summer, is studying the role of the hero road agent.

And so it happens that the eyes of the world will be turned upon the California girl this season, for "The Girl" is to stand in the musical limelight, the center of one of the great pictures of modern times.

The passing actresses who come among us to lecture to our young women always make a distinct apology when they see the splendid specimens of young womanhood assembled before them. With the best climate in the world, with fine gymnasia, with the inclination to exercise in the open air, the California girl has achieved much that her sisters the world over may well envy.

All nationalities have given of their charm to "The Girl." She may be of the Greek type, she may represent the dark beauty of old Spain, she may be of a fair loveliness that betokens an Anglo-Saxon origin, she may be of the stunning type, or she may be petite, but always she is fascinating. She has been born and bred in a State famous for its wealth of gold, of climate, of the things that make for happy conditions. And it is no wonder that the girls of the State represent much of value in developing varying types of womanhood.

Around the bay are many girls who might well have posed for Puccini's idea of "The Girl." Among them might be mentioned:

Miss Jennie Crocker	Miss Dorothy Van Sicklen
Miss Helene Irwin	Miss Dottie Everson
Miss May Keeney	Miss Anna Peters
Miss Kathleen de Young	Miss Clarisse Lohse
Miss Enid Gregg	Miss Lilia Lovell
Miss Kathleen Farrell	Miss Helen Tupper
Miss Chrissie Taft	Miss Helen Dornin
Miss Natalie Foro	Miss Edna Orr
Miss Mary Downey	Miss Charlotte Hall
Miss Anita Thomson	Miss Ruth Hall
Miss Muriel Steele	Miss Else Schilling
Miss Ethel Crocker	Miss Leila Ewing
Miss Alice Oge	Miss Laura Sanborn
Miss Margaret Knox	Miss May Coogan
Miss Marian Miller	Miss Gladys English
Miss Ernestine McNear	Misses Bassett
Miss Avis Sterling	Miss Ruth Kales
Miss Marguerite Ogden	Miss Florence Hopkins
Miss Hazel Palmanteer	Miss Marian Newhall
Miss Florence Pardee	Miss Norma Castle
Miss Susie Hall	Miss Ruth Valentine

There are many young matrons, charming types of womanhood, whom one might add to the list, for they have beauty and youth enough any day to represent that historic young person known as "The Girl of the Golden West."

MRS. J. WALTER SCOTT ENTERTAINS FRIENDS.

Mrs. J. Walter Scott is entertaining at her East Oakland home Mrs. Van Sant of Delaware, Ohio, who was a very dear friend of Mrs. Scott's school days. The friends have not seen each other for sixteen years, and Mrs. Walter Scott is planning many things for the entertainment of her guest during the few days the latter will remain in California.

Mrs. Van Sant is a very charming guest, with sweet, delightful manners, and her friends of sixteen years ago are delighted to meet her again, and the new friends she has met have greatly enjoyed Mrs. Scott's cordial efforts.

The latter has planned a series of luncheons in honor of Mrs. Van Sant, and nearly fifty friends have been included in her invitations.

The initial luncheon was given at Piedmont Park on Thursday, where Mrs. Scott entertained a number of her intimate friends. It is an ideal spot for a luncheon, for in the late summer it is very picturesque. The luncheon tables were most effectively arranged, and each was a charming study in yellow, the color scheme effectively carried out in early yellow chrysanthemums. The menu cards were very charming hand-painted studies of lovely ladies of mediaeval days.

An elaborate menu was served, which was followed later by an interesting game of cards.

The prizes were very attractive. A beautiful silver bonbon dish was won by Mrs. Cal Ewing, and a handsome parasol was the consolation prize which fate sent to Mrs. Henry D. Bull.

There was a special prize, a beautiful spoon, which the generous hostess gave to her guest of honor, Mrs. Van Sant, a very handsome spoon, as a souvenir of the happy day.

Mrs. Walter Scott is an ideal hostess, entertaining friends in a very cordial, friendly fashion, so that one enjoys to the fullest extent the complimentary affair which she plans for them. She was beautifully gowned at her luncheon on Thursday, her gown of white being beautifully set off with a very handsome coat of Irish crotchet lace, and her ornaments were superb diamonds and emeralds. Mrs. Van Sant was beautifully gowned in white lace, with elaborate diamond ornaments. The luncheon in her honor was one of the leading social dates of the early season.

Mrs. Walter Scott's second luncheon in honor of her guest is scheduled to take place across the bay.

SUDDEN PASSING OF CHARLES H. KING.

The sudden passing this week of Mr. Charles H. King brought sadness not only to the members of his family but to the hearts of many of their dear friends. The family home of the Kings has been here for many years, and the children have spent school days here, and have grown up with their friends, so the ties of friendship are, in many cases, unusually true ones.

The passing of a sturdy pioneer such as was Mr. King, of one whose activities meant so much in the community must inevitably cast its shade of sadness on many hearts. The beautiful home of the Kings in East Oakland has always stood for much along lines truly hospitable. One remembers with pleasure the many gatherings in the old home, the dinners where Mr. King was a genial host. One of the largest social affairs our city has known marked the coming out of Miss Pearl King, the only daughter of the household. Hundreds of friends from about the bay were entertained at an elaborate reception planned along the most brilliant lines. The Kings have been away from Oakland a great deal in recent years. Mrs. King spent three years away, with her daughter, the late Miss Mildred King.

Mrs. Ernest Tanner (Pearl King) achieved much success in the dramatic world, and she is now the center of one of the most beautiful homes on the Claremont hills. All the children of the King family were here in the last few weeks, and their affection for their mother and for each other has helped to soften the blow that has fallen upon their home.

A strong character, such as that of the late Mr. King, makes a deep impress on the world in which he lives, and his passing out represents a deep sorrow to many, for there has gone from a home a generous, affectionate father, and from the world at large a true-hearted friend.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK C. HAVENS HAVE RETURNED.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Havens were at their country place, Sag Harbor, until a few days ago. They are now home. Both of them have a keen appreciation of the beautiful, and Mrs. Havens has ideas that are always unique, original, interesting and thoroughly artistic. One finds them always represented in her home, the atmosphere of which is charming.

The Havens have given to their Sag Harbor place the very pretty name of "Harbor Home," and they have entertained there many delightful guests this summer.

Among their guests have been Mrs. Mary H. Sterling, who is Mr. Havens' sister, and Miss Anna Mulford. It may be of interest to some of the followers of Prentice Mulford's philosophy to know that Miss Anna Mulford is now visiting in Oakland, at the Key Route Hotel, a guest of Mrs. Mary H. Sterling. They both arrived from the East a few days ago. Miss Mulford is a sister of the late Prentice Mulford, and the last of the Mulford family. The old Mulford home is in Sag Harbor, and Prentice Mulford is buried there.

Miss Mulford is a woman of very charming personality and most interesting. She is besides a very clever writer, and has done exceedingly good work along historical lines. She is a most distinguished visitor, whom many Oakland people will be very happy to meet.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

Miss Leta Mecartney, whose picture is in tonight's Meddler, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Mecartney of Bay Farm Island, where the Mecartneys' beautiful country home is situated. Miss Mecartney is one of the members of the younger Alameda smart set and has spent the greater part of the summer at home, where she has entertained numerous friends. Miss Madeline King, a Los Angeles belle, will be the guest of Miss Mecartney for the coming fortnight.

Miss Fay Frisbie of East Oakland left last week to attend the annual convention at the Alpha Chi Omega sorority and was extensively entertained on her way East. Miss Frisbie is a University of California girl and is the daughter of Mrs. Laura Waldon Frisbie of East Oakland, and a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Steele of San Francisco.

Mrs. Harry Farr is the daughter of the W. E. Sharons and is a sister of Mrs. Herbert Hamilton Brown. She is one of the most delightful hostesses among the younger matrons. She has not gone away this summer and will remain in Oakland for the coming month.

Miss Enid Gregg is a San Francisco belle who has so many friends on this side of the bay that much of her time is spent here. She is noted for her personal charm and popularity.

SOCIETY PEOPLE GO TO DEL MONTE.

Del Monte is the Mecca to which many footsteps turn this week, for a most representative assemblage is always at Del Monte for the August tournament. There is always the most superb display of gowns and the most magnificent jewels are in evidence in the August gathering at Del Monte. The millionaires of San Francisco and Burlingame hold the center of the field, and the rest of the world looks on. And truly it is a brave showing, for San Francisco women are among the most exquisitely dressed in the world. They are generous to a fault, and they are not afraid of spending money, so their costumes are gorgeous in the extreme, and their jewels are superb. Leading the way in social prestige this year at Del Monte is, of course, Mrs. Will Crocker. It is not her money alone that gives her the lead, but her intellectual attainments, her good breeding, and her great generosity of heart.

Mrs. Athearn Folger and her daughters, the Misses Cunningham, have extensive apartments at Del Monte this week, and the trio, the mother and daughters, make a charming picture together.

A young matron who holds her own in splendid fashion at Del Monte is Mrs. Wickham Havens. She is one of the most beautiful of the younger matrons there; her gowns are stunning, along effective and artistic lines, and her jewels are superb.

Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens motored to Del Monte, and with them were the George Wilhelms and Mrs. Edward Engs. Mr. Havens may play in the tennis tournament, as he plays an exceedingly good game of tennis and prefers it to golf.

Lieutenant Martin Kellogg Metcalf, U. S. N., and Mrs. Metcalf (Louise Menefee), are at Del Monte, and will remain there for the tennis tournament. One reads of Mr. Metcalf:

"He was a cracker-jack at tennis when a boy in Berkeley, and some high scores are expected of him when he begins slashing at the net in the coming tournament."

Our Claremont players did not win any prizes at golf, nevertheless they played an exceedingly good game. Among the best scores were those passed in by Mrs. William Pierce Johnson, Miss Ethel Havemeyer, Miss Mary Sherwod and Frank Kales.

Mr. Sam Bell McKee and Harry Knowles motored down to Del Monte, and among the representative Oakland people at that famous hotel this week were Mrs. Charles MacDermot, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Bowles, Miss Bowles, Miss Harriet Stone, Miss Marion Stone, Mr. and Mrs J. P. Neville, Jack Neville, Mr. Garby, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Searles, Mrs. Sherwood, Miss Mary Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. Van Sicklen, Dorothy Van Sicklen.

On Sunday evening several of the hotel guests gave an impromptu concert, and among the participants were Mary Sherwood and Harry Sherwood, whose fine playing on the violin and cello won many compliments for them.

There have been many dinners at Del Monte, and excursions to the famous Pebble Beach, and the decorations at luncheons and dinners this season have been most effective, many of them carrying out the traditional Spanish colors of red and yellow. The combination makes gorgeous color tones in decoration.

WEDDING OF MISS MARIANNA MATHEWS.

The wedding of Justus von Loben Sels and Miss Marianna Mathews is set for the evening of August 31st, and will take place in the Unitarian Church at Berkeley. The Von Loben Sels family for years made their home in the picturesque De Fremery place on Adeline street, which is now one of the ideal public playgrounds. The De Fremerys come of a prominent family in Holland, and they were one of Oakland's pioneer families, having built their home many years ago in West Oakland.

Miss Mathews was a very popular student in the University of California and the young girls of her sorority have offered her many compliments in honor of her approaching marriage. Miss Marjorie Slate, the young daughter of Professor and Mrs. Slate, gave a luncheon in her honor, and she was the complimented guest at a tea that Miss Leila McKibben gave on Tuesday.

Miss Mathews has chosen for her attendants the Misses Winifred Humphrey, Margaret Griffith, Lucy Pierce, Virginia von Loben Sels and Rutheda Hunt. The last named bridesmaid is from Indiana.

Mr. Von Loben Sels has also announced the ushers, as follows: Fred McGraw, Donald De Fremery, James De Fremery Jr., and Harold Baxter.

After the ceremony there will be a reception at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. B. Seabury.

The Seaburys are among the most prominent people of Berkeley. The late Captain Seabury commanded for many years one of the large steamers sailing to the Orient, and Mrs. Seabury is a very popular club woman of Berkeley, having been at one time president of the historic Town and Gown Club.

DR. AND MRS. LOHSE HAVE RETURNED.

Dr. and Mrs. John Louis Lohse have returned from abroad, where they have been spending the time since their marriage over a year ago. Their BEAUTIFUL HOME OF THE FRANK J. WOODWARDS.

Among Berkeley's most beautiful homes is that of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Woodward, which is on Piedmont avenue, in the lower foothills. It is an exceedingly artistic home, with a lovely hill view, and looking out upon wonderful scenic effects on the bay. The Woodwards recently returned from their summer outing at Alta, where Mr. Woodward a few months ago built a most picturesque country place.

Mrs. Frank Woodward, who is one of Berkeley's most hospitable younger matrons, has sent out cards for a dance, to be given at her home on the evening of August 26th. Mrs. Woodward's guest of honor is to be Miss Dora Rogers of Los Angeles, who, with her mother, is visiting friends in Berkeley.

Mrs. Woodward will entertain about a hundred young people, most of whom belonged to the same dancing club last winter. Most of the young guests are still in school, as is Miss Gwendolen Woodward, the very attractive daughter of the Woodward home.

Indeed, Berkeley is very gay in a social way in these late mid-summer days. There are compliments for brides-elect, and affairs in honor of departing friends.

Professor and Mrs. Charles Mills Gayley have an attractive home on Piedmont avenue, not far from the Woodward residence. Their daughter, Miss Mary Gayley, was the hostess last week at an informal dance given for Miss Corona Williams, who leaves in a few days for Vassar, in which institution she is to complete her college course.

SOCIETY NEWS of the WEEK

MISS ENID GREGG of San Francisco, who is a constant visitor on this side of the bay, where she has a host of friends.

new home at Linda Vista is in process of construction, and meantime they are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walsh. Mrs. Lohse (Marian Walsh) has always been exceedingly popular with her friends, and so her welcome home has been along very cordial lines, many complimentary affairs having been planned in her honor.

Mrs. Maurice Walsh (Elsie Campbell), has sent out cards for bridge for the afternoon of September 5th, having planned the bridge party in honor of Mr. Walsh's sister, Mrs. John Louis Lohse.

STUDY CLASSES ARE BEING ORGANIZED.

Study classes along many lines are being organized for the coming winter, and almost all our prominent matrons have elected to go on with some line of intellectual work.

The Ebell study courses are all in a prosperous condition and the French and German courses have outlines which promise exceedingly good work

Miss Julia Colby, who was the curator of the Shakespeare section of the Ebell Club last year, is to continue in that important position, much to the joy of the members of that section. Miss Colby is one of the leading Shakespearean students on the coast, and a writer of vary marked ability.

Under her leadership the Shakespearean section will study "Macbeth" this coming winter, and "Macbeth" is a tragedy which will repay the student for the time spent upon it.

Many of our prominent women were members of the summer school at Berkeley this year, studying specially along English lines with Doctor Richard Burton of the University of Minnesota. One of the representative women who was a student under Doctor Burton this year sends the following appreciation of his work:

"The University of California is to be congratulated upon having in its summer session such a man as Doctor Richard Burton, head of the English department of the University of Minnesota. He is a Harvard man, a thorough student and a gentleman of wide culture. Lecturers we have had galore, scholarly, academic, a product of the schools and colleges. Dr. Burton rises far above the level in that he is not only a scholar, but a live man, treating his subjects in a vital manner, as a part of human life.

"'The Novel' and 'Modern Drama' were handled by him in a masterly way. One was wakened up to realize that what we read and the plays we encourage are 'living issues' to organized society. He belongs to the best order of critics, whose view of literature is part and parcel of his view of life. He is that most rare and valuable builder, a constructive critic, holding fast to what is wholesome, intelligent, progressive and rejecting only what is unworthy and vicious in tendency. Dr. Burton measures up as an intellectual aristocrat with a heart warm toward struggling humanity. Wit and humor permeate his thoughts, illuminating and warming his theme, and his audience, like sweet, wholesome sunshine. His delivery is infused with a fine vitalized power, inspiring to his listeners. All these things make him what he is—a natural-born dispenser of the light, a genius in establishing mental companionship between his audience and himself. Inspiration and lasting benefit must result from association with the mind of a man so fair and broad in judgment, so persuasive and eloquent in the exposition of his subjects. 'May thy light shine' again upon us, soon, very soon, Dr. Burton."

He has been recently lecturing in Los Angeles, and under the auspices of prominent women of San Francisco he is to give a lecture on Browning in the red room of the Hotel St. Francis.

MR. AND MRS. VOLKMANN BACK FROM TRIP.

Mr. and Mrs. William Volkmann (Gladys Meek) have returned from Tahoe and are spending some days with Mrs. Meek at "The Orchards," the Meek family home near San Lorenzo.

The William Volkmanns have taken an attractive cottage in the Piedmont district, and they are planning to spend the coming winter on this side of the bay.

HALL RECOVERING FROM ILLNESS.

Frederick Hall and his children, Herbert and Myra Hall, have been very ill of typhoid fever at the Adler Sanitarium in San Francisco. Miss Myra Hall, who has recently been a student at the Ransome School, is one of the most attractive girls of the younger set, a very beautiful girl, of the brunette type. The Halls are all recovering from what threatened to be an exceedingly dangerous illness.

DR. JOHN DUNN BACK FROM EUROPE.

Paul Verdier, manager of the City of Paris, returned last week from a trip to the East and Europe. Mr Verdier was accompanied on his homeward trip by Dr. John M. Dunn, who spent the summer abroad. Dr. Dunn is once more occupying his apartments at the Hotel St. Francis, where he will spend the coming winter.

WILL VISIT DAUGHTER IN THE SOUTH.

Mrs. T. B. Coghill has gone to Los Angeles, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs John Trainor, formerly Bessie Coghill.

Miss Lou Harvey of San Francisco is spending some days with Mrs. John A. Stanly while her daughter, Mrs. Coghill, is in the south.

TWENTY YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND.

"Twenty Years Ago Today in Oakland." That is the introduction to an invitation which comes to one with exceeding interest, and which many friends accept with great pleasure.

On one side of the invitation marked "Twenty Years Ago" one finds the program of a musical recital in which the participants were Sigmund Beel, Miss Lizzie Boyer and Miss Augusta Lowell. They were three very young artists in those days, not long out of school, but all giving promise of great things in the future, a promise which has been well fulfilled. Miss Lizzie Boyer has won a high place in New York, having developed a wonderful contralto voice. Sigmund Beel is a famous European violinist, and Augusta Lowell, who is now Mrs. Edwin Garthwaite, is one of the finest organists on the coast.

For years she was one of New York's famous organists; then she married Edwin Garthwaite, going out to South Africa, where their home was for years.

It is Mrs. Edwin Garthwaite who has sent out the unique invitation, into which she has woven much sentiment, and one knows that something very deep and sweet will be interwoven with the program, for the introduction reads:

"Respectfully dedicated to my parents and to my teachers, the late John P. Morgan, Oakland, and Mr. Samuel P. Warren, New York."

Mrs. Garthwaite is to give three superb organ numbers, and there appears on the program, also, Lowell Redfield, Mrs. Garthwaite's nephew, and her two sons, Wymond and Edwin Garthwaite. Master Wymond plays on the violin and Master Edwin on the violoncello.

"It is requested that there be no applause, encores nor flowers."

While no flowers may be sent to Mrs. Garthwaite, good wishes may take their place, and so, twenty years from now, may she give another anniversary program, and may many old friends be again assembled to hear it!

BRIDGE HOSTESS OF THE WEEK.

Mrs. Andrew Moseley was a bridge hostess of the week, entertaining yesterday at her home on Madison street. Mrs. Moseley's guests included all the members of the Monday Bridge Club, who have played together so many seasons, as well as other guests. Among the very good bridge players who were entertained by Mrs. Moseley were Mrs. Frank L. Brown, Mrs. William White, Mrs. M W. Kales, Mrs. Lillian Everts, Mrs. E. R. Folger, the Misses Kales, Mrs. Robert Knight, Mrs. Harry Knowles, the list including many good players of the Lakeside District, in which the Moseleys have now for some years made their home.

MR. AND MRS. BISHOP HAVE RETURNED.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bishop and their children returned to their Oakland home recently, having spent the entire summer at McCray's, near Cloverdale.

Mrs. Bishop is one of the most stunning of the younger matrons. She is always beautifully gowned, and she has the magnetic, sympathetic personality which make her one of the most popular hostesses on our side of the bay.

THE JUNIOR ASSEMBLY.

The Junior Assembly, with the same patronesses as last year will shortly be reorganized, the first dance to take place in the latter part of October at Maple Hall.

WILL SOON LEAVE FOR THE EAST.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W Van Sicklen and Miss Dorothy Van Sicklen are to leave for the East in the near future, where they will spend the autumn and winter. They are planning an extended motor trip through the New England States.

Mark Requa is in New York, and is a guest at the Hotel Plaza.

HAVE GONE TO THEIR EASTERN HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Dubernet and their charming young daughter, Miss Euphraisie Dubernet, who have been the guests of the William Shrocks, are en route for their Eastern home. They are going East by way of the Canadian Rockies, and are spending some days at that picturesque northern resort, Lake Louise, which is in the heart of superb forests.

WILL BE HOSTESS AT A BRIDGE PARTY.

Mrs. Traylor Bell and Mrs. George Chase are to be hostesses at a bridge party which they are planning to give in honor of Miss Amy Scoville of New York.

Mrs. Bell (Helen Chase) spent two years at the Scoville School in New York, and Miss Scoville was among her intimate friends there. The bridge afternoon will include the young girls and young matrons who formed many friendships in the Scoville school.

KINDERGARTEN FETE.

The kindergarten fete at Piedmont Park on September 3d is being eagerly anticipated by its many patrons. The baby show has always been the chief attraction. Among the prizes are silver mugs, spoons, photograph orders, garden sets, toys, a mush set, ten in all, for the ten most attractive children under five years of age.

Miss Hilma Buttlar's pupils will give some original dances, notable numbers being "The Spirit of the Woods," Marguerite Man; toe dances, Margaret Gailbault, Dolores Fleishman; "Summer Girl," Eileen Bonner.

Some of these little tots will be remembered from the days of the Kirmess, where their dancing was so fascinating.

Milton Schwartz is down for one of his famous monologues, which are always a source of great enjoyment. The pupils of Miss Merriman's school are to give an exhibition of folk dancing, being trained by Miss Ethel Coplin and Miss Grace Burrill, and this promises to be one of the great specialities of the day. Hayden's Kinder Symphony, under the direction of Mrs. E. N. Ewer, will be given by an orchestra of ten young ladies, after which the "Will of the Wisp" song from Liberty Bell will be sung and acted by May Geraldine Farrell and six assistants. Mrs. Henry Hastings will close the performance with an original monologue.

Really, the ladies are almost ashamed to offer so much for such a small admission fee. The Piedmont orchestra will play in the park during the afternoon. The five kindergartens represented are:

West Oakland Free Kindergarten—Mrs. Bruce Hayden, president; Mrs. W. G. Palmanteer, Mrs. J. T. Wright, Mrs. L. H. Marquart, Mrs. William Creed, Mrs. George Klopp, Mrs. E. C. Farnham, Mrs. Henry Wadsworth, Mrs. William Hall, Mrs. Edgar Stone, Mrs. William Morris, Mrs. Edgar Bishop, Mrs. N. A Acker, Mrs. Franklin Bangs, Mrs. Robert Watt, Mrs. C. F. Houghton, Mrs. Horry Meek.

North Oakland—Mrs. Anna Parcells, president; Mrs George Chambers, Mrs. W. W. Lovejoy, Miss Ilma Chase, Miss Maude Collier, Miss Hazel Merritt, Miss Margaret Taylor, Mrs. J. R. Scupham.

East Oakland—Mrs. F. E. Frick, president; Mrs. J. W. White, Mrs. Jos. Vane, Mrs. William Mann, Mrs. C. W. Armes, Mrs. C. W. Brewster, Miss Ethel Johnson, Miss Henrietta Frear, Miss Nellie Hutchinson, Miss Claribel Williams, Miss Helen Presbo, Mrs. Lewis Harvey, Miss Adeline Blood, Miss Lilian Cushing, Miss Emma Davies, Miss Violet Wakefield, Miss Mary Rust.

Central Free Kindergarten—Mrs. Thomas Crellin, president, Mrs. W. T. Veitch, Mrs. E B. Stone, Mrs. T. C. Coogan, Mrs. E. B Beck, Mrs. W. Letts Oliver, Mrs. Moylan Fox, Mrs. A. T. Eastland, Mrs. E A. Heron, Mrs. William Clift, Mrs J. R. Burnham, Mrs. C. O. Brown, Mrs. C. E. Snook, Mrs. Gordon Stolp, Mrs. Peder Sather, Mrs. H. G. Thomas, Mrs. A. Esterbrook, Mrs. E M. Walsh.

Good Will Kindergarten—Miss Eva Pierce, president; Mrs. J. H. Brewer, Mrs. Davis Gage, Mrs. F M. Hurd, Mrs. M L. Johnson, Mrs. Alfred G Mitchell, Mrs. Anna Pitman, Mrs. G. E. Wilson, Mrs. Geo. Jensen, Mrs. A. L. Larkey, Mrs. A. H. Marquart, Mrs. F. E. Wills.

Among others assisting will be Miss Mae Coogan, Mrs. Frank Kinsey, Mrs. George S. Lackie, Miss Ethel Johnson, Mrs. Seth Talcott, Miss Helen High, Miss Timia Thamp, Miss Edith Armes, Miss Doris Badgley, Miss Marian Greenwood, Miss Ruth de Laguna, Miss Marguita de Laguna, Emil Cockerton, Jean Scupham, Marian Finger, Pauline Chamberlain, Alice Watson, Marguerite Morrison, Vera Miller, Isabel Armstrong, Leila Smith, Ruth Schlueter, Dorothy Berthold, Elsie Posey, Helen Coogan, Charlotte Hurd, Vibella Martin, Helen Playter, Gladys Hall, Margaret Martin, Florence Holloway, Laura Holloway, Florence Hood.

COMINGS AND GOINGS OF SOCIETY PEOPLE.

The San Francisco smart set is still at Del Monte almost in its entirety, though Monday will see most of the enthusiastic golfers and the others, who go along merely as spielers and applauders, at home. There will now begin a round of country house parties which will last during September, two of the September holidays being especially well arranged for week-end parties. October will see people coming to town for good, especially as there will be at least two large weddings to bring them home. Miss Christine Pomeroy and Thomas Scott Brooke will be married at the Pomeroy home some time in October and Miss Edith Pillsbury has also chosen October for her wedding month to Walter Bliss. Miss Florence Ives and Othello Scribner will be married some time in November and Miss Helena Irwin has announced February as her bridal month.

Two large and beautiful dinners marked the end of last week at Del Monte. One was the birthday dinner which Mrs. W. H. Irwin gave in honor of her husband, W. H. Irwin, whose natal day it was. It was an orchid dinner, the table beautifully decorated with a huge centerpiece of the flowers, shading from lavender into purple. At each plate was a hand-painted name card decorated with orchids and two large cateleyas in a nest of moss were at each place. There were about forty guests, including both the married and the younger set.

The next evening Mr. and Mrs. George Pope gave a beautiful Spanish dinner in honor of Miss Helene Irwin and Charles Templeton Crocker, her fiance. The affair took place at Pebble Beach Lodge, whither the guests were taken in automobiles. The decorations were especially effective, being of huge red dahlias and yellow candles under yellow and red shades. The effect was brilliant and most suggestive of the lovely ardent days "before the gringo came." There was Spanish music by mandolins and guitars and after dinner dancing was enjoyed. Again the list was composed of a mixture of the married and unmarried sets, and there were a number of bridge tables for the elders.

This week there has not been so much entertaining except at smaller and less formal affairs, as everyone has been on the links and at night has been too tired for much gaiety. Even the young girls, including Miss Ethel Crocker and Miss Isabel McLaughlin, have been playing. Miss Crocker won and is said to play a very good game. After all, there is nothing which makes one so sleepy as playing golf. The swallowing of so much fresh air and the fact that one walks six miles without knowing it inclines one for slumber after dinner.

Mr and Mrs. William H Crocker William Crocker Jr. and Miss Ethel Crocker will return to their home

HEART—TRIBUNE'S PAGE FOR WOMEN—HOME

Women Challenge the Supremacy of Man On the Seas

LONDON.—In these go-ahead days, when gently-bred ladies leave their boudoirs to hunt "grizzlies" on the Rocky Mountains, to shoot lions and tigers in Indian jungles, and to stalk the deer on the Highland hills, it is not surprising to see them challenging the supremacy of mere man on the high seas in the skilful and daring management of a yacht.

Indeed, there are today hundreds of woman—many of them queens of society—who understand as much about sailing a yacht as the majority of their masculine rivals. Lady Tweedmouth is just as much at home at the helm as at stalking and bringing down a stag at Guisachan, N. B.; the Marchioness of Graham spends many of her happiest days sailing her yacht on Scottish waters, the Duchess of Fife can steer a boat as well as she can land a 20 pound salmon, and among the almost countless ladies of rank who can hold their own at the helm with any man are Lady Annesley, the Duchess of Newcastle, Lady Constance Scott and Lady Broadalbane.

SKILL IN RACING.

It is only recently that ladies have really begun to show that they can not only sail a yacht, but they can win races against some of the most skilful helmsmen in England. Only a short time ago Miss Turner-Farley entered her six-meter class racing boat Correnzia at the British trials in the Solent, to decide which boat should represent England in the great international race at Kiel Regatta this year. Among the competitors were some of the very best amateurs ever seen on the Solent waters, but to the amazement of those who witnessed the race Miss Turner-Farley beat them all, and thus won the proud distinction of representing her country.

But Miss Turner-Farley has many dangerous rivals of her own sex, whose prowess has been admired in many a race on the Solent and elsewhere. The Duchess of Westminster—a daughter of Colonel Cornwallis-West—owns a very beautiful and swift yacht, Sosais, which she has piloted to victory, or very near it, in many an exciting race; and Lady Margaret Macrae, sister of the Marquess of Bute, is among the very few ladies who have qualified for a master's certificate, and is thus entitled to navigate her steam-yacht Faioleag herself.

A familiar figure on the Solent is Miss Barbara Hughes, who is such an expert helmswoman that she has, and expresses, a very poor opinion indeed of man as a sailor. Miss Cox, of the Speedwell, and Mrs. Schenley, of the Duc, have given excellent accounts of themselves in many a close race, and a few years ago Miss Cust's two 40-ft yachts, Cuckoo and Cuckoo II., figured conspicuously in the racing records.

"Helen Gould," First Western Pacific Baby

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 27. — Passengers who journeyed from San Francisco eastward over the Western Pacific were treated to a pleasant surprise when asked to officiate at an impromptu christening in the chair car of their train at sunrise yesterday.

The ceremony was in honor of Helen Gould Clarke, the first babe born on the new transcontinental route. The infant first saw the light at Knolls station 100 miles west of Salt Lake. On reaching here mother and child were taken to the hospital. Physicians say both are doing nicely.

Royal Friendship Noted

LONDON.—The fast friendship of the Princess of Connaught and the Crown Princess of Sweden has called forth the praise of King George, who, in a recent conversation with a number of British matrons, pointed the two as a shining example of what womanly love should be. The Princess of Connaught is to visit her royal cousin in the near future.

Girl Turns Detective To Save Her Brother

NEW YORK.—Intent upon saving her brother's life, Miss Molly Roth of No. 319 East Eighth street has turned detective to clear Abraham Roth of No. 24 Rivington street, of the charge that he killed his wife Bertha on the night of July 27 last.

Miss Roth investigated the circumstances surrounding the alleged murder and the attempted suicide of Abraham, and became convinced that her brother was innocent. She engaged Moses A. Sachs of the Pulitzer Building to defend Roth. She advanced the theory that Mrs. Roth attacked her husband after a bitter quarrel, which was heard by the neighbors, and that after gashing His throat with a butcher knife she stabbed herself.

Roth was discharged as cured yesterday from Bellevue Hospital, where he had been a prisoner since his arrest. In the Essex Market Court Magistrate Kernochan remanded him to the coroner, who will hold him without bail for a hearing next Thursday. He was committed to the Tombs.

Sachs said yesterday that Solomon, twelve years, and Mollie, ten, two of the five Roth children, would be witnesses for the defense. It had been said the youngsters would be used by the district attorney to testify against their father.

The police version of the crime is that Roth, at the height of the quarrel with his wife, drove his five children into a corner and then attacked their mother with a knife. He plunged the weapon into her throat and then gashed his own. Mrs. Roth either hurled herself or fell out of a window and struck on a fire escape two floors below. She was dead when found.

Roth persisted in saying that he awoke to see his wife standing over him with an upraised knife. The children told the police it was their father that made the attack but Miss Roth believes they now will clear their father.

Where Girl Students Toil

Students at the College of Housecraft, London, arise at 6.30 and attend to all the work of the establishment. The steps have to be brushed and whitened, the hall door brasses polished, the kitchen grate is cleaned and the fire laid; breakfast has to be prepared and the dining room put in order by 8 o'clock. The bedrooms next occupy attention, beds being made and rooms dusted and arranged for the day. On certain days laundry work occupies the students, the certificated teachers giving demonstrations of household washing of every description, including washing and making-up of fine laces, silks and woolens.

The proper methods to be employed for the care and cleaning of laundry utensils are also shown. In the cooking class special attention is devoted to the planning of menus according to the season of the year and to the requirements of particular households. The making of cake and bread, jams and pickles is also taught, and the students are initiated into the mysteries of marketing—how to buy meat, fish, vegetables and fruit.

Simple renovations in upholstery, mending of household linen, use of the sewing machine, the making of polishes and cleaning pastes, the scientific way of carrying out spring cleaning with a minimum of discomfort to the household, are but a few of the items included in the curriculum at the college. The reason for a thing being done, and for it being done in a particular way, is always explained to the students.

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING

People who followed the stories of the Roosevelt family's travels in Africa and Europe will have taken note of the modesty, the uniform excellent taste and good sense which marked Mrs. Roosevelt's part in the ceremonies of which her famous husband was the center. Mrs. Roosevelt's name appeared little in the newspapers; she attracted just as little attention as possible to herself, and she succeeded in enlisting the sympathetic co-operation of the American correspondents in keeping her in the background. Mrs. Roosevelt's social skill never showed to better advantage than during this tour. She managed always to avoid either the extreme of self-effacement or any undue assumption that the distinctions showed upon Col. Roosevelt were intended for anybody else than him.—Success Magazine.

* * *

Now, take a sport which has in it no element of muscular force, but is all grace and rythm, balance and skill—skating, to-wit. Here women are not only equal but superior to men. I am alluding, of course, to figure and free, not to speed skating. For many years past Mrs. Edgar Syres, an English skater, has been queen of the rink. Since attaining her full powers this gifted skater has won championships galore, and in the winning has beaten the world's best skaters. Only Herr Ulrich Salchow, seven times world's champion, may be regarded as Mrs. Syers' superior, and one other, the inimitable Herr H. Grenander, whose free skating displays have for years been the delight of Prince's Skating Club, Knightsbridge. It is a notable fact that Mrs. Syers has never been beaten by an English skater. Another member of the fair sex to win renown on the rink and to beat the men in open competition is Mrs. Greenough Smith, the wife of a prominent London editor. Her most noteworthy performance was winning the amateur championship of Great Britain. Lady Helen Vincent, the Duchess of Bedford, the Hon. Irene Lawley, Miss Lycett, Miss Somerville and scores of other women demonstrate each season at Prince's that skating, like dancing, is peculiarly adapted to the special endowments of the sex.—Tit-Bits.

GIRL OF 12 WRITES PLAYS THAT PROMISES TO BRING HER FAME

NEW YORK.—Though Ermina Carry, daughter of Edward F. Carry and wife of Highland Park, Chicago, is only 12 years old, she has blossomed as an author. Her first play is called "A Fairy's Year." It reveals unusual imaginative power in a girl so young and has a poetic strain considered remarkable. The play was presented recently on the lawn of the Carry home and more than $200 was realized for charity. It proved so popular that another performance was demanded and still more money was added to the charity fund.

Liberty Girls Refuse to Hop Like Kangaroos

Hobble Skirt a la Paris Won't Be Tolerated by Miss America; Edict Goes Forth.

To hobble or not to hobble?

Has that long disputed question which has been harrassing femininity ever since the first echo of fall fashions resounded from Paris been settled at last?

It has, declare eastern experts. American women will not wear them. What! Sacrifice the long, graceful swing which has grown to be a world acknowledged characteristic of girls on this side of the ocean? Never.

Let the French woman "hobble" and the Egyptian maid "wiggle," if she will. The daughters of liberty will have none of it. The edict has gone forth. Tailors who have been waiting with suspended shears and bated breath for the final decision are at rest.

But if we are not to wear hobble skirts we are going in for long straight lines with a vengeance, declare the dictators. Coats and skirts are to be "slim and straight." As straight as possible in fact, and—whisper it softly—slim to the last degree.

LICENSE YEAR OLD; FIANCE DISAPPEARS

NEW YORK.—Although the relatives and friends of Miss Emma Sorenson, aged 21, of No. 141 Bay Thirteenth street, Bath Beach, have believed that she married William Thompson on August 11, 1909, the wedding never took place, according to the story told by the young woman. Her fiance mysteriously dropped out of sight last Thursday.

The young woman and Thompson obtained a license August 11 of last year. Their acquaintances were allowed to think that the ceremony had been performed on that day, and the couple lived in the same house at No. 457A Halsey street. Six months ago they moved to Bath Beach.

Recently the license bureau discovered that the license had never been returned as prescribed by law. An officer, sent to investigate, found the couple, who informed him they had never wed because they had been unable to find a clergyman satisfactory to both principals. Miss Sorenson said they had called on several ministers, but all were ill or out of town. She had urged Thompson to have the ceremony performed, she said, but he always persuaded her to put it off for a few days.

When Miss Sorenson returned home from work on Thursday she found the house deserted. On a table in the parlor was a brief note. It read:

"Don't worry. I have gone away to get a job. Will be back soon. WILL."

Playwright's Wife is An Accused Poisoner

ST. NAZAIRE, France.—The police are investigating the accusation made by servants discharged from the Berton Villa here that Mme. Pierre Berton frequently tried to poison her daughter-in-law, Mme. Claude Berton, daughter of a Chicago physician.

Pierre Berton, one of the best known men in Paris, is descended from generations of actors. His grandfather was Samson, of the Comedie Francaise. He is the author or collaborator of "Zaza," "La Belle Marseillaise" and other plays, adaptations of some of which have been applauded in America. For ten years he has been the instructor of the Paris public school teachers in elocution.

The servants, after dismissal from the villa, where the younger Berton and his family have been residing with his parents, talked about frequent and violent quarrels between Mme. Pierre and Mme. Claude Berton. They told of mysterious white powders served by Mme. Pierre Berton to her daughter-in-law, which in one case proved fatal to a dog to which the dish was fed. The younger Mme. Berton, apparently crediting the stories, left her father-in-law's home, and the police, skeptical at first, were forced to investigate.

They learned first that Claude had compelled his wife to return to the villa and that she confirmed largely the servants' story. But she positively refuses to make any charge against her mother-in-law.

Vanity Leads Miss to Border of Grave

BLOOMINGTON Ind.—Looking at herself in a hand mirror and unmindful of where she was going Miss Esther Constable, aged sixteen, a guest at the home of her grandfather, Elijah Smallwood, near here, walked into a cistern and was nearly drowned before Ben Porter rescued her.

The lid of the cistern on the rear porch of the farmhouse was open and the girl, intent on the reflection of her comely features in the looking glass, walked into the opening. She became unconscious and would have lost her life in the five feet of water had not the screams of her grandmother attracted neighbors.

Mounted, She Pursues Auto

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. — As Miss Myra Lloyd Dock, a member of the forestry board was driving toward Caledonia, a big auto containing State Senator Charles H. Kline and other Pittsburg national guardsmen came speeding along and frightened Miss Dock's horse, nearly causing a runaway.

She pursued the party for 11 miles and caused the arrest of Senator Kline and two other guardsmen who would not give their names. In Magistrate McNulty's court Miss Dock brought charges of failing to observe danger signals and not keeping to the right side of the road against the speeders.

Senator Kline and his party were fined $15 and costs each. The senator admitted that he had helped to make the law he was afterward guilty of violating.

THE MEDDLER

(Con. from Preceding Page)

"New Place," in Burlingame, today. On Thursday evening, September 8th, Mrs. Crocker will give a ball in honor of her daughter, who is to be a debutante this year. The affair is given thus early in the season because Miss Crocker, with her mother and father, is going abroad later in the season to have a winter in Paris and London. In Paris her aunt, the Princess Poniatowski, will introduce her to the inner circles of St. Germain, where she is already known, and the Whitelaw Reids, who are intimate friends of the Crockers and connections by marriage through the Blastons and Mills, who intermarried with the Crocker family, will do much for her in London. The Countess Granard and Mrs. John Ward are both cousins of Miss Ethel Crocker's cousin, Jennie Crocker, and altogether her first winter in society will be a notable one for this charming young girl, so beloved of the gods.

The ball for the debutante daughter will also be the formal housewarming and opening of "New Place," the Crockers' charming new home in Burlingame. It is a beautiful house, which has been building for several years, while the grounds have been preparing for a dozen years at least and are now well grown. The house is beautiful in its interior and has been decorated and furnished in accordance with the taste of its artistic chatelaine, assisted by Miss Elsie de Wolfe. Most of the furnishings were gathered abroad and have been in Mrs. Crocker's possession for many years.

ON THE McCLOUD RIVER.

Judge and Mrs. James A. Cooper are spending a fortnight with William Whittier in his attractive bungalow on the McCloud river, where there is such excellent fishing, hunting and riding. Judge and Mrs. Cooper have just returned from several weeks spent at Tahoe Tavern, where they go every summer, Judge Cooper being particularly fond of the mountains. Miss Ethel Cooper has returned from Del Monte, where she was chaperoned by Mrs. J. Downey Harvey and is at her Pacific-avenue home. She will leave in a few days for a fortnight or so at Santa Barbara, where she will be the guest of Mrs. William McKittrick.

ENJOYING SANTA BARBARA.

Santa Barbara has missed Miss Elizabeth and Miss Marion Newhall this week. They came up for the galeties at Del Monte, Miss Elizabeth being in the party of Mrs. Henry Scott and Miss Marion with other friends. They will return Monday to Santa Barbara, where they will spend the month of September. Mrs. Newhall accompanied them to San Francisco, as did Mayo Newhall, Jr., who leaves soon for his school in the East.

Mrs. Harry Sherman and her two daughters are at the Potter in Santa Barbara.

Miss Maren Froelich, who has been residing in Paris for some years, where she has been studying art, and where she became an exhibitor in the salon, has returned to California, where she will henceforth make her home. She returned by the southern route, and was overcome by the excessive heat and dust. She has been for some weeks the guest of Mrs. John Evelyn Page on Garden street, in Santa Barbara, and is now the guest of Mrs. Burling while she recovers her strength. She will return to San Francisco in the fall.

HAVE GONE TO CHINA.

A great many people were at the Korea on Tuesday to say good-bye to the prominent people who sailed on that day on the Korea to spend some months in the Orient. The steamer was very gay with a band and many flowers and handsome gifts to make the journey pleasant. Among the people who went on this trip were Richard M. Hotaling, Charles K. Field and Mr. and Mrs. William Gerstle and Miss Miriam Gerstle. The party will go directly to China, where a two months' stay will be made. Much attention is to be paid to commercial interests there, with a view to advancing the sale of Pacific Coast products in the Orient. After thoroughly "seeing China," the party will break up and each one go his own way, some to Manila, some to Japan, though it will then be rather late in the year to see the Flowery Kingdom at its best. Most of the party expect to be at home just before Christmas. Tuesday was a beautiful day for sailing—very warm, with placid waters and every promise of a warm and fair "first day out," after which the swift ship will soon drop down into the smooth and oily seas of the tropics, when deck life becomes so enjoyable. For the passengers who have not private baths there will be a big tarpaulin stretched, in which there will be a salt water swimming pool. The Korea will spend a part of a day at Honolulu, where the passengers will have time to see the Pali and Waikiki, the two points of greatest interest near Honolulu.

RETURNED FROM EUROPE.

Miss Kate Field has returned from Europe, where she spent the spring and summer, and is with her mother at the Los Altos home of Charles K. Field. Miss Field has been at school in the East for two years and took a three months' run over Europe this summer. Mrs. Field has other house guests at present, including her friend, Mrs. Emma Shotwell, and Miss Bruntsch. On Monday evening of this week the Field family had a reunion at the Russell Field home in Alameda, the first time that all the members have been together for three years. The next day Charles Field departed for China.

FAREWELL DINNERS FOR MR. HOTALING.

A number of farewell dinners were given to Mr. Hotaling just before his departure for the Orient. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conlisk gave a large dinner, at which they entertained about forty guests at one of the down town cafes in the Bohemian quarter of San Francisco.

Dr. and Mrs. Russell H. Cool gave a farewell house party in honor of Mr. Hotaling, at which Mrs. Isabel Strong of Santa Barbara was one of the guests.

On Friday evening of last week Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Aiken of Los Altos gave a Chinese dinner in honor of Mr. Hotaling and Mr. Field. Sixteen guests were entertained at the Aiken home at Los Altos at a dinner of Chinese viands, including chop suey, each dish being eaten with chopsticks. All the guests were in Chinese costume, some of them being grotesque and some of them exceedingly handsome. After dinner some forty or more additional guests, also in Chinese costume, came across the Los Altos fields and joined the Aiken party on the verandas around the house.

Among Mr and Mrs Aiken's guests at dinner were Dr and Mrs. Russell Cool, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith, Mrs. Henry K. Field, Mrs. Shotwell, Miss Bruntsch, Mrs. Isobel Strong, Orrin Peck, Richard Hotaling, Charles K. Field, Mr. and Mrs. Curtiss Hillyer and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sanborn.

CHARITY OUTLOOK FOR THE WINTER.

There are to be several large charity affairs the coming winter. Among these will be a fine production of "The Mikado," with amateur talent for the benefit of several charities. The plan is now to run the popular Gilbert and Sullivan opera for a week, giving the proceeds for each night to a different charity, each charity working to make its own particular night a success.

There is to be another Kirmess this winter, also for a local charity, and managed by the same Miss Stewart who did it so successfully in San Francisco winter before last. Miss Stewart was in Los Angeles last year and their Kirmess was a huge success, financially and socially.

* * *

ENTERTAINING FOR MISS CARLYLE.

Mrs. Andrew S. Rowan entertained at tea for Miss Carlyle, the miniature artist, yesterday afternon and a number of interesting and charming women gathered at Mrs. Rowan's pretty home on Russian Hill to meet Miss Carlyle and also to meet Mrs. William Younger of Paris, who shared with Miss Carlyle the position of honored guest.

Miss Carlyle was entertained last week by Mrs. Richard Bayne at her pretty home on Jordan avenue. Among the guests were Mrs. McNutt, Mrs. James Tucker, Miss Susie Russell, Mrs. Selfridge, Mrs. Frank Deering, Mrs. George H. Mondell, Jr., and Mrs. Walter MacGavin.

THE MEDDLER.

SOCIETY

MISS JANET and Miss Pauline Painter will entertain next Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Frances Pierce of San Francisco who will leave early next month for Wellesley College.

A luncheon at the Palace followed by a matinee party will be the entertainment of the day. The guests for the occasion include Miss Marie Louise Tyson, Miss Frances Ramsey, Miss Ethel Gregg, Miss Dorothy Mann and Miss Pierce.

Miss Pierce is a member of the younger San Francisco set and is a frequent visitor on this side of the bay.

RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENTS MARK THE CAREER OF HIRAM W. JOHNSON

Prowess as a Baseball Pitcher Taught Him to Throw Sentences All Around His Opponents, Declares His Father

Studied Law Under Supervision of Parent and Made His Debut as an Attorney Shortly After Reaching His Majority

By GROVE L. JOHNSON

Hiram Warren Johnson, Republican candidate for Governor of California, made his first bow before a small but enthusiastic audience in Sacramento, California, September 2, 1866. He was a big fat, good-natured tenpounder and I know because I was present at the time.

He had a pair of lusty lungs that served then to force attention upon him, as they have so well done for him in the recent past. As a boy he was bright, active, full of life and with the usual predisposition of a healthy child for frolic and fight, in both of which he excelled.

As a little boy he had as a companion, a white English bulldog, who thought as much of Hiram as it was possible for a dog to think of his master, and Hiram loved him almost as much as he did his home.

Dog Was Hiram's Faithful Guardian

The dog was a faithful protector of Hiram, and the family never felt the least alarmed as long as they knew "Pete" was with the boy. Since then Hiram has learned to rely upon his powerful right arm and sturdy voice as a protector, and has not needed any bulldog with him, although he has been in many a hot scrap.

He was very studious, both at school and at home, although not the equal in that regard of his elder brother Albert. He attended the common schools in Sacramento, graduated from the high school, and in each department of all the schools he ranked Number One. He developed a passion for baseball, and as a pitcher, batter and manager achieved some fame on the Sacramento diamonds.

Pitching Helped Throwing English

Perhaps it was in pitching ball that he learned to threw sentences clear around his opponent and tangle him up in his denunciations and metaphors. He inherited from his mother a powerful physique and the blessing of good health, as well as a large share of his mentality. She was a woman of unusual intellectual attainments, and Hiram particularly seemed to inherit her frankness of expression and quickness of perception.

After leaving the high school he entered the university and was easily at the head of his class there, but did not take a full course, being ambitious to enter into the struggles of life. He left the university, entered his father's office, commenced the study of the law and passed the tedium of study with baseball management, getting married and a dip into politics.

Studied Shorthand; Is Now Proficient

While attending high school he studied shorthand at home and became, and is today, very proficient in the art. This has enabled him, in trying cases, or debating questions, to have an advantage over his opponents in that he could take down verbatim what was said or done and be ready to reply to it without asking the reporter to read his notes.

His law studies were had under the supervision of his father, who nearly pestered his life out by asking him "why," whenever Hiram would give an answer to a question. At times he asked his mother if she could not drive that word "why" out of his father's head.

This made him study the foundation upon which legal principles rested, and his legal arguments show the benefit of this discipline, because they are based upon the inherent justice of things, and not merely upon the cold text of law books.

Admitted to Bar; Joined His Father

He was admitted to the bar shortly after attaining his majority and immediately entered into partnership with his father and elder brother Albert and practiced his profession in Sacramento. He early took high rank amongst the lawyers in the northern part of the State.

As a youth he was very musical; he was a good singer. In later years he has left the warbling of ditties to others, while the music of his own voice has been heard expounding dry law or asking verdicts of juries in court, or in appealing to audiences upon the political rostrum. In all cases his auditors have enjoyed listening to the various tones of his melodious voice. He inherited from some ancestor—modesty forbids me saying from whom—a penchant for politics, and he plunged into the pool head, shoulders, feet and body with great glee and, like the man he so ardently admires, was always "delighted with a bully fight."

Wins His First Public Office

His first public office was that of corporation counsel of Sacramento under Mayor C. H. Hubbard and then under Mayor Geo. H. Clark. He and his brother Albert, by their eloquence and work, re-elected Clark as an Independent candidate Mayor of Sacramento upon a platform having a single plank—namely, the protection of Sacramento from pool-selling and gambling.

After the election Clark was ready to "fall down" upon the high sounding pre-election promises he had made, but Hiram as corporation counsel and general advisor for the Clark administration, made the Mayor "stand pat," showing that he is a "standpatter" for some things, if not on the tariff question.

But for him the reform administration of Mayor Clark would have been an ignominious failure. In doing this he showed that he inherited from his father the ability to keep a promise, which is the characteristic of that father during his forty-six years of public life in California.

Never Fixed in National Politics

In national politics he has never been able to firmly settle his mind, but has always voted for the candidates he deemed best fitted for the positions to which they aspired.

Hiram moved to San Francisco in 1902 with his family, and entered into the practice of his profession in that city. He came almost unknown to lawyers and laymen of the metropolis of the Pacific Coast, but in a few years his ability as a lawyer, his eloquence as a speaker, his indefatigable exertions in behalf of his clients and his strength of character put him in the very front rank of lawyers and gave him one of the largest practices of any attorney in San Francisco.

He always aims at results in his legal battles, and not at show, although he can, as George Ade says, "put up a good front at times."

He is as full of vehemence and force as Heney, but differs from Heney in being able to accomplish things, as shown by his conviction of Ruef after Heney had failed for months to secure that result.

Has Very Many Good Qualities

He has very many good qualities: He has an ingrained honesty of purpose and action, is temperate in his habits, wonderfully industrious, hard working in whatever matters he undertakes, devoid of guile, truthful, courageous, has a deep scorn for anything low or vicious, a mind attuned to high and noble thoughts and a kindly feeling towards all of his fellowman. As a boy he had friends everywhere, and as a man he has many, and all who win his friendship are closely united to him.

So far in life he has sown no wild oats. It may be that the future will show a field wherein can be reaped a crop of this kind of grain, but I think his forty-four years of life has strengthened him to that extent that we need have no fear of such a remote possibility. If he relies upon himself he will make a splendid Governor. His judgment of men is apt to be blinded by his friendship; hence, his future depends upon his ability to make no mistakes in that regard. He has great confidence in himself and his methods, is impatient under criticism and usually becomes firmer fixed in his opinions by opposition thereto.

Hiram W. Johnson in Action

HIS RISE IN LAW RAPID AND POLITICAL SUCCESS INDICATES BIG ABILITY

Republican Standard Bearer First Held Office as a Corporation Counsel in Sacramento and Made an Enviable Record

Campaign in Primary Election Showed Him to Be Public Speaker of Unexampled Power and Wonderful Magnetism

Made Big Record As Campaigner

He demonstrated in the primary election that has just closed that he was a campaigner equal to any that ever moved in California, and a public speaker of unexampled power and magnetism. As I said months ago, when you saw him you saw the entire Lincoln-Roosevelt League in California.

But for him the L.-R. League would have been a total wreck upon the shoals of an adverse political sea, at the mercy of the winds and waves and riding a derelict to be rescued only by some political boss anxious to make money from the sale of its relics. He vivified the life-blood of the league, put courage into the hearts of its members and led it to victory. A great many people in California, presumably a majority, disagree with him as to the principles he announces, but all the same they seem to have captured the people and enabled him to "bring home the bacon" at the primary.

His father is proud of him, as is natural; proud of the fight he made to get the nomination (while not endorsing his methods), and proud in advance of the fight he will make to get the election (trusting it will be dignified), and if elected will be proud of his election, and hopes that he will be still prouder after he has served his term.

BRIBERY PROBE WENT DEEP IN CHARGES

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 27.—Members of the Congressional committee which has been investigating the Gore bribery charges in connection with Indian land deals in Oklahoma passed through here today.

Representative Charles Burke, chairman of the committee who is also chairman of the House Committee on Indian Affairs, left for his home in Pierre, S. D. Representative C. B. Miller of Minnesota left for Duluth, and Representative P. H. Campbell went to Pittsburg, Kansas. Representative E. W. Saunders of Virginia and J. H. Stephens of Texas left the committee several days ago.

The committee will not make its report until further hearings are held in Washington in November.

PROBE WENT DEEP.

"We are confident we have gone to the bottom of every charge made in connection with the Indians," said Burke.

"We investigated thoroughly the charge made by Senator T. P. Gore that he was offered a bribe of $25,000 or $50,000 to promote the McMurray contracts, and we took perhaps enough testimony concerning the J. F. McMurray contracts for the sale of $30,000,000 worth of Indian lands on a 10 per cent attorneys fee basis to fill two published volumes.

"All the evidence will be sent to Washington and the report made public as soon as possible."

Pretty Girl Thrown From Speeding Car

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Miss May Lazensky, a pretty young woman who refused to give her name to Special Policeman Fred Helbush, was thrown from a Sutter street car at Baker street about midnight and seriously hurt. She was taken on the car to the Children's Hospital, where she was treated for a laceration of the head, and abrasion of the side.

Sleepwalker Steps Off Fast Train and Dies From Shock

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Theodore Churchill, aged 37, walked off a New York Central passenger train in his sleep last night. He did not appear to be badly injured when brought to the Vassar Hospital in this city but he died within a few hours from the shock.

SUPERVISORS TO FIX SCHOOL TAX

Board of Education Places the Matter in Hands of County Officials.

BERKELEY, Aug. 27.—Members of the Board of Education yesterday notified the city council that the matter of the Berkeley school tax had been placed in the hands of the supervisors.

By this action the council can give all its attention to fixing a rate for the city irrespective of the schools. The high school tax is already in the hands of the supervisors.

Clerk Seaborn was instructed to advertise for bids for from thirty to sixty tons of coal for the city hall.

WOMAN BROKE; SLEEPS IN LOT

Mrs. Floy Thompson Says She Has Slumbered in Open for Three Days.

BERKELEY, August 27.—While lying asleep in a vacant lot on University, between Sacramento and Acton street, this morning, Mrs. Floy Thompson, a middle-aged woman, was seen and the police were notified. Mrs Thompson was taken to the station where she said she had come to this city from Fresno two weeks ago. She told the police that she roomed at 1909 Addison street, but that three days ago her money gave out and she was forced to sleep in the open. Her husband lives in Fresno and Mrs. Thompson says she expects him to arrive here soon.

According to the police the woman was in Berkeley a year ago, and at that time excited comment by her peculiar actions. She is being held and will be examined as to her sanity.

D. H. BIBB, JR., IS ARRESTED IN EAST

Son of San Francisco Merchant Held On Charge of Passing Bad Checks.

BERKELEY, August 27.—D. H. Bibb, son of a San Francisco merchant, wanted in this city on a charge of passing a bogus check for $41 85 on A. Fowle a year ago was been arrested in Jackson, Mich. and is being held for the local officers. Word of the arrest was received by Chief Vollmer this morning.

According to the message Bibb is also wanted in Chicago, where he is said to have passed a number of bogus checks. Bibb formerly lived in this city and was well known here.

Palma Circle Gives Its Monthly Banquet

HAYWARD, Aug. 27.—The members of the Palma Circle, Women of Woodcraft, held a monthly dance and banquet last night after the regular meeting. Mrs P. Hoare succeeded Mrs. P. R. Kimball to the office of Magician, owing to the removal of the latter to Modesto. Music for the evening was furnished by Ratanos orchestra, and about 15 invited couples besides the regular members attended. Refreshments were served, the tables being decorated in pink and white. The committee on arrangements consisted of the following: Miss Emma Horn, Mrs. Walter Meyers, Mrs. M. Reid, Miss Anna Owen and Miss Dora Robinson.

Patrolman to Wed In the Near Future

BERKELEY, Aug. 27.—At a tea given at the residence of Mrs J. Petersen, 1934 Chestnut street, Oakland, yesterday afternoon, Miss Estelle Ingersol of Berkeley announced her engagement to F. H. De Pue, a patrolman of this city. About thirty guests were present at the afternoon gathering, among them being Miss Claire McCormick, Miss Florence Barnes, Miss Grace McGuire and Miss Helda Ingersol.

Alameda Personals

OLDEST ALAMEDA RESIDENT TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Menso W. Peck Hopes to Still See the World at 100

ALAMEDA, Aug. 27 — Menso W. Peck, the oldest continuous resident of Alameda, will celebrate his 78th birthday anniversary Sunday afternoon at his home, 2236 Encinal avenue. Surrounded by his grandchildren and many friends, the aged citizen, who has watched the growth of the Encinal city since 1853, will commemorate his approaching four score years and his 57 years of residence here.

Peck was born in Rhode Island August 28, 1832, of an old New England family, and at the age of 21 years came to California, settling in this city. In early days he carried the mail from San Francisco to this city in a fast sailing sloop. For fourteen years he farmed the section of Alameda township now bounded by Paru and Willow streets, Central avenue and the bay, his house occupying the site of St. Joseph's church on Chestnut street.

For a time he farmed the old Waymire tract, now owned by the city and which marks the site of McKinley park. In 1861 Peck married Miss Eleen Marsh, whom he survives. For many years Peck took an important part in municipal affairs and in 1878 was elected a member of the board of education.

Though not rugged in appearance, the pioneer has weathered many storms and with the aid of a virile, wiry constitution, hopes to outlive the century mark. Mrs. Charles Hewes and Miss Anita Winant are grandchildren of the aged resident.

12-YEAR-OLD GIRL KILLS MAD DOG WITH REVOLVER AFTER CHASE ON HORSE

Mattie Chilton Braves Death to Save Children From Horrible Fate; Margaret Illington Returns

COVINA, Cal., Aug. 27.—Miss Mattie Chilton, 12 years old, killed a mad dog last night in as spectacular a manner as if the affair was being staged for a moving picture. The dog entered the Chilton corral and bit a horse, after which it made its way down the road.

The girl saw the dog and securing a revolver from the house, leaped on the bare back of a horse and gave chase. The dog was overtaken as it was nearing some children playing in the street.

Riding at full speed, Mattie fired, wounding the dog, which turned and came running back. The report of the revolver frightened the horse and the girl was thrown by a sudden side movement.

But she alighted on her feet, still grasping the revolver, and quickly fired a second shot. The dog, which then was not more than ten feet away, fell dead, shot through the head.

Margaret Illington Lured to Stage

TACOMA, Wash., Aug 27.—Margaret Illington, after a retirement of two years, returned to the stage at the Tacoma Theater last night in "Until Eternity," an adaptation of the old French drama "Jusqu A L'Eternite." Her success was absolute and complete and was witnessed by the largest and most fashionable audience that ever gathered in the house. While not new in theme, the play is one of intense interest and there is little of comedy in its composition. It is very handsomely staged and Miss Illington is supported by a capable company.

Can't Live On $50,000 a Year

NEW YORK, Aug 27.—Through the application of Edmund Stallo to Surrogate Chalm for an increased allowance for the maintenance of his two daughters, who are the heirs to $15,000,000 from their grandfather, the late Alexander McDonald, it became known yesterday that the young ladies require $50,000 a year each to live. They are 17 and 19 years old, and are traveling in Europe. Their $100,000 income at present is the revenue from that part of the estate which they inherited from their grandmother, located in Ohio. Alexander McDonald, who left them his property, died intestate last March. He was vice-president of one of the Standard Oil companies, and for many years identified with the business affairs of John D. Rockefeller. His only daughter, Laura, married Edmund K. Stallo, who married the former Mrs. Dan Hanna when his first wife died.

Carries Out Stove; Saves Lives

MODESTO, Aug. 27.—Picking up a gasoline stove which had exploded, Mrs. Laura Buckman with remarkable courage carried it outdoors yesterday afternoon and saved her home and possibly the lives of her aged mother, sister and daughter.

Mrs. Buckman's daughter Ethel, aged 14, in attempting to fill the stove dropped the tank half filled with gasoline upon the lighted burner. Instantly there was an explosion and the room was filled with flames. Without a moment's hesitation Mrs. Buckman picked up the blazing stove, tank and all, and carried it outdoors, but not without suffering painful burns about the face and hands.

Dr. J. P. Snare upon examination found that Mrs Buckman escaped without serious injury, although she was prostrated by the shock.

Eleanor Sears Star On Polo Field

NARRAGANSETT PIER, Aug. 27.—At the Point Judith polo grounds yesterday afternoon Miss Emily Randolph, the polo queen, and Miss Eleanor Sears were the star equestriennes at the Gymkhana events and pony races. Both Miss Sears and Miss Randolph rode astride and some of their feats were spectacular. In the musical stalls events Miss Sears, who is the only rival on horseback of Miss Randolph, at Narragansett, won the trophy.

Miss Jeanette Acklin, a newcomer in open air sports at the pier, also figured in this event, and like Miss Sears rode her pony astride.

In the Gretna Green event the women riders led an extra horse for the men, and at a certain point their partners joined them and galloping down the field the men dismounted. A handkerchief was held by the two riders as they galloped down the field by the winning point. Miss Sears and Devereaux Milburn won this event, with Emily Randolph and Earl Hopping second.

Garment Workers' Strike Off

NEW YORK, August 27.—The strike of the cloakmakers, which has lasted over seven weeks, and at first affected nearly 80,000 people, according to the strike leaders, will be called off in all probability on Monday, a compromise agreement having been indorsed by the strike committee.

It was stated on good authority that the executive committee of the Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Association has ratified the agreement. One of the provisions of the agreement is the waiving of the demand for the closed shop.

Charges Husband With Bigamy

RENO, Aug. 27.—Bigamy practically is the charge brought against her husband by Elsie K. Daniels in a complaint for a divorce filed against Elmer C. Daniels yesterday. The plaintiff alleges that when she married the defendant on September 2, 1905, he had a wife living from whom he had never been divorced.

Further, she alleges that her husband represented himself as a single man, and she only found out about his former marriage through outside channels.

The couple have one child, Theodore, aged 3 years. Daniels is employed by the Southern Pacific railroad as an engineer, stationed at Sacramento. The couple were married in California.

Love Letters Lead to Suit for Divorce

Ida Towns has applied to the superior court for a divorce from Benjamin Towns, alleging that he had numerous affinities. To make this point strong with the court Mrs. Towns says in her complaint that one day she found a love letter in every pocket of her husband's clothes. Furthermore, the wife alleges, one night Towns left her during a theatrical performance to keep an engagement with some one, although it is admitted in the complaint that he did have consideration enough for his wife to send car fare to her by an usher.

LIVERMORE PLAYS HOST TO VISITORS

Many Are Entertained in Valley Town; Oaklanders Are There.

LIVERMORE, Aug. 27. — Miss Helen Willits is the guest of relatives in the bay cities.

Mrs. M. Lowe is entertaining Mrs. L. Williams of Oakland.

William Sargent has gone to Portland, Ore., where he will stay for an indefinite period.

Mrs. James Conniff has left for Missouri, where she will remain a few months visiting friends and relatives.

After the annual vacation of several weeks, the "500" card club is active again. The first to entertain was Mrs F. L. Savage. Her afternoon was greatly enjoyed, as those who were away told of various places they visited. The substitutes were Miss May Savage and Mesdames Frank Acker, E. Beck and D. D. Emmiger.

David McDonald has been selected by the Las Positas Lodge to act as an aide to Grand Marshal A. F. Rossi in the Admission Day parade.

J. T. Sullivan of Oakland has purchased the old Roland Smith place in the southeastern part of the valley.

Some of the many relatives and friends of Charles Victor and wife called on them at their home Tuesday, the occasion being their twenty fifth anniversary.

Mrs. H. J. Kolb of Oakland is spending a few days as the guest of her sister, Mrs J F. Dean.

Mrs. Mally left Tuesday morning for San Francisco, where she intends remaining a few days.

Mrs. S. Harris of San Francisco spent Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. C. Victor.

BABY BUMBEENO IS COMING

The only baby giraffe ever born or exhibited in America will be seen in Oakland at Forty-second and San Pablo avenue, Sunday and Monday, September 4 and 5, with the Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth. His name is "Baby Bumbeeno." He is exactly three feet tall. His mother is seven times that height.

Bumbeeno made his appearance in the winter quarters of the circus at Bridgeport, Conn., as the show was preparing to start on its annual tour. He came all unexpected. The idea of a giraffe being born in captivity was abandoned many years ago. In 1846 the stork of giraffeland made his appearance in the London zoological gardens. The birth at Bridgeport is the second event of the kind. Scientific animal breeders spent fortunes trying to coax the wise old stork to their giraffe pens. Long ago they gave up their attempts.

Bumbeeno is the pet of a family of five. His Uncle John is very fond of him. His father dotes on him. His mother is the tallest thing in the menagerie. Father is rated in the circus credit book at $12,000. Mother is worth at least $2000 more than that. Uncle John is quite valuable. But Baby Bumbeeno is worth more than the whole family, with a parcel of elephants and camels thrown in. The youngster is as lively as a kitten and in the pink of health.

Giraffes are very valuable because they are fast becoming extinct. They are found in the forests that hug the equator in Africa. Hunters have driven them so far into the interior that only occasionally is one found. They are very hard to capture without injury and very often die on the sea voyage.

The menagerie of this circus is a complete zoo, with not a specimen missing. The student of natural history will find the hour devoted to this department of great value. Among the 1200 animals on exhibition are forty elephants, thirty camels and dromedaries, twenty llamas, and herds of yaks, curious cattle, all varieties of the deer, bear, ant and monkey tribes, nylghaus, ibexes, gnus, zebus, vlak vaarks, porcupines, tapirs, ant-eaters, ostriches, emus, kangaroos, hyenas, horned horses, the biggest hippopotamus in the world, the only bi-corned rhinoceros in captivity, a man-like chimpanzee, orang-outangs, water buffalo, caribous, seals, sealions, pecaries and wart hogs.

The expense of maintaining this menagerie is immense. The collection was acquired gradually through the efforts of the circus trappers and hunters. This show does not depend on the animal agencies for its specimens. Many of the queer creatures have to be fed on imported feed. The giraffes are the hardest to care for. It is necessary to feed them quite often on a peculiar moss that grows only on the barks of certain trees in the African jungle. Men have to be sent there for this moss as it cannot be bought. Other animals are just as particular. Great care must be taken of them. Every day 1200 pounds of vegetables and 1000 pounds of meat are consumed in the zoo. The elephants eat hay, oats and bran in large quantities.

ARRANGE ENTERTAINMENTS FOR FORMER BERKELEY GIRL

MISS EDNA A. BIRCH, former Berkeley girl, now in north, who is planning to return to this city.

BERKELEY, Aug. 27.—Friends of Miss Edna A. Birch, the former Berkeley girl who is now traveling in the north with her mother, have received word that she is entertaining Miss Clara Schiller of this city at Portland.

Miss Birch is contemplating returning to this city in the near future and a number of entertainments are already being planned in her honor.

EXPLAINS DIFFERENT FORMS OF GOVERNMENT

Professor William Cary Jones, delivered an interesting talk on charter making last night, at the meeting of the Progress and Prosperity committee in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. The announcement that Professor Jones was to speak, attracted many auditors, who, at the end of the lecture, felt no hesitation in asking pertinent questions of the speaker.

Professor Jones began his talk with a short explanation of the defects in the prevailing system of municipal government, and the results of the adoption of the government by commission plan in American cities. The prevailing system of city government, said Professor Jones, had been found much too complex and had a tendency to scatter authority among many officers. The commission plan, he said, centralized the authority and the responsibility in a few men.

URGES SIMPLE FORM.

He urged the return to the simple form of municipal government, citing the case of Brookline, Mass, where the old town meeting is still a part of the city government. He said the commission form of government was but a development of the old town meeting. Continuing he said.

"The fundamental idea in passing a charter like this, is to get a good business administration, to have business men run the city as they would direct the affairs of any large corporation. What is desired in any city government is promptness and economy. The present system in vogue among the great majority of American cities, is a system of wastefulness. When you are forming a new government for a municipality, it is not necessary to talk of the elimination of graft and corruption, but simply consider the matter of waste. To get an economical and efficient city government, it is better to limit your officers to a few and to hold them directly responsible for the results of their administration.

SHOULD BE MANAGED.

"The objection has been made to the commission form of government, that it did not regard the division of powers, legislative and administrative. The government of a great city is not government at all, but management. The men who govern a city should run the city as the board of directors manage a great business. The main idea is teamwork. The fewer men you have handling a large business, the more cohesiveness there will be among them. They should be given as free a hand as possible, but if dissatisfaction is found with their management, they should be recalled. The commission plan provides for a method of recalling officials, but I will say more on that later.

"Another objection to the plan is that it limits the number of elective officers to very few—usually five. Larger cities, of course, require a large number, but the usual number in the cities that have adopted the commission form of municipal government is five or seven.

"The reduction of the number of elective offices, while it has been criticised as taking away the power of choosing their officers from people, acts quite to the contrary. By eliminating the long elective ballot, by electing a few men and holding them responsible for the acts of the administration, the people get better officers and better government. As I remarked previously, the main idea is to get teamwork in your city government.

DEFECTS OF PRESENT SYSTEM

"The results of the election under the prevailing system of municipal government show that the people cannot rightly choose experts to manage their municipal affairs. In the cities where the commission plan has been tried, it has been proven that the directorate of commission, by reason of the freedom given them in fixing salaries and leaving their judgment unhampered, can and do get the best men to assist them with expert advice.

"No man of first class ability will leave his business to handle the affairs of a large corporation such as all our cities must be considered, unless the inducements are tempting enough. You can get plenty of second class men, but the first class man, who, by reason of his ability, has a reputation in his particular line, whether it is law, medicine or engineering, will not leave his business to work at a loss to himself for a municipality. Under the commission plan, the municipality, through its elective officers and by virtue of the power given them, can get the first class expert by offering him a salary that is commensurate with his ability."

USED IN SEVENTY CITIES.

In response to question Professor Jones answered that about 70 American cities had adopted the commission plan from the time that it originated in Galveston, after the disaster there nine years ago. Many changes and improvements had been made in the Galveston plan, but the fundamental principle remained practically the same, he said. Among the cities which have adopted the plan, he named Galveston, Houston, Fort Worth, Austin, Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, Los Angeles, Berkeley and others.

In response to other questions, Professor Jones gave more detailed explanations of the workings of the recall, initiative and referendum and of other features of the commission plan of government. For purposes of illustrating, he used the municipal charter of Berkeley as the one most likely to bear upon conditions in Oakland.

At the conclusion of his remarks, the Progress and Prosperity committee, on motion of Chairman Charles Gorman, extended Professor Jones a rising vote of thanks.

Decision in Land Case Is Delayed

Superior Judge T. W. Harris failed this morning to hand down his decision on the motion for a non-suit in the case brought by George W. Davis against Spaulding and others, involving the title to about one hundred lots located above the north arm of Lake Merritt, originally vested in the Oakland Prospect Homestead Association, now defunct. The court announced that other pressing judicial business had interrupted the consideration of the question but that a decision would be forthcoming next Tuesday morning.

California Pioneers to Conduct Funeral

ALAMEDA, Aug. 27.—The funeral of William Simpson, pioneer, legislator and author, who died at his home, 1417 Benton street yesterday, will be held Monday morning from his late residence and will be followed by incineration in the Oakland Crematory. Services will be conducted under the auspices of the California Pioneer Society, of which deceased had been a member for thirty years.

LACK OF WORK IS CAUSE OF ILLNESS

Professional Walker Explodes Many Theories; Is Young at 68 Years.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 27.—That too little, rather than too much work and exercise is the cause of most of the ill health and delicate constitutions of humans, is the rather unique belief of John Ennis, the 68-years-old Easterner, who has just completed a walk from New York City to San Francisco.

A living example of the fact that exercise will prolong life and retain the appearance of youth of its exponent, Ennis looks 50, instead of 68 years of age, and with his sturdy and upright frame explodes the theory that the human body can not sustain great fatigue without serious effect. With a stride measuring from 32 to 34 inches, Ennis covered the distance between New York and San Francisco in 81 days, outdistancing the previous world's record held by Edward Payson Weston by 24 days.

With a frankness of demeanor, Ennis acknowledged this morning that he was not in the game merely for the pleasure it gave him, and because he thought it prolonged his life. "I made $14,000 in races at Madison Square Gardens in 1879," said the hiker today, "and I have always gotten big purses. My last walk, however, was made at my own expense, but I expect to be reimbursed by my ability to talk on the cross-continent foot journey in the near future."

Ennis averaged 47 miles a day on the journey, walking at night when the trip had been rough during the day, and his record had fallen. That the human body thrives on long daily exercise is one of the health maxims of the professional walker, and since his arrival in Alameda at the home of his niece, Mrs. L. Binder Stephan, he has been seen on the streets, and has attracted the attention of the other residents of the city.

The appearance of the walker, however, is not unusual, and he makes no attempt to brand himself as a pedestrian, his long stride being the only feature that would distinguish him from other walkers.

Ennis is a builder and contractor and hails from Stamford, Connecticut. He will spend three weeks in this city.

The walker stated today that he had only one superstition—that was 23 was his lucky number.

PLAN BOAT RACES FOR CHINA BASIN

Admission Day Contests Will Be Witnessed by Many Thousands.

ALAMEDA, Aug 27.—It has been decided to hold the Admission day boat races at China Basin, San Francisco, instead of the Aquatic park. The course is smooth and full length, and the crowds can view the races from the banks. The start and finish will be a little south of the Santa Fe slip, where a large barge with a band and the racing officials will be stationed.

The races will consist of the junior, intermediate and senior barge races, the junior and senior skiff races to be rowed by the Alameda, South Ends, Artel, Dolphin and San Diego rowing clubs. There will be cutter races from the warships and motor boat races from the fast launches of the bay and rivers.

The Alameda boat club will rely on its old senior crew, composed of H. Neilsen, H. Hess, O. Sommers and Al Brampton, to retain the championship which it has held for the past two years.

WINE LEADS TWO TO ROOM IN JAIL

Accused Burglar and Wife Imbibe Freely and Leave Clews.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 27.—A male and female burglar, after successfully breaking into the home of Frank Pessina, 1234 Minesota street, yesterday, and getting $195 in cash and a revolver, became so imbued with the spirit of conviviality as the result of the sudden discovery of a quantity of rich red wine, that they left behind them unmistakable clews which, picked up by the police, led to the immediate arrest and lodgment in the city prison of three suspects.

When Pessina returned to his home last night he discovered that his door had been broken with an axe. His money being gone and his wine consumed, he straightway notified the police.

THREE JAILED.

Detectives Callahan and Sullivan were sent at once to the house. They found a purse with a grocery tag, which led them to the home of Herman Von Kleist. Here they found the missing revolver and they promptly arrested the man and his wife Nellie, and placed their names on the detinue book.

In the same house was Vincent McDonald, and while he is not thought to have had anything to do with the commission of the crime, he was nevertheless held by the officers to await further investigation.

Berkeley Girl to Wed Young Business Man

BERKELEY, Aug 27.—At a dinner given by Mrs W Fred Krelle at the residence of Mrs. M. M Smith, 1815 Bonita avenue, yesterday afternoon the announcement was made of the approaching marriage of Miss Sylvia Brainard to Roy Kirkpatrick, a young business man of San Francisco. Miss Brainard has lived in this city for a long time and is a graduate of the University.

Oakland Boy Has the Brains, but Englishman Has Been in the Game for Long Time and Has Vast Experience

By EDDIE SMITH.

IT HAS long been agreed between men interested in the development of boxers that brains are one of the absolute necessities for success with the gloves. This does not mean that the prospective pugilistic champion must know mathematics, Latin and Greek or even be an expert at rhetoric. It means that the fellow must have an active brain capable of grasping a situation and planning a line of battle as rapidly as the other man may change his. The training of the brain, of course, makes this easier for the lad who has had the advantage of proper training. Granting that this is the fact with the man who tries for recognition, the friends and backers of Frankie Burns believe that in the little Oaklander they have a good start on the other members of the lightweight division. As has already been said, the pugilist may come to the front who doesn't know his first multiplication table, but whose brain is naturally active and of little use, simply through lack of chance for development. It will be harder to make this man understand and grasp ideas for himself, however, than the one who has had some training, and for this reason there is some cause for the friends of Burns to feel that their man has an advantage.

Frankie has been fortunate in having received more education than the average young man and a great deal more than the majority of the men who follow in his profession. For this reason he should have a slight advantage over most any of the light weights he meets, providing, of course, that he is on an equality in the other necessities required for the making of champions. In the battle he is at present training for Burns will have an advantage over his opponent in the matter of brain power, for while Frankie is as quick of perception as thought itself, the little Britisher is just a wee bit slow and foggy about the brain.

If the coming battle between the two was to be a contest wherein brains was to have all to do with the picking of the winner, Burns would have a walkover, but there are other things to be considered and in these Moran appears to have the advantage.

Moran is the more experienced ringman, has better hitting power, is cooler and cleverer with both hands. Burns has the superior brain power and in my judgment is faster than Moran, as well as being the possessor of all the snap and dash that comes with youth. Moran is not an old man by any means, but he has been in the game some little time and he has not lived the life of the caretaking athlete and for this reason there is some cause to believe that he is not as good as he was when he first came to the coast. Burns and Moran will go ten rounds at the Dreamland rink next Wednesday night and the newspapers will pick the winner. Moran certainly looks to have the best chance to be selected as the winner, but at this stage of the game, a win for Burns or a draw will be a great boost to him and the benefits he will derive are well worth the risk. Burns is confident he will come home the winner and he is being backed by his friends, even though the odds are greatly in favor of the Britisher.

WOLGAST TO BOX McFARLAND.

Ad Wolgast has once again over-ridden his manager, Tom Jones, and has posted a forfeit to meet Packey McFarland at Milwaukee at 133 pounds at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the contest, the battle to take place no later than 10 o'clock. Wolgast has taken the bit between his teeth and made this proposition to McFarland against the advice of his manager, for Jones knows full well that McFarland will weigh close to 138 or 140 pounds by ring time if this agreement is gone through with and with Wolgast, a natural 133-pounder, it looks like a bad bargain.

Del Eddy, the Milwaukee promoter, is trying to bring the match off and he has been trying to land McFarland to see if he will accept. Jones will no doubt fight against Wolgast going through with the match and as McFarland has agreed to go with Hugh McIntosh to Australia it is probable that the match will fall through after all.

CARROLL WINS FROM ATTELL.

The winning of Jimmy Carroll over Monte Attell last evening proves two things: It proves that Monte is not the fighter he was a few years back and it proves beyond any doubt that Jimmy Carroll is improving rapidly and that the weight he has taken on during the past few months has done him a world of good. Carroll is one of the popular idols of the ring hereabouts and his win of last night was a popular one.

The fight film of the Jeffries-Johnson battle at Reno is still the topic of much speculation among the fans. At the present time the films are getting along very nicely in the East. The severe opposition that at first met the production of the pictures has died down a trifle and the chances are that the men who purchased them will get out about even. Their chances for making any money out of the venture is still exceedingly slim, however, and both Johnson and Jeffries are tickled that they sold their interests.

NEGLECT

DISEASE

In my very extensive practice I have learned that the VERY SEDUCE and so-called "incurable cases" are due usually to NEGLECT AND DELAY. Again, I know that many men suffer for YEARS and practically RUIN THEIR HEALTH FOREVER trying to dose themselves with some patent nostrum that never could cure. And, further, it is evident that many men will run to what they call "cheap" treatment. NO TREATMENT AT ALL DR. PALMER. "cheap" treatment means in nine cases Master Specialist out of ten.

The last state of the man is worse than the first. Just before you go a line further in this announcement stop and ask yourself as to whether YOU are following in the foolish steps of the man who NEGLECTS himself. Are you trying to cure yourself with nostrums? If you are, it is certain that you will regret it. It is NEVER TOO LATE to get in the right path, but at the same time remember that you CANNOT GET THERE TOO SOON. I offer you my treatment at a cost as low as is consistent for the services rendered.

I AM ALWAYS WILLING TO WAIT FOR MY FEE UNTIL A CURE IS EFFECTED.

Spermatorrhoea, Weakness, Varicocele, Stricture, Contracted Disorders, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Piles and all reflex ailments are among the diseases I treat successfully.

HOOLIGANS FALL BEFORE THE SLANTS AND SHOOTS OF DER WHALES

LOS ANGELES, August 27.—The Senators were still blushing with shame over their shoddy showing of Thursday, after which nobody could blame them, as if in atonement for this wretched performance, the Grahamites played a sharp, snappy and winning game against the Villagers today, beating them 3 to 0.

Jimmy Whalen was the headliner. This hard-working pitcher probably never twirled a better game. There was a "shutout" look on Jeems' face when he opened the game by calmly striking out Carlisle. For the first six innings his work was like oil running through a pipe. But one hit was made off his delivery during this time. Four wallops were bunched off Jim in the last three innings, and it was here that he showed his real class, never wavering for a moment.

Brackenridge raced well against Whalen during the early part of the game, but could not live up to the pace. For four innings the thin boy heaved no-hit, no-run ball. In the fifth the Sacramento crowd fell on him for four hits. These swats, together with Brown's failure to hold Willett's perfect peg from center to the plate, gave the visitors their three runs.

JIMMY CARROLL EASILY DEFEATS MONTE ATTELL

Jimmy Carroll had all the better of the four-round go with Monte Attell at the White Rock Athletic Club's entertainment in Dreamland last evening, and Referee Eddie Hanlon awarded him the decision at the end of the bout.

Carroll knocked Attell down in the second round with two right handers and in the fourth he had Monte almost ready to go down again. Attell was clearly outboxed by Carroll.

The other bouts resulted as follows: Freddie Couture and Walter Scott, four round draw; Rufus Williams knocked out Young Petrosky in the second round; George Petrosky in the second round; Willis Elder, decision over Fred Lange; Webber; Phil Robinson decision over Sidney Russell; Joe Hill decision over Kid Kittrick.

Will Play Baseball In the Night Time

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—C. A. Comiskey's recently installed lights received their first real tryout at the American league grounds last night when the Illinois athletic club and Calumet lacrosse teams battled for more than two hours in a fast match in the glare of more than 1,000,000 candle power of light, which constituted a portion of the light plant that will give Chicago night baseball in the near future. The plant proved itself equal to the occasion.

Oakland High Wins From Polytechnic

The baseball game between Oakland High and Oakland Polytechnic High at Grove street park yesterday afternoon resulted in a 3 to 2 victory for Oakland High.

The game was a well played neck and neck struggle until the eighth inning, when First Baseman Brown of Polytechnic High overthrew third, allowing Menges to score the winning run. Captain Holden pitched for Oakland High and Oakland Polytechnic High at street school. Both pitched fine ball, the former allowing five hits and the latter six.

The fielding of Menges and the stick work of Hunt, Heisen and McCarthy were features. A return game will be played in the near future.

The latest Cleveland purchases are third baseman Bronkie from Nashville; outfielder Burns from the Danville (I. I. I. League) Club; and outfielder Callahan from the Eau Claire (Wisconsin-Illinois League) Club.

Notes of the Diamond

Once again did fortune knock at the Oaks' door, but there was no one there to open it up, and this day we are still in second place. Two games that rightfully belonged to us, or at least one, while the other should have been at a tie in the ninth inning, have gone to the enemy.

While Tozer was hurling a better game than Lively yesterday in one sense of the word, the Angels were not getting any nearer the plate than we were. It was Swanders' bungling error in right that paved the way for our defeat and it was Lively's error at first base that allowed the run to cross the plate that won.

* * *

At that the damage is all done now and there is no use to get pessimistic, for all the crabbing in the world won't get us back that game, but truly the boys should be more careful.

* * *

Oakland has played some wonderful baseball since the opening of the season. At that time they started off fairly well and then took a tumble. In May they began to come again and went right to the top of the heap. Then they took a tumble again and went back to fifth place. Once more they came on and several times now have been within a hair's breadth of the top, but somehow or other don't seem to be able to get there. Thursday the team had the greatest opportunity in the world to be the leaders, for as we all know, they seemed to have the game cinched, and yesterday they were going great guns also. Perhaps it is overanxiety that puts the crusher on the boys, and we do hope that they will try and get over this spirit, for the material is there and on form the Oaks ought to be away up on top of the other teams.

* * *

We had quite a time convincing the scorer that Hallinan was entitled to an error when he dropped Maggart's fly even if he did pick it up in time to throw Lively out at second base in the third inning.

* * *

Dillon and Wares made the two star plays in the second inning. The big chief of the Angels went almost to second base before he got Mitze's drive in time to throw him out and first to Tozer, and Wares took a hard drive from Murphy's bat and another from Hallinan's bat in the same inning, getting both his men by perfect snappy throws to Cameron.

* * *

Lively was in distress in the fourth inning, but a piece of luck saved him from damage. Howard was at third and Dillon at second when the sign went up to hit and run. Murphy at bat bunted and it looked safe, but Lively managed to grab the ball before it hit terra firma and doubled Howard at Wolverton's station. Again in the eighth Lively got out of a hole for with the bases full the hit and run sign failed to work and Delmas fanned, Howard being doubled at third.

* * *

Howard broke into the limelight in the second inning and again in the fifth by making two star plays. On the first one he went up in the air and grabbed a liner from the bat of Swander and in the other case he went back of first and robbed Cutshaw of a hit.

* * *

Cameron was the star of the sixth when he made a quick difficult pickup of Howard's slow tantilizer and whipped the ball home in time to get Tozer. The bases were chuck full at the time and a run was good enough to win that game at any old time.

* * *

Hallinan made everybody tear after him in the eighth inning when he failed to get the Bernard to Howard to Hallinan relay of Lively's hit. In a flash, though, the fans forgot his boot when he came in fast, picked up Ware's screamer toward left and dropped his man at first, cutting off a base hit and a run, for there was a man at second and another at third.

* * *

The double umpire system would have prevented a whole lot of beefing and arguments in the eighth inning. Howard was at second and Dillon at first on hits when Murphy batted. Lively ran in on the ball, picked it up and heaved it to first. Murphy beat the throw there by fully two feet, but the umpire called him out. The whole trouble of the play was that Hildebrand did not see it as it was made, for he was running toward third, thinking that Lively would try for Howard going to that bag.

* * *

Pitcher Gregg, whom the fans had going down the chutes, put the crusher on that opinion up north yesterday afternoon by defeating the Seals with ease. Eight of the Ewingites fanned the breezes, which makes eighty strikeouts for him in the last seven games, or an average of a little over eleven a game.

* * *

* * *

Ralph Willis and his wrenched wrist are rounding to in fine shape and the handsome blonde may go on the hill tomorrow against the Reformers.

* * *

There is to be the usual double-header tomorrow, the morning game being on this side of the bay commences at ten after 10 and the afternoon affair will commence at thirty after 2 at Recreation Park on the other side of the pond.

* * *

J. Cal Ewing is off to the mountains for a fortnight's recreation. Cal promises to bring home lots of game and fish, or at least stories of those they got and those that they didn't get.

* * *

Chicago went after the Giants yesterday, and assisted by "Three Fingered" Brown gave them a trimming. A feature of the game was the hitting of Schultz with two home runs and Tinker with another.

* * *

Mohler is back again in the game and Shaw is on the bench. What a pity it is Hunk can't field, for he is a valuable man with the stick at any old time.

* * *

San Francisco isn't doing as well in the north as on previous occasions and have lost three of the four games played so far. Both Henley and Brown, who heretofore have been invincible before the Beavers, were beaten this week.

* * *

One noticeable improvement in the games up north is the excellent ball playing of Tommy Sheehan, both at the bat and in the field. The reinstatement of Sheehan was all that was needed to cause the youngster to show just what he really could do.

* * *

Two innings, the fourth and the eighth, were the finishing points of Sutor and Browning. The former got his in the eighth and Browning was bumped in the fourth.

* * *

Frank Dillon is sure the class of the league as a first baseman, and we mustn't overlook the fact that Carleton and Tennant play out this way. The veteran was all over the field yesterday and two of his plays were really miraculous.

* * *

Smoke hung heavily over the ball park, due to the forest fires in the north and south. Up Portland way it was reported that the game had been postponed, but the sad news (to the Seals' supporters) that Ewing's men were two runs behind in the fourth put at rest the rumor.

Eastern Baseball Notes

Manager McGuire, of Cleveland, is preparing to shift Lajoie and Turner again, putting Larry on first and Turner on second.

Upon Scout Arthur Irwin's recommendation the New York club purchased shortstop Louis Litschi from the Lancaster (Tri-State League) club, for September delivery.

George Mullin, "Wild Bill" Donovan, Ford, Bender, Coombs, and Lake are the six American League pitchers that have beaten every opposing American League team this year.

PORTLAND, August 27.—After having broken so many precedents this week, the Beavers decided they might as well go the route, so they not only defeated Browning for the first time on the local lot since he joined San Francisco two years ago, but they pounded him out of the box in the sixth inning.

"Silas" Gregg was never in any danger except in the sixth inning, when he made an error himself. It was a great game that did not take the lopsided tilt that the score indicates until the eighth inning. Portland scored two in the fourth and led by that narrow margin until Sutor's blow-up.

Rapps opened the fourth with Portland's first hit off Browning, a single to right. He went to second on Casey's out and to third on Sheehan's. With two down, Speas binged one to left that scored Rapps and Ort followed with a triple that sent Speas home. Ort was caught at home.

The Seals had their inning in the sixth. Mohler opened with a hit to right and Lewis bunted. Gregg fielded it perfectly but threw wide to second and both men were safe. Tennant struck out and when Melchoir was at bat Gregg uncorked a wild pitch. It should have advanced the men a base each, but instead, when Melchoir dodged it, it hit his bat and became a foul ball and a strike. His grounder to short a moment later that would have scored a man, only put a runner on third.

Browning had been wild all along, and he opened the sixth by walking Rapps. Casey sacrificed and Sheehan followed with a two-bagger to right. Rapps thought Melchoir had caught it and so turned back toward second and finally wound up at third. Sutor went in the box then and he never did score. Sutor was very brave in the seventh, fanning three in a row.

They got to him in the eighth. Olson opened with a single. Rapps walked; Casey sacrificed, and Sheehan's long fly scored Olson. Speas singled, scoring Rapps and Ort hit a near-triple that scored Speas. Ort was caught at third.

BOBBLES AT CRITICAL MOMENT LOSE CLOSE GAME FOR LOCALS

Swander Muffs a Fly Ball and Lively Drops Throw, the Two Allowing Angels to Score Only Run of Game

By BERT LOWRY.

Los Angeles, 1; Oakland, 0.

IT WAS Bert Leslie, the King of Slang Makers, that told the boy in his little skit at the Orpheum a time back, "Sand your tracks, me boy, you're slipping." Well, this goes for the Oaks, for yesterday the locals slipped another cog and went back in the quest for the pennant, losing out to the Angels by a score of 1 to 0.

It was truly a hard game to lose, but bobbles, my boy, bobbles as on the day previous, gave the Angels the run that sent them away from Recreation Park with the long end of the score—Swander in right field and Lively on a play at first base, both easy chances. Added to this the home guard were helpless before the slants and shoots of Wilham Tozer, hurled yesterday for the Angels. "Big Silent Billy," did'nt seem to have a whole lot outside of his glove and his smile, but nevertheless he was there and the best we 'uns could get was a single in the seventh inning and another in the eighth.

For the Oaks, it was our old reliable Jack Lively and he pitched a fine game of ball and but for the aforementioned bobbles wouldn't have had a run scored against him either in the regulation game.

PLENTY OF GOOD BASEBALL.

Back of both men the teams, outside of the four errors made, played excellent ball and many a tosser was cheated out of a chance to break into the hit column. "Crabbo" Daley, as usual, led off for the Angels and hit a vicious grounder to Wares. A clever pick-up and throw to first blighted his chances of making the circuit. Bernard was luckier and received transportation to first base and created some excitement among the Oakland fans by stealing second. Howard drove one toward right that looked good and safe, but Cutshaw fielded it quickly to first and Evan was out. Bernay reaching third base. Dillon hit a screamer into left and it looked like a bingle for the big chief of the Reformers, but Maggart was there with the fancy chance and there was no damage done.

OAKS ALSO NEARLY SCORE A RUN.

In their half the locals nearly, that is it, nearly, got to the run column, but a little classy fieldings by the Dillonites upset calculations. Maggart hung around while Tozer tried to locate the plate and could not. Wares hit to Dill and was out at first, but Maggy reached second in safety. Hogan went after one good and strong and off towards right the ball went like a bullet. Ye-ow! yelled the Oaks' supporters, for it looked like a hit, but Howard was after it like a hawk goes after the last laying hen on the ranch and Hogan was out at first. "Here's Donnie boy," said the sweet little girlie I nbox A to her laddie true "and he's going to hit a mile or more." Cameron was willing enough and clipped one on a line toward right that was sure some pippin. There was that "boy" Dillon though, and with elegance and grace he grabbed the liner, cheating Don out of a double and the Oaks out of a run.

SWANDER AND LIVELY LOSE GAME

As before, a sat tale must now be writ. Murphy, opening the seventh inning, bunted and would have gotten away with it but for a clever stop and heave of Lively to Cameron. Next came Hallinan and after a spicy little argument with the umpire he went back to the bench, via the strike-out route. There we were, with two in the hole and Bertie Delmas at the bat. Bertie was good this time and combed a sweet looking single between Wares and Cutshaw. "That ain't nothing," sang out Nelson from the bench, "we'll get this geek (meaning Waring) easy." And they had him easy, but—there is the cause of the sadness, for the rightfielder of the Oaks, Mr. Swander by name, failed to clasp his mitts on the little pop up Jack poked to right and he was safe at Cameron's station, while Bertie tore over to third. Still the Oaks weren't in much danger, for two were down and Tozer had been easy before. Bill hit one toward right and Cameron made a great stop of the drive and a great peg to first to Lively, who had run over to cover the bag. It was the easiest, softest kind of a put out, but—well, Jack dropped the ball and Bertie was over the pan. Gee! but that run did look big.

OAKS TRIED HARD BUT FAILED

Like Custer at Bull Run, the Oaks made their last desperate stand in the eighth and ninth and almost landed at the home plate. Swander took chances of either getting hit with the ball or walking and was finally passed to first. Mitz flew to Bernard and one chance was gone. Lively, next in line, found a good one and hit it up against the rightfield fence for a single and Swander reached third, but we must pause and say that Bernard had him there and Hallinan held the ball on the retrieve of the Angels' rightfield. Maggart could have been a scholar and a hero of all Oakland today had he but hit the ball safely. "Mag" tried alright, but Daley made one of those brilliant catches and throws of his and Maggart was out and Swander was held at third. Wares, next in line, took a wicked swing at the ball and skimmed it toward third base for what looked like a hit. Hallinan came in fast though, made a great pick-up of the poke and a jim dandy heave to first and Wares was out, with the Oaks still away from the plate.

In the final round for the locals Hogan hit viciously to right and was out. Cameron gave Daley a chance and he was also out. Wolverton tried valiantly and hit the ball good and hard to left, but Murphy was under it and it was "good night" for another game. Following is the score:

SAN FRANCISCO DRIVING CLUB WILL HOLD MEETING

The San Francisco Driving Club announces a monster harness meeting for the Park Stadium tomorrow afternoon, the program arranged being composed of six races of open character that promise exciting sport for the usual large Sunday crowd. The feature event of the day is the free-for-all pace which will bring together George Perry, Celia K., Jack and Dictatum. On his past local performances George Giannini's speedy pacer figures better than his rivals and has been handicapped by the committee by being placed on the outside position in every heat.

In the 2:15 pace, the second event on the card, W. J. Kenney's W. J. K. is asked to tackle a much better field than in his earlier races, and on his continued improved showing he is expected to make a bold bid for the laurels. The popular starter's horse is well bred, his sire being Dexter Prince, and his dam Psyche.

Native Hawaiians Would Join A. A. U.

CHICAGO, August 27.—Everett C. Brown, president of the National A. A. U., yesterday received a communication from Lorrin Andrews, an attorney in Honolulu, stating that he is promoting the organization of ten athletic clubs, which will apply for admission in the national body of the A. A. U. at the annual meeting in November. Mr. Andrews said that athletic activities in the Hawaiian Islands are in a high stage of development and that they will be advanced by affiliation with the governing athletic body of the United States.

P.A.A. OFFICIALS PUT BAN ON ATHLETES OF IRISH-AMERICAN CLUB

Action was taken at the regular weekly meeting of the registration committee of the Pacific Association yesterday in the matter of disciplining several prominent athletes and the Irish-American Club. The latter organization was suspended from the ranks of the Amateur Athletic Union until such time as the club officials make an explanation relative to the games held under its auspices at Fairfax Park on the Fourth of July last. According to the members of the registration committee, the Irish-American Club issued entry blanks announcing amateur events to be held in connection with the Hibernian picnic at Fairfax on July 4, without obtaining a sanction from the Pacific Association.

At the meeting yesterday the Irish-American Club was expected to make an explanation, but there was none forthcoming.

William Minnehan, delegate to the Pacific Association from the suspended club, was present, but did not appear to champion the case of the club he represented. Minnehan clearly showed that he disapproved of the breach made by the club in question. The suspension of the Irish-American Club will interfere with the three-cornered meet announced for Sunday at the Presidio Athletic grounds, in which the Irish-American athletes are to compete with the Olympic and Pastime teams. The action taken by the amateur officials yesterday will prevent the members of the club from participating and the events on Sunday will be contested by the remaining two clubs unless the difficulty is settled before the games.

For the first time in the history of local athletics seven athletes were punished for failing to compete after regularly entering sanctioned events and for sending their names to two sets of games on the same day. Two Olympic Club athletes, Cecil Caldwell and E. F. McNamara, came under the ban of the committee. McNamara failed to put in an appearance at the games of the Original Gaelic Club after sending in his entry blank, and when asked for an excuse failed to reply. Caldwell entered two sets of games on the Fourth of July and was absent from both. He also failed to explain to the committee. Dan Reiser, John Sullivan, Eddie Mulherr, H. M. Acton and V. Sabris were also included in the list suspended for this breach of the rules.

CENTRAL LEAGUE

The players of the San Leandro team who failed to report at the scheduled game at Berkeley last Sunday were suspended as contract jumpers by President Wieland and their names as follows sent to the national commission: Claud and C. Zamloch, Don Houghton, V. Devincinal, H. Christiansen, R. Moore, J. Murphy and J. Cooper.

The San Leandro management has, however, signed up the following players: Orr, Merritt, Arlett, Swanton, Clothier, Pfister, Jackson and several others, and all games scheduled for San Leandro will be played instead on the league grounds of Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond, giving these towns continuous Sunday ball instead of each having a Sunday a month away. San Leandro will meet Fruitvale on the Berkeley diamond this Sunday, when Arlett will be on the mound doing the honors against Goldy for Fruitvale.

The interest that is being taken in the game to be played at Richmond next Sunday is greater than usual owing to the fact that the towns playing—Richmond and Berkeley—are tied for first place, also largely due to the fact that "Kid" Burns, brother of big "Bill," will be on the pitching staff of the Berkeley team, he having formerly worked with the Richmond team and they having released him. He wishes to show them how they missed their guess in allowing him to go.

Alameda will be visited by the Elmhurst team under the management of George Adams, who has signed a fast team.

San Anselmo to Play at Martinez

Sore at heart over their crushing defeat of last Sunday at the hands of the fast San Anselmo team at Martinez, in an eleven-inning struggle, the Merchants of that place will invade the Marin county town this Sunday, accompanied by the Martinez band and over one hundred rooters.

According to the Martinez management the San Anselmo contingent is one of the most gentlemanly that has ever visited the Contra Costa capital, and this Sunday they will be the guests of the strangers at a banquet following the return match.

In San Anselmo's line-up are such well known players as Park Wilson, formerly of San Francisco Wasps; Castro, once second baseman for Portland; Bromley, Breslauer, Fairley, McFarlund, Garcia, Farrell and Orr.

Over one thousand spectators are expected to be present when the time for game is called.

TURF GOSSIP

Judge Frank Skinner has notified Secretary Treat that he has reinstated W. C. Weant and his stable. Weant was placed under the ban for the inconsistent running of Kopec at the recent Cheyenne meeting. Molesworth was suspended for an unsatisfactory ride in one of the races in which Kopec participated. The boy hopes to be allowed to ride again at Denver.

The meeting of the Interstate Fair Association at Denver, from September 3 to September 17, promises to be a very successful one. Many well known owners are on the ground with their stables. Among them are Jake Marklein, Johnson & Gray, Wade McLemore and Powell & Parker. Obicular, a clever performer at Emeryville, will be the main reliance of Johnson & Gray. Eddie Tribe will send the fields away. It is expected that about twenty layers will be in line.

According to a report from Cheyenne Starter Joe Weber had much trouble with the jockeys at the recent meeting, owing to the advantage some of them took because of their close relations to the promotors. Irwin Brothers figured prominently in the management, and they headed the list of winning owners.

Richard T. Wilson Jr. has an Ormondale colt in his string of which he thinks highly. He is called Futurity, being out of Futurita. Wilson told W. O'B. Macdonough a few days ago at Saratoga that he did not regret paying $1000 for him at the Blue Ridge sale. Futurita is a daughter of His Highness and Butterflies, winners in the classic Futurity.

The program at Saratoga today includes the Rensselaer handicap for 2-year-olds at six furlongs. It has a value of $10,000. The Saratoga cup has a value of $5000.

Quotations for the historic St. Leger, to be run September 7, make Lemberg favorite at 11 to 5, while Neil Gow is next in demand at 7 to 2.

It is likely that James R. Keene will be represented by a good stable next season, although most of his best horses were disposed of at Saratoga this week. It was planned to sell twenty yearlings this fall, but the latest announcement is to the effect that they will be turned over to Jimmy Rowe to be broken and trained for next year.

$50,000 Prizes for Bird-men at Belmont

NEW YORK, August 27.—Probably the largest total of money prizes ever distributed at any aviation meet anywhere in the world will be divided among the entrants in the international meet which is to be held at Belmont park in October. In addition to the formal cash prizes of $50,000, the aviators are to share largely in the net profits of the meeting.

President Navin, of Detroit, will recall the following farm hands: First baseman Ness and pitcher Hardin from Williamsport; infielder Kirke from Scranton, and outfielder Drake from Wilkes-Barre. Treasured Adam Turkes, of the Wilkes-Barre Club states that Navin has no claim on Drake, as Wilkes-Barre purchased him outright at the beginning of the season.

ST. LOUIS IS GOING AFTER THE UMPIRES OF NATIONAL LEAGUE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 27.—President Stanley Robison of the St. Louis Nationals, plans to have some action taken against several members of the National League staff of umpires at the annual meeting of magnates this winter.

"The umpiring in the National League this season has been the worst in years," said President Robison here yesterday. "In protesting the work of the indicator handlers, I do not mean that we are always getting the worst of the decisions. There is no question but that the Cardinals have suffered as much, if not more, than any other team in the league, and I am not the only club owner who has a complaint.

"The poor work of the umpires is going on all over the country. There is not a city in the circuit that hasn't some protest over the work of the men who are hired to judge games fairly. I hardly believe there is any favoritism shown; the umpires are simply incompetent."

BERKELEY'S BASEBALL SQUAD LOOKS TO BE THE CLASS THIS SEASON

Seven or Eight of Last Year's Players Will Be in the Lineup.

Fall baseball practice at the University of California will begin next week, as the players were signed up at a baseball meeting held yesterday afternoon. Will Greenlaw, varsity baseball captain for the coming year, spoke to the men, and Trainer Christie also gave a short talk. About forty signed up for fall practice. Among those there are eight of last year's veterans. The old men who have returned are: Foraker, Parker and Smith, pitchers; Stoner and Moulton, catchers; Greenlaw, first base; Gay and Coane, outfielders. It is also believed that Allen, third baseman, and O'Kelly, shortstop, will return and go out for practice later in the term. Allen, as well as Myron Harris, who pitched all three varsity games against Stanford last year, came back with the football team from Australia. Salisbury, right fielder of last year, is sick at the present time, but it is believed that he will return to college. California, therefore, will have practically a veteran team, with the exception of the second base position, which was filled by Captain Lewis last year. He will not return.

According to a wireless telegram received from "Jimmie" Schaeffer, the men who are to go out for football this term at the U. C. will sign up at the football meeting tomorrow afternoon. Both the freshmen and the veterans will hand in their names at this time to Trainer Christie, who will preside at the meeting. The team arrived from Australia last night and was greeted at the Oakland mole by a large band of California rooters. A welcome rally to the California men on the team will be given Monday.

First Exhibition of Triplane at Atlantic

BOSTON, August 27.—The first triplane to be seen in this country is being set up on the aviation field at Atlantic, where beginning September 3 will be held the Harvard-Boston aero meet, in which will compete some fifteen American and foreign aviators with at least fourteen different makes of aeroplanes. The triplane is the first foreign machine to arrive at the grounds and is the property of A. V. Roe of England.

It Was a Whopper, But Fish Wasn't Caught

AVALON (Catalina), August 27.—For seventeen hours and fifty-five minutes a tuna gave battle to Dr. Welbers of Los Angeles, and at the end of that time the line parted and the fish escaped. It was the longest battle in Santa Catalina waters for years. The strike was made at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday evening and continued until 11:25 o'clock yesterday morning.

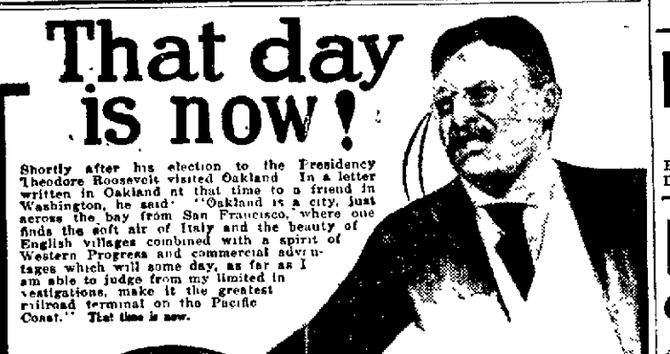
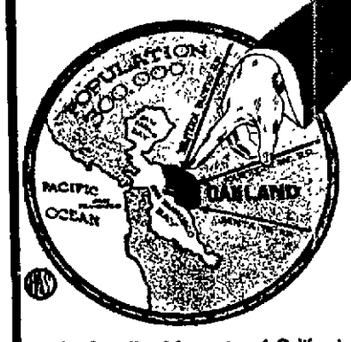
That day is now!



Shortly after his election to the Presidency Theodore Roosevelt visited Oakland. In a letter written in Oakland at that time to a friend in Washington, he said: "Oakland is a city, just across the bay from San Francisco, where one finds the soft air of Italy and the beauty of English villages combined with a spirit of Western Progress and commercial advantages which will some day, as far as I am able to judge from my limited investigations, make it the greatest railroad terminal on the Pacific Coast." That time is now.



BESIDES the remarkable investment and ideal home opportunities to be had in bustling, beautiful Oakland, this city, with its perfect public school system, including elementary, grammar and high schools, offers educational advantages second to none. Oakland is also noted for its many colleges—technical, business and professional. Adjoining Oakland is the University of California, the second largest in the United States. SOCIALISTS RULE GERMAN OFFICES

"Red Tide" Sweeps Into the Reichstag and Takes Possession.

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—What is known in Germany as the "Red Tide of Socialism," is rising rapidly. The elections recently held to fill vacancies in the Reichstag have brought a constant succession of Socialist victories and the membership of the party in the national parliament has already risen from 43 to 50.

In the import election in Marianbend district another socialist victory was recorded. Although the district ordinarily is regarded as doubtful and has lately been represented by a conservative deputy, it elected the Socialist candidate, Paul Goehre, by a big majority over all other candidates. Herr Goehre's vote was 14,171, three times as large as that received by the next candidate.

ATTRACTS ATTENTION.

The result of the contest is attracting great attention in Germany where it is taken as another indication that the new Reichstag will have the largest contingent of Socialists in the nation's history. That they will hold between 100 to 120 seats seems a reasonable expectation.

The resentment against the growing burden of taxation and the anger and disgust at the failure to provide for the reform of the Prussian suffrage law are having their effect and up to date the so-called civil parties have proved powerless to counteract those influences.

Herr Goehre, formerly a pastor, is a picturesque and forceful person and he promises to become a figure of prominence in the Reichstag.

Fire Engine Kills Marysville Youth

MARYSVILLE, Aug. 27 — Delbert Law, 8-year-old son of J. H. Law, a local cleaner and dyer, was run down by the fire engine upon its departure from the engine house in Third street soon after noon yesterday and was instantly killed. The father and child were standing in front of the engine house when an alarm was turned in, and the boy attempted to cross in front of the steamer. He was trampled upon by one of the horses, and the two wheels of the engine passed over his back. The engine was in charge of Driver Frank Loose, who attempted to stop the steamer. He is held blameless.

BLOODY CLOTHES LEAD TO ARREST

Held in Connection With Murder Through Tell-tale Package.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Robert A. King, 28 years old, a graduate of the Northwestern University Law School, and until recently employed in the law office of Edward E. Litzinger, is detained at the Englewood police station suspected of having knowledge of the killing of Dr. William F. Michaelis, a dentist who was shot and killed on the night of August 5.

The arrest of King was due to the fact that soon after the murder he left a bundle containing bloodstained clothing at the drug store of E. E. Schleisser. Since that time a detective has been on guard at the drug store, and late Thursday when King entered and called for the return of the bundle he was arrested.

King denied all connection with the case.

Court Holds Boycott to Be Within Law

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 27.—In refusing an injunction asked for by proprietors of a local hotel against which it was claimed the bartenders' and waiters' union had maintained a boycott, Common Pleas Judge Manton held that the union acted within its constitutional rights.

In his opinion Judge Manton places particular stress on the dissenting opinion of Justices Fielding and Holmes in a case decided by the Massachusetts Supreme Court. Justice Holmes is now a member of the United States Supreme Court. In the opinion referred to Justice Holmes says:

"If it be true that workmen may combine with a view of getting the greatest things, of obtaining as much as they can for their labor, just as capital may combine with a view of geting the greatest possible return, it may be true that when combined they have the same right that combined capital has to support their interests by argument, persuasion and the bestowal and refusal of these advantages which they otherwise lawfully control."

Newspaperman Dies After Short Illness

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 27—W. S. Gilmore, city editor of the Morning Enterprise for the last five years, died in the city hospital early this morning. He was taken ill early last evening and declined rapidly.

Healthy Mothers

The bearing of children is frequently followed by poor health for the mother. This supreme crisis of life finding her physical system unprepared for the demands of nature, leaves her with weakened resistive powers and sometimes chronic ailments. This can be avoided if Mother's Friend is used before the coming of baby, and the healthy woman can remain a healthy mother. It is the only remedy that perfectly and thoroughly prepares the system for healthy motherhood, and brings about a natural and easy consummation of the term. Women who use Mother's Friend are always saved much suffering when the little one arrives, and recover more quickly, and with no ill effects, or chronic troubles. Every expectant mother should safeguard her health by using Mother's Friend, thus preparing her physical condition for the hour of motherhood. This medicine is for sale at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers.

NOTICE TO VOTERS

Notice is hereby given to the electors of the State of California that the following acts will be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election, to be holden on the eighth day of November, A. D. 1910, to wit:

SENATE BILL NO. 485.

Passed the Senate March 8, A D 1909. Lewis A Hilborn Secretary of the Senate
Passed the Assembly March 15 A D 1909 Clio Lloyd, Chief Clerk of the Assembly

This bill was received by the Governor this 19th day of March A D 1909, at 11 o'clock a. m E C Cooper, Private Secretary of the Governor

CHAPTER 320 An act to provide for the issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund for the improvement of San Francisco harbor by the construction by the Board of State Harbor Commissioners of wharves, piers, state railroad spurs betterments and appurtenances and necessary dredging and filling in connection therewith in the city and county of San Francisco to create a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds to define the duties of state officers in relation thereto to make an appropriation of five thousand dollars for the expense of printing said bonds, and to provide for the submission of this act to a vote of the people.

Section 1 For the purpose of providing a fund for the payment of the indebtedness hereby authorized to be incurred by the board of state harbor commissioners for the erection of wharves, piers, seawall, state railroad spurs betterments and appurtenances and necessary dredging and filling in connection therewith in the city and county of San Francisco, at a cost not to exceed nine million dollars (which said wharves, piers seawall state railroad, spurs betterments and appurtenances and necessary dredging and filling in connection therewith the board of state harbor commissioners are hereby empowered to construct and do in the manner authorized by law and at a cost not to exceed said nine million dollars) the state treasurer shall immediately after the issuance of the proclamation of the governor, provided for in section 10 hereof, prepare nine thousand suitable bonds of the State of California, in the denomination of one thousand dollars each The whole issue of said bonds shall not exceed the sum of nine million dollars, and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, from the date of issuance thereof and both principal and interest shall be payable in gold coin of the present standard value, and they shall be payable at the office of the state treasurer at the expiration of seventy-four years from their date subject however to redemption by lot as in this act hereinafter provided Said bonds shall bear date the second day of July, A D nineteen hundred and eleven, and shall be made payable on the second day of July, nineteen hundred and eighty-five The interest accruing on such of said bonds as are sold shall be due and payable at the office of the state treasurer on the second day of January, and on the second day of July, of each year after the sale of the same, provided that the first payment of interest shall be made on the second day of July nineteen hundred and twelve on so many of said bonds as may have been theretofore sold At the expiration of seventy-four years from the date of said bonds all bonds sold shall cease to bear interest and likewise all bonds redeemed by lot shall cease to bear interest as in this act provided and the said state treasurer shall call in and forthwith pay and cancel the same out of the moneys in the second San Francisco seawall sinking fund provided for in this act and he shall on the first Monday of July nineteen hundred and eighty-five also cancel and destroy all bonds not theretofore sold All bonds issued shall be signed by the governor and countersigned by the controller and shall be indorsed by the state treasurer and the said bonds shall be so signed countersigned and indorsed by the officers who are in office on the second day of July 1911, and each of said bonds shall have the seal of the state stamped thereon The said bonds signed countersigned and indorsed and sealed as herein provided when sold shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California though the sale thereof be made at a date or dates after the person signing countersigning and indorsing or any or either of them shall have ceased to be the incumbents of such office or offices Each bond shall contain a clause that it is subject to redemption by lot after the year nineteen hundred and fifty

Sec 2 Interest coupons shall be attached to each of said bonds so that such coupons may be removed without injury to or mutilation of the bond Said coupons shall be consecutively numbered and shall bear the lithographed signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the second day of July 1911 But no interest on any of said bonds shall be paid for any time which may intervene between the date of any of said bonds and the issue and sale thereof to a purchaser unless such accrued interest shall have been by the purchaser of said bond paid to the state at the time of such sale

Sec 3 The sum of five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the expense that may be incurred by the state treasurer in having said bonds prepared Said amount shall be paid out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose

Sec 4 When the bonds authorized to be issued under this act shall be duly executed they shall be by the state treasurer sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in such parcels and numbers as said treasurer shall be directed by the governor of the state under seal thereof after a resolution requesting such sale shall have been adopted by the board of state harbor commissioners and approved by either the governor of the state or mayor of the city and county of San Francisco who shall only approve the same when in their judgment the actual harbor receipts and those occasionally anticipated will justify such sale of bonds and the consequent increased burden on harbor receipts but said treasurer must reject any and all bids for said bonds or for any of them which shall be below the par value of said bonds so offered plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of sale and the last preceding interest maturity date and he may by public announcement at the place and time fixed for the sale continue such sale as to the whole of the bonds offered or any part thereof offered to such time and place as he may select Before offering any of said bonds for sale the said treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured or will mature before the date fixed for such sale Due notice of the time and place of sale of all bonds must be given by said treasurer by publication in two newspapers published in the city and county of San Francisco and also by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento once a week during four weeks prior to such sale In addition to the notice last above provided for the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable but the expenses and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars ($500 00) for each sale so advertised The cost of such publication shall be paid out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose The proceeds of the sale of such bonds except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon shall be forthwith paid over by said treasurer into the treasury, and must be by him kept in a separate fund to be known and designated as the 'Second San Francisco Seawall Fund' and must be used exclusively for the construction of wharves piers seawall state railroad spurs betterments and appurtenances and necessary dredging and filling in connection therewith on the waterfront of the city and county of San Francisco Drafts and warrants upon said fund shall be drawn upon and shall be paid out of said fund in the same manner as drafts and warrants are drawn upon and paid out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund The amount that shall have been paid at the sale of said bonds as accrued interest on the bonds sold shall be by the state treasurer, immediately after such sale paid into the treasury of the state and placed in the "Second San Francisco Seawall Sinking Fund."

Sec 5. This bill was received by the Governor this 20th day of March A. D 1909, at 12 o'clock M E C. Cooper, Private Secretary of the Governor

CHAPTER 383 An act authorizing the construction acquisition, maintenance and control of a system of state highways in the State of California, specifying the work, fixing the payments to be made by counties for moneys expended therein providing for the issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund for the construction and acquisition of such system, creating a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds, and providing for the submission of this act to a vote of the people

Section 1 A system of state highways in and for the State of California shall be constructed and acquired as and in the manner provided by law by the department of engineering of said state at a cost not to exceed eighteen million dollars For the purpose of providing for the payment of the cost of the construction or acquisition of said system of said highways the state of California is hereby authorized to incur an indebtedness in the manner provided by this act in the sum of eighteen million dollars

Immediately after the issuance of the proclamation of the governor as provided in section 11 of this act, the treasurer of the state shall prepare eighteen thousand suitable bonds of the State of California in the denomination of one thousand dollars each to be numbered from 1 to 18 000 inclusive and to bear the date of the third day of July 1911 The total issue of said bonds shall not exceed the sum of eighteen million dollars and they shall bear interest at the rate of four per cent per annum from the date of issuance thereof The said bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable in gold coin of the United States of the present standard of value at the office of the treasurer of said state at the times and in the manner following, to wit The first four hundred of said bonds shall be due and payable on the third day of July 1917 and four hundred of said bonds in consecutive numerical order shall be due and payable on the third day of July in each and every year thereafter until and including the third day of July 1961 The interest accruing on all of said bonds that shall be sold shall be payable at the office of the treasurer of the state on the third day of January and the third day of July of each and every year after the sale of the same The interest on all bonds issued and sold shall cease on the day of their maturity and the said bonds so issued and sold shall on the day of their maturity be paid as herein provided and canceled by the treasurer of said state All bonds remaining unsold shall, at the date of the maturity thereof be by the treasurer of the state canceled and destroyed All bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be signed by the governor of this state, countersigned by the state controller and endorsed by the state treasurer, and the said bonds shall be so signed countersigned and endorsed by the officers who are in office on the third day of July, 1911 and each of said bonds shall have the great seal of the State of California impressed thereon The said bonds signed, countersigned endorsed and sealed as herein provided when sold shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California though the sale thereof be made at a date or dates after the person so signing countersigning and endorsing or either of them shall have ceased to be the incumbents of said office or offices

Sec 2, Appended to each of said bonds there shall be interest coupons so attached that the same may be detached without injury to or mutilation of said bond The said coupons shall be consecutively numbered and shall bear the lithographed signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the third day of July, 1911 No interest shall be paid on any of said bonds for such time as may intervene between the date of said bond and the day of sale thereof unless such accrued interest shall have been by the purchaser of said bond paid to the state at the time of such sale

Sec 3 There shall be provided in the general appropriation bill sufficient money to defray all expenses that shall be incurred by the state treasurer in the preparation of said bonds and in the advertising of the sale thereof, as in this act provided

Sec 4 When the bonds authorized by this act to be issued shall have been signed countersigned endorsed and sealed as in section one provided, the state treasurer shall sell the same in such parcels and numbers as the governor of the state shall direct to the highest bidder for cash The governor of the state shall issue to the state treasurer such direction immediately after being requested so to do through and by a resolution duly adopted and passed by a majority vote of the advisory board of the department of engineering Said resolution shall specify the amount of money which in the judgment of said advisory board shall be required at such time and the governor of the state shall direct the state treasurer to sell such number of said bonds as may be required to raise said amount of money and that said bonds shall be sold in consecutive numerical order commencing with the first four hundred thereof The state treasurer shall not accept any bid which is less than the par value of the bond plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of sale and the last preceding interest maturity date The state treasurer may at the time and place fixed by him for said sale continue such sale as to the whole or any part of the bonds offered to such time and place as he may at the time of such continuance designate Before offering any of said bonds for sale the said treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured or will mature before the date fixed for such sale The state treasurer shall give notice of the time and place of sale by publication in two newspapers published in the city and county of San Francisco and in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland and in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles and in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento once a week for four weeks next preceding the date fixed for such sale In addition to the notice last above provided for the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable but the expenses and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised

There is hereby created in and for the state treasury a fund to be known and designated as the 'State Highway Fund' and immediately after such sale of bonds the treasurer of the state shall pay into the state treasury and cause to be placed in said state highway fund the total amount received for said bonds, except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon The amount that shall have been paid at such sale as accrued interest on the bonds sold shall be by the treasurer of the state immediately after such sale, paid into the treasury of the state and placed in the interest and sinking fund

The moneys placed in the state highway fund pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be used exclusively for the acquisition of rights of way for and the acquisition and construction of said system of state highways The route or routes of said state highways shall be selected by the department of engineering and said route shall be so selected and said highways so laid out and constructed or acquired as to constitute a continuous and connected state highway system running north and south through the state traversing the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys and along the Pacific coast by the most direct and practicable routes connecting the county seats of the several counties through which it passes and joining the centers of population together with such branch roads as may be necessary to connect therewith the several county seats lying east and west of such state highway

Moneys shall be drawn from said state highway fund for the purposes of this act upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state upon demands made by the department of engineering and audited by the state board of examiners

Sec 5 There is hereby appropriated from the general fund in the state treasury such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds, issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act, as said principal and interest become due and payable

There shall be collected annually in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected such a sum in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds as herein provided, and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of said revenue, to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

The treasurer of the state shall on the first day of January, 1912 and on the first day of each July and the first day of each January thereafter transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to the interest and sinking fund such an amount of the money by this act appropriated as shall be required to pay the interest on the bonds theretofore sold until the interest on all of said bonds so sold shall have been paid or shall have become due in accordance with the provisions of this act.

There is hereby created in the state treasury a fund to be known and designated as the "State Highway and Sinking Fund" The treasurer of the state shall on the first day of July of the year 1917, and on the first day of July of each and every year thereafter in which a parcel of the bonds sold pursuant to the provisions of this act shall become due transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to the said state highway sinking fund such an amount of the moneys appropriated by this act as may be required to pay the principal of the bonds so becoming due and payable in such years

Sec 6 The principal of all of said bonds sold shall be paid at the time the same becomes due, from the state highway sinking fund, and the interest on all bonds sold shall be paid at the time said interest becomes due from the interest and sinking fund Both principal and interest shall be so paid upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state upon demands audited by the state board of examiners and the faith of the State of California is hereby pledged for the payment of the principal of said bonds so sold, and the interest accruing thereon

Sec 7 The state controller and state treasurer shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act and they shall transmit to the governor in triplicate an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder with an annual report in triplicate one copy of each to be by the governor laid before each house of the legislature biennially All books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this act shall, at all times, be open to the inspection of any party interested or the governor, or the attorney-general or a committee of either branch of the legislature or a joint committee of both or any citizen of the state

Sec 8 The highway constructed or acquired under the provisions of this act shall be permanent in character and be finished with oil or macadam or a combination of both, or of such other material as in the judgment of the said department of engineering shall be most suitable and best adapted to the particular locality traversed The state department of engineering in the name of the people of the State of California may purchase, receive by donation or dedication or lease any right of way rock quarry or land necessary or proper for the construction use or maintenance of said state highway and shall proceed, if necessary, to condemn under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to such proceedings any necessary or proper right of way rock quarry or land The department of engineering shall have full power and authority to purchase all supplies material machinery and to do all other things necessary or proper in the construction and maintenance of said state highway With the exception of those public highways which have been permanently improved under county or permanent road division bond issues within three years prior to the adoption of this act, all public highways within this state lying within the right of way of said state highway as determined and adopted by the department of engineering shall be and the same shall become a part of the right of way of said state highway without compensation being paid therefor provided nothing herein contained shall require the state to maintain any highway along or on said right of way, prior to the completion or acquisition of the permanent improvements contemplated by this act Whenever any money received from the sale of bonds under the provisions of this act shall be expended in any county in this state such county must pay into the state treasury such sum each year as shall equal the interest at the rate of four per cent per annum upon the entire sum of money expended within such county in the construction of said state highways, less such portion of said amount expended as the bonds matured under the provisions of this act shall bear to the total number of bonds sold and outstanding All highways constructed or acquired under the provisions of this act shall be permanently maintained and controlled by the State of California.

Sec 9 This act if adopted by the people, shall take effect on the thirty-first day of December, 1910 as to all its provisions except those relating to and necessary for its submission to the people and for returning canvassing and proclaiming the votes and as to such excepted provisions this act shall take effect immediately

Sec 10 This act shall be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election to be holden in the month of November 1910 A D and all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon and at the end thereof the words For the state highway act' and in a separate line under the same the words Against the state highway act Opposite said lines there shall be left spaces in which the voters may make or stamp a cross to indicate whether they vote for or against said act and those voting for said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "For the state highway act" and all those voting against the said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words 'Against the state highway act' The governor of this state shall include the submission of this act to the people, as aforesaid in his proclamation calling for said general election

Sec 11 The votes cast for or against this act shall be counted, returned and canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rules as votes cast for state officers and if it appears that said act shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election as aforesaid then the same shall have effect as hereinbefore provided and shall be irrepealable until the principal and interest of the liabilities herein created shall be paid and discharged and the governor shall make proclamation thereof But if a majority of the votes cast as aforesaid, are against this act then the same shall be and become void

Sec 12 It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to have this act published in at least one newspaper in each county, or city and county if one be published therein throughout this state for three months next preceding the general election to be holden in the month of November A D nineteen hundred and ten the cost of publication shall be paid out of the general fund, on controller's warrants duly drawn for the purpose

CHAPTER 623 An act to provide for the issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund for the construction by the board of state harbor commissioners for the bay of San Diego of harbor improvements consist of a seawall wharves piers state railroad, spurs betterments and appurtenances in the county of San Diego, to create a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds to define the duties of state officers in relation thereto to make an appropriation of one thousand five hundred dollars for the expense of printing said bonds and to provide for the submission of this act to a vote of the people

Section 1 For the purpose of providing a fund for the payment of the indebtedness hereby authorized to be incurred by the board of state harbor commissioners for the bay of San Diego for the harbor improvements consist of for the erection of a seawall wharves piers, state railroad, spurs betterments and appurtenances in the county of San Diego, at a cost not to exceed one million five hundred thousand dollars, which said seawall, wharves, piers, state railroad spurs, betterments and appurtenances the said board of state harbor commissioners for San Diego bay are hereby empowered to construct in the manner authorized by law at a cost not to exceed one million five hundred thousand dollars the state treasurer shall immediately after the issuance of the proclamation of the governor provided for in section ten of this act prepare fifteen hundred suitable bonds of the State of California in the denomination of one thousand dollars each to be numbered from one to fifteen hundred, inclusive, and to bear date of the second day of July, nineteen hundred eleven The total issue of said bonds shall not exceed the sum of one million five hundred thousand dollars, and they shall bear interest at the rate of four per cent per annum from the date of issuance thereof The said bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable in gold coin of the United States of the present standard of value, at the office of the state treasurer of said state on the second day of July, nineteen hundred eighty-five, subject, however, to redemption by lot as in this act hereinafter provided. The interest accruing on all of said bonds that shall be sold shall be payable at the office of the treasurer of the state on the second day of January and the second day of July of each year after the sale of the same At the expiration of seventy four years from the date of said bonds all bonds shall cease to bear interest and likewise all bonds redeemed by lot as hereinafter provided shall cease to bear interest according to the provisions of this act and the state treasurer shall call in and forthwith pay and cancel the same out of the moneys in the San Diego seawall sinking fund provided for in this act and he shall on the date of the maturity of said bonds cancel and destroy all bonds not theretofore sold All bonds remaining unsold shall at the date of the maturity thereof, be by the treasurer of the state canceled and destroyed All bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be signed by the governor of this state, countersigned by the state controller and endorsed by the state treasurer, and the said bonds shall be so signed countersigned, and endorsed by the officers who are in office on the second day of July, nineteen hundred eleven and each of said bonds shall have the great seal of the State of California impressed thereon, and said bonds signed countersigned endorsed and sold as herein provided, shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California though the sale thereof be made at a date or dates after the person so signing, countersigning and endorsing, or either thereof shall have ceased to be an incumbent of said office or offices

Sec 2 Appended to each of said bonds there shall be interest coupons so attached that the same may be detached without injury or mutilation of said bonds, and said coupons shall be consecutively numbered, and shall bear the lithographic signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the second day of July nineteen hundred eleven No interest shall be paid on any of said bonds for such time as may intervene between the date of said bond and the day of sale thereof unless said accrued interest shall have been by the purchaser of said bond, paid to the state at the time of such sale

Sec 3 The sum of one thousand five hundred dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the expense that may be incurred by the state treasurer in having said bonds prepared. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant for the expense incurred in preparing the said bonds and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same

Sec 4 When the bonds authorized to be issued by this act shall have been signed countersigned and endorsed, as in section 1 provided the state treasurer shall sell the same for cash to the highest bidder in such parcels and numbers as the governor of the state shall direct, provided a resolution requesting such sale shall have been adopted by the board of state harbor commissioners for San Diego bay and said board shall not pass such resolution until in their judgment the actual harbor receipts, and those reasonably anticipated will justify such sale of bonds and the consequent increased burden on harbor receipts Said resolution shall specify the number of bonds necessary to produce the amount of money which in the judgment of said board of harbor commissioners, shall be required at such time and the governor of the state shall direct the state treasurer to sell such number of said bonds to raise said amount of money And that said bonds shall be sold in consecutive numerical order The state treasurer shall not accept any bid which is less than the par value of the bond, plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of sale and the last preceding interest maturity date. The state treasurer may at the time and place fixed by him for such sale, continue such sale as to the whole or any part of said bonds to such time and place as he may at the time of such continuance designate Before offering any of said bonds for sale the state treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured or will mature before the date fixed for said sale The state treasurer shall give notice of the time and place of sale by publication in two newspapers published in the city and county of San Francisco, one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles one newspaper published in the city of San Diego and one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento once a week for four weeks next preceding the date fixed for such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expenses and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised The cost of such publication shall be paid out of the San Diego harbor improvement fund on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose, and the treasurer must pay the sa[illegible]. The proceeds of the sale of su[illegible] shall be forthwith paid over [illegible] treasurer into the treasury, and [illegible] by him kept in a separate fu[illegible] known and designated as the [illegible] Seawall Fund' and must be [illegible] exclusively for the construction of a seawall wharves piers state railroad, spurs, betterments and appurtenances thereto on the water front of the bay of San Diego. Drafts and warrants upon the said fund shall be drawn upon and shall be paid out of said fund in the same manner as drafts and warrants are drawn upon and paid out of the San Diego harbor improvement fund

Sec 5 For the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds a sinking fund, to be known and designated as the 'San Diego Seawall Sinking Fund" shall be and the same is hereby created to wit The state treasurer after the second day of January, nineteen hundred and twenty-nine shall on the first day of each and every month thereafter, after the sale of said bonds, take from the San Diego harbor improvement fund such sum as multiplied by the time in months, the bonds then sold and outstanding at the time said treasurer shall so take said sum from said San Diego harbor improvement fund less the amount theretofore taken therefrom for said purpose; and he shall place the sum in the seawall sinking fund created by this act. Said state treasurer shall on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose, employ the moneys in said sinking fund in the purchase of bonds of the United States or of the State of California, which said bonds shall be kept in a proper receptacle appropriately labeled; but he must keep always on hand a sufficient amount of money in said sinking fund with which to pay the interest on such of the state bonds herein provided to be issued as may have theretofore been sold And to provide means for the payment of interest on the bonds that may be sold and outstanding said treasurer shall monthly take from the San Diego harbor improvement fund, and pay into said seawall sinking fund an amount equal to the monthly interest then due on all bonds then sold delivered and outstanding The board of state harbor commissioners of San Diego are hereby authorized and directed by the collection of dockage, tolls rents wharfage and cranage to collect a sum of money sufficient for the purposes of this act, over and above any limitations existing in the existing section of the Political Code of the State of California Between the first and tenth day of November, in the year nineteen hundred and fifty and between the first and tenth day of November of each year thereafter until the maturity of said bonds the said treasurer shall in the presence of the governor proceed to draw by lot such an amount of bonds as shall be requisite to exhaust as nearly as may be the amount in said sinking fund at that time and shall thereupon and before the tenth day of December following, give notice by public advertisement to be inserted twice a week for two weeks in two newspapers published in the county of San Francisco, and also in one newspaper published in the city of San Diego and also in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles stating the number of bonds so drawn and that the principal of said bonds will be paid on presentation to the treasurer on or before the second day of January following and that from and after such last named date all interest upon bonds thus drawn shall cease and it shall be the duty of the treasurer as soon as said bonds so drawn by lot are surrendered to him and paid to cancel the same and the interest coupons thereon, and each year beginning with the year nineteen hundred and fifty, the said treasurer shall in the manner aforesaid, proceed to draw by lot such an amount of bonds as shall be requisite to exhaust as nearly as may be the amount in said sinking fund and proceed in the manner hereinabove stated After the payment of all said bonds the surplus or balance of maining in said sinking fund, if any there be, shall forthwith be paid into the San Diego harbor improvement fund. At the time of the respective drawings by lot, as aforesaid, and also at the maturity of said state bonds, said treasurer shall sell the United States or other bonds then in said sinking fund, at governing market rates, after advertising the sale thereof in the manner hereinbefore provided for the sale of bonds hereby authorized to be issued, and shall use the proceeds for the payment of such bonds as may be drawn by lot, and at the maturity of said bonds outstanding shall pay and redeem said matured outstanding bonds out of said moneys in said fund in extinguishment of said bonds on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

Sec. 6. The state controller and the state treasurer shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act, and they shall transmit to the governor an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder, with an annual report, to be by the governor laid before the legislature biennially, and all books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this act shall at all times be open to the inspection of any party interested, or the governor, or the attorney-general, or a committee of either branch of the legislature, or a joint committee of both, or any citizen of the state.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer to pay the interest of said bonds, when the same falls due out of the sinking fund provided for in this act, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

Sec. 8. This act, if adopted by the people, shall take effect on the thirty-first day of December, nineteen hundred and ten, as to all its provisions except those relating to and necessary for its submission to the people, and for returning, canvassing, and proclaiming the votes, and as to said excepted provisions this act shall take effect immediately.

Sec. 9. This act shall be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election, to be holden in the month of November, nineteen hundred and ten, and all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon and at the end thereof, the words, "For the San Diego seawall act," and in a separate line under the same words "Against the San Diego seawall act," and opposite said lines there shall be left spaces in which the voters may make or stamp a cross to indicate whether they vote for or against said act, and those voting for said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "For the San Diego seawall act," and all those voting against the said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "Against the San Diego seawall act." The governor of this state shall include the submission of this act to the people, as aforesaid, in his proclamation calling for said general election.

Sec. 10. The votes cast for or against this act shall be counted, returned and canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rules as votes cast for state officers, and if it appear that said act shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at said election as aforesaid then the same shall have effect as hereinbefore provided, and shall be irrepealable until the principal and interest of the liabilities herein created shall be paid and discharged, and the governor shall make proclamation thereof; but if a majority of the votes cast as aforesaid are against this act then the same shall be and become void.

Sec. 11. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to have this act published in at least one newspaper in each county, or city and county, if one be published therein, throughout this state, for three months next preceding the general election to be holden in the month of November, nineteen hundred and ten, the costs of publication shall be paid out of the San Diego harbor improvement fund, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

Sec. 12. The state controller and state treasurer are hereby directed to transfer from any moneys paid into the San Diego seawall fund under the provisions of this act to the general fund of the State of California, any and all sums of money theretofore transferred from said general fund to the San Diego seawall fund, together with interest on said moneys from the date of transfer at the rate of four per cent per annum.

Sec. 13. This act may be known and cited as the "San Diego seawall act of 1909."

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

Notice of sheriff's sale of real estate. No. 26196

By virtue of an execution issued out of the Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California wherein Albert Sonnenberg was plaintiff and D. F. Minney and L. P. Curtis were defendants upon a judgment rendered the 29th day of October, A. D., 1907, for the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, United States gold coin, besides costs and interest, I have heretofore levied upon all the right, title, claim and interest of said above named defendants of, in and to the following described real property, to wit:

All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land, situate, lying and being in the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, and bounded and particularly described as follows, to wit:

Commencing at the point of intersection of the eastern line of Jackson street with the southern line of Fifteenth street; running thence southerly along said line of Jackson street fifty (50) feet, thence at right angles easterly one hundred and fifty (150) feet; thence at right angles northerly fifty (50) feet to the said southern line of Fifteenth street, and thence westerly along said last named line one hundred and fifty (150) feet to the point of commencement.

Public notice is hereby given that I will, on Monday the 15th day of August, A. D. 1910, at 10 o'clock A. M. of said day, in front of the Broadway entrance of the Court House, of the County of Alameda, in the City of Oakland, sell at public auction for United States gold coin, all the right, title, claim and interest of said defendants, D. F. Minney and L. P. Curtis of, in and to the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to raise sufficient money to satisfy said judgment, with interest and costs, etc., to the highest and best bidder.

FRANK BARNET, Sheriff
Dated, Oakland, July 22, 1910

SUMMONS ON DIVORCE.

Department No. —.

Emma M. Hochstrasser, plaintiff, vs. A. A. Hochstrasser, defendant.

Action brought in the Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California, and the complaint filed in said County of Alameda, in the office of said Clerk of said Superior Court.

The people of the State of California send greeting to A. A. Hochstrasser, deceased.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California, and to answer the complaint filed therein within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after service on you of this summons, if served within this County, otherwise within thirty days.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of this Court dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between plaintiff and defendant, and for such other relief as the Court may seem proper, special reference being made to the complaint on file herein for further particulars.

And you are hereby notified, that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint, as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in said complaint.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California, this 6th day of July, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and ten.

OAKLAND TO HAVE GOVERNMENT FERRY

Craft Will Be Constructed by United Engineering Works for Run to Angel Island.

Preparations and plans are being made at the United Engineering Works for the construction of a new government ferry boat to be placed on the run between the Ferry station and Angel island. It will be of the same type as the Vallejo boats, though on a smaller scale. It will be 140 feet long and built at a cost of approximately $125,000.

Actual construction will commence within a short time and it is expected that the craft will be put into commission within the next eight months. The steamer will have a speed of 12 knots and be capable of carrying several hundred passengers.

INTEREST IN SEAWALL.

Along the waterfront there is a great deal of interest taken in the proposition of the new seawall and all branches of industry are eagerly looking forward to its completion. It is stated by those best acquainted with the conditions existing at the present time in the estuary that its completion will go a long way towards increasing shipping activities with the aid of better facilities for the handling of material and merchandise. It is expected that several new warehouses will soon be built and that at least two new firms will establish branches along the wharves in the near future.

REPAIR ARMY STEAMER.

Within a short time the army steamer General McDowell is expected to be towed into the yards of Moore & Scott to undergo repairs made necessary by its collision with a bulkhead along the San Francisco waterfront a few weeks ago. While the bids have not as yet been acted upon in Washington, it is believed the local firm will secure the contract, it having submitted the lowest bid. The bids submitted were as follows: Moore & Scott, $574; Union Iron Works, $1105; United Engineering Works, $950. In view of the fact that a large force of men are now at work on the Transport Thomas in the former yards, the facilities of the former firm to handle the repair work have been greatly increased.

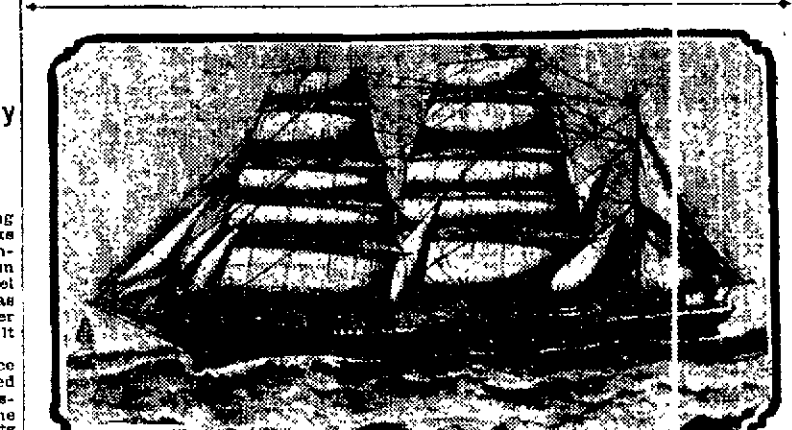
Famous Old Clipper Completes Fast Trip



Few of the vessels which enter San Francisco bay are better known than the bark Antiope, for many years familiar to those who frequent Oakland's water front. The Antiope has just returned from a cruise to Australia, and is now discharging her cargo preparatory to loading lumber for a return trip to the Antipodes. On her last trip from Eureka to Sidney the Antiope, under the command of Capt. John R. Mathieson, made the fastest passage ever made by a sailing vessel between the two ports, covering the distance in forty-three days. This is faster than steamer time.

On her way back from Australia the Antiope made the run in seventy-two days. This is the record trip for sailing vessels for this season, all the other vessels have taken from eighty-five to one hundred and forty days in the passage.

The Antiope is one of the famous old clipper ships which was built for the Australian passenger service from England before steam was used. She was launched at Glasgow in 1866, and for many years sailed to the Antipodes carrying immigrants. She has always been noted as a fast sailer, and even in the days when wind jammers were making record passages the Antiope captured every record.

FAMOUS BLOCKADE RUNNER.

During the Russo-Japanese war the Antiope, under the command of Capt. Mathieson, was used as a blockade runner, but was captured by a Japanese war vessel while attempting to enter a Russian port, and confiscated. She was towed to a remote harbor in Japan, and lay there for more than a year. Capt. Mathieson was held a prisoner of war for several months. When released he journeyed back to the spot where his vessel had been taken and was the first white man ever to visit this remote section of northern Japan. He remained with his ship until it was re-purchased, and brought it back to America. Since then the Antiope has been running between Oakland, San Francisco, Eureka, and Australia, with an occasional trip to South America.

The vessel has an unusually interesting history, having at one time been captured by Chinese pirates, and was once wrecked on the Rangoon bar and lay in the heavy breakers for several days before being salved.

CAPTAIN IN FEAR OF GOONIES ON VOYAGE

Skipper Declared That Birds Brought Misfortune, Is Assertion.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 27.—Passengers from the sailing ship R. P. Rithet, which came into port yesterday after a thirty-five days' trip from the Hawaiian islands, stormed the office of the Matson Navigation Company immediately upon their arrival on shore, telling of the strange behavior of Captain Drew, who kept the passengers in a turmoil throughout the voyage with his weird tales of danger, his dreams of phantoms and marine superstitions.

FEARED THE GOONIES.

The passengers said the captain even put a ban on the sport of two little lads, sons of Thomas Dozier, attorney and politician. The boys were trying to snare the goonies, or big sea gulls, in the South Pacific, and had thrown out a line and hook for the purpose when the captain caught of them and in a voice of terror yelled to them to stop, that he'd have no goonies brought aboard his ship and the next time he caught anybody fishing for goonies he would put him in irons.

The captain then explained to his passengers that calms and head winds would beset a sailing vessel if anyone aboard fishes for goonies.

MISFORTUNE ARRIVES.

And it seemed as if the goonies did bring misfortune, for many days of calm beset the ship and the captain began to hear rumors of plots and mutinity aboard ship and a strange epidemic of dreams broke out which kept the captain and passengers in terror, the captain believing that they foreshadowed evil for him, and he forthwith began to shadow the crew and every passenger aboard. Believing they were plotting against him he called them cattle, swore at them and scorned them, the crew faring almost as badly.

It was a happy lot of passengers who set their feet on terra firma once again yesterday and glad they were to be rid of the captain and his weird superstitions.

Captain Drew has been in command of sailing ships for more than twenty-five years and has grown old and grizzled in the service.

Notice of Sale of Franchise

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR THE SALE OF A FRANCHISE TO LAY, MAINTAIN, USE, OPERATE, REPAIR AND REPLACE, FROM TIME TO TIME, POLES AND WIRES SUSPENDED THEREON, ALONG, ACROSS AND UPON THE COUNTY ROADS AND HIGHWAYS OF MURRAY TOWNSHIP, OF THE COUNTY OF ALAMEDA STATE OF CALIFORNIA, FOR THE PURPOSE OF A PRIVATE TELEPHONE LINE.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 25th day of April, 1910, the Sierra and San Francisco Power Company made application to the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, asking said Board of Supervisors to grant a franchise to lay, maintain, use, operate and replace, from time to time, along, across and upon the county roads and highways of Murray township, of the said County of Alameda, poles and wires suspended thereon, for the purpose of a private telephone line;

That it is proposed by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda to grant said application:

That the character of the franchise proposed to be granted is as herein stated;

That the term of said franchise shall be fifty (50) years from and after the date of granting the same; that the terms and conditions under which said franchise is to be granted are as follows, to-wit

FIRST—That such private telephone line and such poles and wires be constructed, maintained and operated in accordance with such provisions of the Statutes of the State of California, and of the ordinances of the County of Alameda, as may be applicable thereto.

SECOND—That the grantee of said franchise, his or its successors or assigns, within not more than four months after the granting of said franchise, shall commence, in good faith, the work of installing such private telephone line, poles and wires.

That the work herein above described shall be completed within not more than three years after its commencement; provided that, for good cause, said Board of Supervisors may, by resolution, extend the time for completion thereof not exceeding three months.

That if the work herein above described be not commenced and completed as herein provided, the franchise shall be forfeited.

THIRD—All poles and other superstructures and the wires suspended thereon shall be so erected, constructed and maintained as not to, in any way, whatsoever, interfere with the usual and customary trade, traffic and travel of said County Roads and highways, and shall be so erected and constructed under the general direction of, and to the satisfaction of, the Road Commissioner of said Murray Township of the said County of Alameda, but if the grantee of said franchise, his or its successors or assigns, shall be dissatisfied with the decision of the Road Commissioner, he or it shall have the right to appeal to said Board of Supervisors.

FOURTH—All wires suspended upon or from such poles shall be placed and maintained at such a height above the surface of the ground as not to endanger or interfere with customary and usual trade, traffic and travel on any of said county roads and highways.

FIFTH—All poles shall be so erected, constructed and maintained as not to interrupt or interfere with any piers, masts, poles or other superstructures now erected and maintained by other persons, firms or corporations under authority of law.

SIXTH—The grantee of said franchise, his or its successors or assigns, shall, at all times, keep and maintain such poles and the wires suspended thereon in good order and condition, so that the same shall not menace or endanger the lives or property of persons passing along or over said county roads and highways.

SEVENTH—The franchise rights, privilege and permission, herein proposed to be granted, is not an exclusive right and franchise, and the right of said Alameda County to grant like franchises, rights, privileges and permissions is hereby reserved, provided that such grants shall not interfere with the reasonable use of the franchise, right, privilege and permission herein proposed to be granted.

EIGHTH—That the grantee of said franchise, his or its successors or assigns, shall, during the life of said franchise, pay to the County of Alameda, in lawful money of the United States two (2) per cent of the gross receipts of such grantee, his or its successors or assigns, arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise; provided, however, that no percentage shall be paid for the first five years succeeding the date of such franchise, but thereafter such percentage shall be payable annually; and in the event said payment is not made, said franchise shall be forfeited; and herein it shall be the duty of the grantee of said franchise, his or its successors or assigns, to file with the County Clerk of the County of Alameda, on June 30th of the sixth year from the date of granting such franchise, a statement verified by oath of said grantee, his or its successors or assigns, or by oath of the manager or presiding officer of said grantee, its successors or assigns, showing the total gross receipts and gross earnings collected or received, or in any manner gained or derived by the said grantee, his or its successors or assigns, since the expiration of the fifth year from the date of the granting of said franchise, arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise, and on June 30th of each succeeding year during the life of such franchise; and on the date of expiration of such franchise, the grantee of such franchise, his or its successors or assigns, shall file with the County Clerk of the County of Alameda, a similar statement, verified as aforesaid; and on the day following the date of filing of each of the aforesaid statements, it shall be the duty of said grantee, his or its successors or assigns, to pay to the County Treasurer of the County of Alameda such two per cent of the gross annual receipts arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise, determined and computed in the manner hereinabove provided.

NINTH—That the grantee of said franchise, within five days after such franchise is awarded, shall file with the Board of Supervisors of Alameda County a bond running to said County, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, or one or more surety companies, to be approved by said Board of Supervisors, in the penal sum of Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00), conditioned that said grantee, his or its successors or assigns, shall well and truly observe, fulfill and perform each and every term and condition of said franchise, and that in case of any breach of condition of such bond, the whole amount of the penal sum therein named shall be taken and deemed to be liquidated damages, and shall be recoverable from the principal and sureties upon said bond; and in case said bond shall not be so filed, the award of such franchise shall be set aside, and the money paid therefor shall be forfeited, and said franchise shall, in the discretion of said Board of Supervisors, be readvertised, and again offered for sale in the same manner, and under the same restrictions, as herein provided.

TENTH—That the said grantee, his or its successors or assigns, shall not, without the consent of the County of Alameda, evidenced by Ordinance duly passed by the Board of Supervisors thereof, sell or transfer its property or any of the rights or privileges authorized or granted by said franchise, to any person, company, combination, trust or corporation engaged in the telephone business in the County of Alameda, concerning the rate to be charged for telephone service; provided, however, that this prohibition shall not be deemed to include any contract which the grantee, his or its successors or assigns, may enter into with any person or corporation operating a telephone system in cities or towns in the County of Alameda, or any person or corporation carrying on a telephone business outside of the County of Alameda with regard to the rates to be charged for the transmission of messages between cities or towns in the County of Alameda, or from and to points or places outside of the County of Alameda.

ELEVENTH—If any part or provision of the franchise herein proposed to be granted shall, for any reason, be held invalid or void, such provision or part shall not interfere, in any way, with the franchises, rights and privileges herein proposed to be granted.

That sealed bids for said franchise will be received by said Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda up to the hour of 10 o'clock a. m. on Tuesday, the 6th day of September, 1910; and at the time above mentioned, and in the Board Room of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, in the Hall of Records, in Oakland, California, any and all sealed bids will be opened, and said franchise will be struck off, sold and awarded to the person, firm or corporation who shall make the highest cash bid therefor; provided, only, that at the time of the opening of said bids, any responsible person, firm or corporation present or represented, may bid for such franchise not less than ten (10%) per cent above the highest sealed bid therefor, and said bid so made may be raised not less than ten (10%) per cent by any other responsible bidder, and said bidding may so continue until finally said franchise is struck off, sold and awarded by said Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda to the highest bidder therefor, in gold coin of the United States; that each sealed bid herein provided for shall be accompanied with cash or a certified check payable to the County Treasurer of the County of Alameda for the full amount of said bid, and no sealed bid shall be considered unless said cash or check is enclosed therewith, and the successful bidder shall deposit at least ten (10%) per cent of the amount of his bid with the County Clerk of the County of Alameda before the franchise shall be struck off to him; that if the successful bidder shall fail to make such deposit immediately, then and in that case his bid shall not be received, and shall be considered as void, and the said franchise shall then and there be again offered for sale to the bidder who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, subject to the same conditions as to deposit as above mentioned, and that said procedure shall be had until said franchise is struck off, sold and awarded to a bidder who shall make the necessary deposit of at least ten (10%) per cent of the amount of his bid therefor, as herein provided;

That the successful bidder shall deposit with the County Clerk of the County of Alameda, within twenty-four hours after the acceptance of his bid, the remaining ninety (90%) per cent of the amount thereof, and in case he or it shall fail to do so, then the said deposit theretofore made, shall be forfeited, and the said award of said franchise shall be void, and the said franchise shall then and there, by said Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, be again offered for sale to the highest bidder therefor in the same manner and under the same restrictions as hereinbefore provided, and in case said bidder shall fail to deposit with the County Clerk of the County of Alameda the remaining ninety (90%) per cent of his bid within twenty-four hours after its acceptance, the award to him of said franchise shall be set aside, and the deposit theretofore made by him shall be forfeited and no further proceedings for the sale of said franchise shall be had, unless the same shall be readvertised and again offered for sale in the manner hereinbefore provided.

That the successful bidder for said franchise or privilege, so struck off, sold and awarded, shall file a bond running to the County of Alameda with at least two good and sufficient sureties, or one or more surety companies, to be approved by the board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, in the penal sum of Five Hundred Dollars ($500 00), conditioned that such bidder shall well and truly observe, fulfill and perform each and every term and condition of such franchise, and that in case of any breach of condition of such bond, the whole amount of the penal sum therein named shall be taken and deemed to be liquidated damages, and shall be recoverable from the principal and sureties upon said bond; that said bond shall be filed with the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda within five (5) days after the franchise is awarded, and upon the filing and approval of said bond, said franchise shall, by said Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, be granted by Ordinance to the person, firm or corporation to whom it has been struck off, sold or awarded, and in case said bond shall not be so filed, the award of said franchise shall be set aside, any money paid therefor shall be forfeited, and said franchise shall, in the discretion of said Board of Supervisors, be readvertised and again offered for sale in the same manner and under the same restrictions as hereinabove provided;

That this notice is given and published in pursuance of a resolution duly passed and adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda on the 15th day of August, 1910.

(Seal) JOHN P. COOK,

AAHMES TO TAKE 100 INTO ORDER

One hundred candidates will be initiated at the first ceremonial of Aahmes Temple at the Coliseum on Twelfth street tonight, and extensive preparations have been made to make the function a notable one in fraternal circles. In the work of initiation, Islam patrol of San Francisco, composed of thirty members, will join with Aahmes Temple patrol, which has just been organized and includes 35 members.

A banquet at the Scottish Rite cathedral will conclude the initiation, preparations having been made for about 600 guests. Frank W. Bilger, illustrious potentate of Aahmes Temple, will preside and will call on the various visitors and the officers of the new shrine for remarks.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.

The officers of Islam Temple have been invited to witness the ceremonial and among the distinguished visitors will be James McCandless, past potentate of Aloha Temple, Honolulu.

The officers of Aahmes Temple, who will conduct the initiation ceremonial, are: Frank W. Bilger, illustrious potentate; Ben O. Johnson, George S. Meredith, F. W. Le Ballister, D. W. McLaughlin, J. A. Hill, E. H. Morgan, R. C. Franko Jr., Charles H. Campbell, Ben F. Woolner, A. L. Ott, Charles Chubb, W. A. Walker, Ed F. Hughes, Charles J. Heeseman, W. J. Petersen, William Hughes, E. C. Prindle, A. W. Evans, A. G. Taft, Kirby Smith, F. L. Nelson, B. R. Fechyew, J. M. Pedrini, H. E. Curzon, L. D. S. Inskeep, William Hughes, Charles F. Ott, George A. Scott and R. A. Genis.

An elaborate invitation has been issued in honor of the occasion under the direction of Frank W. Bilger. The outside of the invitation, which is in the form of a folder, represents two Arabs making obeisance to a member of the order mounted on a camel wearing the insignia of the order and brandishing a scimitar, while the God of the Moon, who is the patron of the new shrine, laughs at the performance.

ACCUSED SWINDLER ARRESTED BY U. S.

Alleged Leader of the Maybray Gang Taken by Federal Authorities.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 27.—A warrant was issued this morning by the federal authorities for the arrest of Jack Carkeek, alleged to be one of the leaders of the Maybray gang of swindlers, who is held in detinue at the city prison.

The warrant is based on an indictment from Council Bluffs, Iowa, charging conspiracy to defraud through the use of the United States mails. Carkeek was indicted, together with eighty-five others, twenty-nine of whom have now been taken into custody.

It was through Louis Gay, a capitalist of Honolulu, that Carkeek was captured, Gay having been led to invest $1500 in a sure thing and to cable to Honolulu for the money. The arrest was made by Detectives Dinan and Kavanaugh.

Carkeek was turned over to the United States marshals today and transferred to the Alameda county jail.

Minister Resigns and Goes On Stage

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Rev. Dudley C. Fosher, for the last three years pastor of the Ryder Memorial Universalist Church, has resigned and accepted a position with a musical comedy company.

He gave as his reason for quitting the pulpit that his salary of $1200 per year was too low.

When Mr. Fosher appears on the stage at Racine, Wis., he will act in the role of a college professor, and will sing to the dancing accompaniment of rows of chorus girls. It was his vocal ability that obtained for him the favorable attention of a comedy company.

WHEAT MARKET OPENS UNSTEADY

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Wheat opened irregular today, with values ⅛c off to ¼c higher. Foreign markets were firm, with a slight downward trend and the controlling factor is the early trading was an improved local demand. In the first hour prices worked slowly away from the low point, September rising to 99½c, a net gain of ⅝c over yesterday's closing quotation. Influential concerns invested to some extent in the nearby delivery.

The other options showed a healthy local demand and reports of export sales were heard. September opened ⅛c to ¼c higher at 99@99⅛c. December opened unchanged to ⅛c down at $1.03@1.03¼ to $1.03¼, and then advanced to $1.03¾@1.04.

Corn was steady at the opening and developed some firmness early in the session. The start was ⅛c down to ⅛c up. Ideal weather conditions in the corn belt gave the bears encouragement. September opened ⅛c down to ⅛c up at 60⅞@60⅞c and later advanced to 61c.

Rye—Cash, 73c; September and December, 76c.

Barley—56@74c.

Timothy—Cash, $6@7; September and October, $6.75; March, $6.80.

Clover—October, $14.50.

December opened unchanged to ⅛c down and also gained a little in the first hour. There was a firm undertone in the oats pit and opening figures were generally unchanged. A moderate demand early in the day helped the market. September opened unchanged at 34½c. December started unchanged to a shade higher at 36⅛c to 36⅝c.

Trading in hogs was light and prices kept within narrow limits in the early trading. Opening prices for the October products were: Pork, $20.75—2½c up; lard, $11.95½ and ribs, $11.70, unchanged.

The market continued strong through the session. The close was strong, with September 1⅛c higher at $1.00, and December 1@1⅛c up at $1.04⅞ to $1.04¼@1.04⅜.

Wheat—September, $1; December, $1.04⅞@1.04¼; May, $1.09½.

Corn—September, 61c; December, 58⅝c; May, 60⅞@60⅝c.

Oats—September, 34½c; December, 36⅛c; May, 39c.

Pork—September, $21.20, October, $20.95; January, $20.05.

Lard—January, $10.60; September, $12.07½; October, $12.07½; November, $11.52½.

Ribs—September, $12.30; October, $11.77½; January, $9.70.

SHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Inter-Ocean Bears on wheat who have tried to force prices lower were surprised at the absorption of December at 103.

They have noticed that every time it has touched that figure the price has reacted and forced to cover at small losses.

The September-December spread last night was 4¼, although at one time changes were at 4½c. There has been an immense changing from September to December by elevator people all week, which has been the feature of the trading and has furnished a good part of the business.

Chicago grain men who are on the continent as well as those who have returned the past few days, say that the wheat situation there is bullish and that the buying side is the one to play for a long pull.

This has led those who have been very bearish to express the opinion that while prices may decline 2c more they do not want to sell wheat short on the breaks from this level downward and prefer to buy it and wait.

Buying corn on expectation of frost damaging the corn crop so far has turned out, as in previous at this season, to the disadvantage of the bulls; these scares come every year at about this time but do not last long. There was no frost shown by the weather map yesterday that would hurt the corn and indications are for higher temperatures. Traders said last night that the market for the next 30 days will be governed largely by the weather and that it was not wise to sell short on good breaks.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Bartlett-Frasier: The wheat market at the moment seems to be of a trading character with a larger percentage of the trade professional. Until the cash demand improves we feel that the weight of our present heavy stocks is too great to allow of any substantial advance. We continue to feel that as long as corn conditions continue as at present sales should be made on all hard spots for moderate profits.

Finley-Barrell. While we continue to feel it will be a very different matter for bulls to bring about any permanent advance in wheat until there is a decided revival in either export or domestic demand and until September liquidation is out of the way, would advise caution in increasing short holdings on breaks.

Sherson-Hammill. Local professionals are operating on the bull side of wheat without any assistance whatever from the outside, and it looks as though they had undertaken a pretty heavy contract in view of the carrying charge against them and inadequate cash demand. A purely theoretical foreign demand and an absence of outside buying, which leaves the burden of support entirely on their shoulders.

Chapin: With wheat stocks still increasing, ideal weather Northwest, we do not see the logic in buying at this level.

Fitch. We feel that wheat is worth around present levels.

Wrenn. Local professional speculators continue to commit themselves to the long side of the market, but they are making no headway in advancing wheat prices. The only enhancement we can see are the carrying charges.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Gibson says: I do not change my opinion that after the next advance we may get a manipulated shake-out, but the technical situation appears to prohibit such a movement at present. In fact, it might be abandoned altogether but I know it is contemplated. The best thing to do is to assume that the market will reach higher prices before the shake-out occurs and to operate accordingly. The buying of copper and smelter stocks is very good. American Beet Sugar is steadily absorbed and will sell much higher in a short time.

American Can stocks, both common and preferred, will reach higher prices. There is also excellent buying of Va-Car Chemical.

Expect somewhat lower prices in cotton, but the short interest is growing, and it is advisable to cover on sharp declines.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The closing quotations were—Ups—A R, 1, B O, ⅛; Den, ⅜, Ills, ⅜; L N, ⅛; K T, ¼; K Y C, ⅜; O W, ⅜; S J, ½; Wa pfd, ⅜.

TRIVIAL CHANGES IN WALL STREET

Prices Move But Little Either Way From Yesterday's Closing.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Price changes at the opening of the stock market were insignificant and the handful of stocks dealt in showed trivial changes either way from yesterday's closing. Central Leather rose 1.

Light selling caused a slight reaction to below yesterday's final figures. Subsequently Reading was bid up from 140¼ to 141½ and the rest of the list hardened. Denver and Rio Grande preferred and American Telephone and Telegraph rose 1 and International Harvester 1½. Consolidated Gas declined 1. Reading met a good deal of stock at the high level and went off again to 141.

The market closed heavy. The tone became heavy, stocks apparently sagging more of their own weight than from any concerted pressure. Union Pacific went a point under yesterday's closing and Reading and United States Steel yielded as much from their best prices. Chicago Great Western rose 1 and American Beet Sugar 2¼. General Electric lost 1.

BUTTER, EGGS, CHEESE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Butter—Fancy creamery, 31c; seconds, 30½c; fancy dairy, 28c.

COTTON MARKET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Cotton opened firm at an advance of 36 points. The close was quiet and steady, net 28 points higher on August, but 12½ points on the new crop months.

Cotton futures closed quiet and steady. Closing bids: August, 16.82c; September 14.27c; October, 13.45c; November, 13.40c; December, 13.46c; January and February, 13.44c; March, 13.50c; May, 13.55c; June, 13.53c; July, 13.52c.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 50 points higher, middling uplands, 16.90c, middling gulf, 16.50c. No sales.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Liverpool due, 18 points higher on August and 1½ to 2 up on later months; opened steady at ½ to 1½ advance.

Closed steady at a net advance of 5½ to 9½ on near months and 5 to 5½ on new crop positions. Spot dull, 9 higher at 8.23d, sales 2000, including 1500 American.

Chronicle says: Our advices by telegraph from the South indicate that in the main the weather has been favorable during the week. In portions of Texas, however, crop deterioration is complained of as a result of heat and drought, and at some points elsewhere moisture is claimed to be needed. Picking is becoming general in earlier sections and the movement of new cotton from Texas is quite free.

Local showers fell yesterday in the South Atlantic and East gulf states. Temperatures over Southwest at 8 o'clock last night ranged from 72 to 88 degrees, elsewhere 70 to 84. Precipitation was, New Orleans, .06; low barometer central over southern end of Florida.

Chronicle places spinners' takings American for week at 110,141 against 151,423 last year. For season to date 11,277,328 against 13,258,958 bales last year.—H. W.

WOOL MARKET.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27.—Wool steady; territory and western mediums, 18@23c; fine mediums, 19@21c; fine, 14@17c.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 27.—Wheat—October, 7s 6⅛d; December, 7s 7⅛d; March, 7s 6¼d. Weather fine.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 27.—The wheat market at the opening was affected by the disappointing American cables yesterday, talk of very heavy Russian shipments this week and cheaper La Plata offerings, and offerings were ¼d to ⅜d lower. Later a steadier undertone developed and prices advanced ¼d from opening. Buying was induced by an improvement inquiry from cargoes with fewer sellers. At the close the market was about steady, with values ⅛d to ¼d lower than yesterday.

The corn market was easy and ¼d lower in sympathy with the weakness in American yesterday, pressure of spot and the large arrivals.—Broomhall.

PORTLAND GRAIN MARKET.

PORTLAND, Aug. 27.—Wheat—Track prices: Club, 88c; bluestem, 95@96c; red Russian, 86c; valley, 90c; turkey red, 88@90c. Car receipts: Wheat, 25; oats, 3; hay, 10.

SUGAR AND COFFEE

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Sugar—Raw, firm; Muscovado, 89 test, 3.85c; centrifugal, 96 test, 4.45c; molasses sugar, 89 test, 3.70c. Refined, steady; crushed, 5.95c; granulated, 5.25c; powdered, 5.35c.

Coffee—Spot, firm; No. 7 Rio, [illegible]; No. 4 Santos, [illegible].

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

By J. C. WILSON.

San Francisco, August 27, 1910.

Wheat advanced more than a cent today and closed within ⅛ of the top, in spite of lower foreign markets, and a certainty of bearish statistical news on Monday. All foreign markets closed lower, even Paris ⅛ off. There was, however, a lot of wheat bought in Chicago today by certain interests who believe that even though the market may sell a little lower in the near future, that it will ultimately sell much higher. Some are predicting 25c per bushel advance or more. The market made a remarkable showing today when everything is taken into consideration. World's shipments will surely be very heavy on Monday and the visible supply will show another big increase with the total probably around 25 million bushels, against less than 10 million bushels last year. The Northwestern Grain Dealers' Association gave out an estimate today on the crop in three northwestern Canadian provinces, making it only 12 million bushels less than last year. Almost any other time an array of news like this would have caused a break, but the market was bolstered up today by the professional element. Their contentions being that the shortage abroad will ultimately force much higher prices in this country, and in that we think they are right. We have steadily adhered to that position and believe there will be a lot of money made on the bull side of wheat in the next eight months. We doubt, though, if it will be possible to bring about any material or permanent advance just now. Different places reported wheat sold for export today with more inquiries, but the total quantity actually sold or confirmed was very small. It may be that wheat this week saw low figures for the year, but think it would be well to go a little slow in buying on such forced bulges as we had today. Should foreign markets not respond on Monday to our today's advance, the Chicago market could easily sell back some Monday and the early days of next week. There is still more or less long September wheat to be liquidated before delivery day and would like to see it out of the way. However, take advantage of any break that may come to buy December and May wheat.

Corn closed higher but the advance was mostly in sympathy with wheat. The weather was quite favorable and offerings of cash corn from the country was fairly liberal. However, the growing corn crop is still in great danger from frosts and that would make purchases on breaks seem advisable. Even if the crop is not caught by frosts, we think May corn will be worth 60c a bushel.

Oats sympathized some too with the strength of wheat. Some very far sighted speculators are accumulating lines of May oats under 40c and we believe that price will look very low later on.

Provisions: Light receipts of hogs with a firm market for hogs caused a strong provision market today, and the close was well up near the top, but on further advance next week believe sales can be made again of pork, lard and ribs.

INVESTORS IN EUCALYPTUS LANDS.
An unsurpassed opportunity to secure from twenty-five acres up of eucalyptus in the famous Santa Maria Valley, where the fertile soil and its proximity to the coast makes ideal conditions for the growth of these trees.
The first year you plant the trees, the second and third years you care for them, the fourth year you pay one-fourth on the purchase price of the land and one-fourth each succeeding year for three years. The land is limited to a few hundred acres in quantity and first come first served. A snap like this has never before been offered in California.

JOSIE HEATHER CAPTIVATES AUDIENCE AT THE ORPHEUM

Dainty Vaudeville Star Shines Brightly in the Firmament

Direct from the London music halls dainty Josie Heather now playing at the Orpheum has captivated the audiences by her winsome manner English she is to the observer and the smile that will not wear off has made an impression which will not soon be forgotten by those who have listened to her songs her laughter and her little farewell cry Dancing towards the side curtain with a ring of applause she leaves behind her an impression of refinement or in the words of the gallery boy Much class hey''

The music of her song and laughter as trickled across the footlights in a manner which attracted at once the attention of the whole house while every ear was strained to catch every syllable from her lips Of those who have preceded her the patrons have fond recollections, but that she will occupy a place in the hearts of the theater goers of Oakland is beyond a doubt by those who have witnessed her appearance

Orders Casket; Kills Self On Wife's Grave

ROSEVILLE Cal Aug 27—Julius Codrean an Austrian coppersmith employed in the local shops of the Southern Pacific ordered a casket from a local undertaking firm a week ago for his own body Yesterday his corpse was found lying across the grave of his wife in Odd Fellows Cemetery He went to the cemetery Thursday evening and shot himself some time during the night, the bullet piercing his heart

Codrean and his wife lost their seven children in a short space of time and Mrs Codrean grieved herself to death three months ago Every evening Codrean went to the cemetery to weep over the graves of his loved ones He completed all the preparations for death before shooting himself making sure his body would rest beside that of his wife and among those of his seven children Codrean was 40 years old

Spuerme Court Finds Flaw in Primary Law

CARSON Nev Aug 27—The State Supreme Court has handed down a decision in the direct primary election case which is a reversal of its previous opinion except with reference to voting for County Committeemen The court states that although the Nevada primary law directs that blank spaces be placed under the names of candidates on the ballot there is no provision authorizing voters to write the names of candidates in the blank spaces

The California law contains such a provision but it was omitted in the Nevada act The Court finds further that there is no authority for printing on the ballot the titles of the offices for which the nomination certificates have been filed

For Quick Relief from Hay Fever Asthma and summer bronchitis take Foley's Honey and Tar It quickly relieves the discomfort and suffering and the annoying symptoms disappear It soothes and heals the inflamed air passages of the head throat and bronchial tubes It contains no opiates and no harmful drugs Refuse substitute Sold by Wishart's Drug Store

Motion Pictures Talk for Wizard Edison

NEW YORK Aug 27 — Thomas Edison in his laboratory in Orange N J last night gave a private demonstration of the "talking moving pictures" It was successful but he thinks he needs one year more to so improve the mechanism that even grand opera can be reproduced in speech as on the stage

There are two instruments one photographic and one phonographic—one giving the moving lifelike pictures and the other accompanying every movement with the words Both machines were synchronized or "locked together" so that their action was simultaneous

Why do you need another year to perfect the invention Edison was asked

"Well said he we are producing a drama and some of the characters do not speak properly and do not suit their action to their words which you know ought to be required

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SAGE FOR DARKENING THE HAIR.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair, Our great grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea" Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old time, tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the brew. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready made product Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old time scalp remedy. This preparation is sold by all first class druggists for 50c and $1 00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price

For sale and recommended by The Owl Drug Co. 13th and Broadway, 10th and Washington, 14th and San Pablo
